13 County Banks Distributing $675,575 To 7,470 Christmas Club Members For New Record

Nearly 7,500 thrifty Adams Countians who were Christmas Club members this year are sharing in a otal of $675,575.05 being mailed by December 1 by 13 county banking houses.

The 7,470 checks average more than they ever have before — $90.44.

Last year the aveerage check was $83.41 as the same banks sent checks totaling $640,180.50 to 7,675 club members.

The $35,000 increase over last year continues the steady upward trend in the amount of Christmas club savings in the county for the last two decades. Twenty years ago, county banks paid out $130,000 in Christmas checks.

10 Banks Had Increases

The slight drop in the number of club members from last year and the increase in total savings sent the average check this year to a new all-time high. The average checks for the last five years have been: 1956, $83.41; 1955, $83.67; 1954, $84.57; 1953, $80.56, and 1952, $75.65.

This year is the fifth consecutive year in which the Christmas club savings in Adams County topped the half million dollar mark. Last year's total was $640,180; 1955, $580,688; 1954, $558,748; 1953, $518,913; and 1952, $470,390.

Ten of the 13 banks in the county reported increases in the total Christmas club savings this year over last. Last year every bank reported an increase.

SOROPTIMISTS MAKE PLANS FOR FUTURE EVENTS

Twenty-five members of Soroptimist International of Gettysburg, at the monthly business session Tuesday evening at the Adams Electric Cooperative building, hear reports of many activities of the past month and made plans for the observance of Christmas which includes meeting the requests of four girls under the care of the Adams County Child Welfare services.

Mrs. Curtis Flohr, chairman of Civic and Welfare, said that the gifts must be ready by December 7. She also announced that her committee held a party Tuesday morning for the boys and girls at the Day Care Center on East High St. The children presented a program which included a "Prayer of Thanks" and the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. S. A. Burton, chairman of the Social Activities committee, said the annual Christmas party for members will be held December 30. The club voted to cancel the December business meeting.

On Advisory Committee

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. Donald E. Myers as the representative on the advisory committee of Gettysburg College recently established by General Willard S. Paul, college president. Mrs. Buehler praised the club members who were active in the recent fund campaign of the Annie M. Warner Hospital which went "over the top" in its goal of $350,000. Those who participated in the solidation in Gettysburg were Mrs. Buehler, Mrs. Burton,

Say 140 Town Folk Are In Armed Forces

One hundred forty Gettysburg men and women are now serving in the armed forces, according to an estimate made by the USO.

The report showed 2½ million Americans in the armed forces today. According to the report, attendance by armed forces personnel and their dependents at USO-sponsored activities during the first half of this year totaled 20,252,522. The USO maintains 224 off-post clubs and lounges for servicemen in this country and overseas.

Members of the USO are the YMCA, National Catholic Community Service, National Jewish Welfare Board, YWCA, Salvation Army, National Travelers' Aid Association and Camp Shows, Inc., which combine through USO to present services to the armed forces personnel and their dependents.

Dr. Rosenberger Is Torch Club Speaker

Dr. Russel S. Rosenberger, head of the department of education at Gettysburg College, presented a paper supplemented by hand-illustrated charts on the "Character and Scope of Present Day Education in the USSR" at Tuesday night's dinner meeting of the Gettysburg-Adams County Torch Club in the social room of Trinity United Church of Christ.

Dr. Rosenberger said the educational process in Russia "never stops," and all media are used to continue education in technical and political matters after the students have left school. Schools here, he said, operate on a six-day week and stress technical and vocational work while the humanities are slighted.

Next meeting of the club will be held in the form of a ladies' night Tuesday evening, December 10.

ROBERT BLACK IS PROMOTED TO 1ST LIEUTENANT

Second Lt. Robert W. Black, Carlisle, commander of Company A, 313th Infantry Regiment, 79th Division, local Army Reserve unit, has been promoted to first lieutenant, Capt. George T. Callahan, Senior Unit advisor for units of the 313th at Gettysburg, Carlisle and Chambersburg, announced Tuesday night at the regular drill at its training center on Queen St.

The promotion was one of several announced Tuesday. Fred G. Kauffman, 240 Franklin St., and

LT. ROBERT W. BLACK

Merle W. Lemmon, New Oxford R. 1, were promoted from Pfc. to corporal. Chester Brent, Gettysburg R. 3, was advanced from specialist third class to specialist second class. Specialist third class Robert D. Morecraft, Carlisle, was promoted to sergeant.

6 Home From Duty

Six members of the company who had been on six-months tours of active duty returned to the group Tuesday. They were Privates Harold J. Plank, Gettysburg R. 3; Richard M. Smelser, Arendtsville; Gary R. Wagner, Aspers R. 1; Larry L. Cool, Gettysburg R. 1; Kenneth L. Shin-

URGE BOYS TO GET HS DIPLOMA

The importance of getting a high school education before entering the armed forces was stressed by representatives of the armed forces at a meeting Tuesday evening with the parent education study group of the Gettysburg Parent-Teacher Association at Koefauver School.

Boys who plan for a college education were advised to go to college before entering the armed forces. Study group leaders said the representatives of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines in attendance at the meeting generally advised against the six-month active duty plan to be followed by eight years in the Reserves.

They also advised enlisting rather than waiting to be drafted and explained that by enlisting the young men have more choice of the branch of the service and their field of training and have more control over the time for entering service. Opportunities for learning a trade and for getting educational credits in the service were described.

"Your Son's Military Service" was the subject of talks by M/Sgt. Charles Newman, York, representing the Army; Petty Officer Raymond Bisbing, York, Navy; Sgt. James Funck, Gettysburg, Air Force, and Sgt. John Conway, Gettysburg, Marines.

A display of literature on opportunities in military service in the various branches of the armed forces has been placed at the county library by the study group.

IN COLLEGE OFRAE

Rodney L. Felix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Felix, R. 3, a senior in journalism at Penn State, College Park, Md., will play one of the roles in the Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" to be presented Dec. 5, 6, 7 by the Penn State Players.

OTHER WINNERS ANNOUNCED IN JAYCEE CONTEST

"The warm world of laughter and freedom and the cold silent world of tyranny as they exist divided by an imaginary line in Germany" were described by Dietz Borowski, German exchange student at Gettysburg High School, in his tape recorded talk which won him first place in the Gettysburg Jaycees' "I Speak for Democracy" contest.

The talk was presented on a special program over WGET Tuesday night in which Borowski and other winners in the contest were presented with their awards.

Borowski was given a $25 U. S. Savings bond and a certificate for a portrait at Lane Studio along with a certificate noting he won first place in the contest. His tape recording will be entered in the state contest to be held at Hanover December 1.

Other Prizes Given

Second place was awarded to Paul H. Deitz, 14, a sophomore at the local high school and son of Rev. and Mrs. Reginald W. Deitz, Hay St. He received a Parker 21 pen and pencil set from Peoples Drug Store. The third place winner was Keith D. MacKenzie, 17, a senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. MacKenzie, 207 Highland Ave. He received a leather photo album from Dave's Photo Supply.

Fourth and fifth places were won by Beth Korte and Bonnie Scott. All will receive certificates from the Jaycees showing their placing in the contest.

On the program Donald Becker, chairman of the Jaycee committee in charge of the contest, outlined the purposes of the event designed to help promote a study of democracy among high school students. He said that the program is carried out in more than 2,000 communities throughout the nation, and in the Philippines and overseas.

Mrs. Edward J. Baskerville, of the high school faculty, told of the manner in which the 85 students who took part in the contest prepared for the event.

The inherent gratitude to God of Americans for the blessings of freedom and plenty—in a word, the Spirit of Thanksgiving—finds pertinent expression at this time in their response, through their religious faiths, to the plight of those in need in other lands.

In each of our religious communities—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—emphasis is currently being laid upon their world-wide ministries of assistance to the hungry, homeless and disaster stricken overseas.

Americans Give Thanks For Harvest Of Freedom, Plenty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Americans prepared today to give thanks for still another year's harvest of freedom and abundance, but the shadow of President Eisenhower's illness darkened somewhat the usual joyful spirit of the time.

Prayers for the President's swift and complete recovery will be said tomorrow in many morning religious services which have been an integral part of Thanksgiving ever since the Pilgrims first celebrated it.

Otherwise, reports from across the country indicated that Americans will follow the patterns set in past years.

Much Traveling

They will rush from city to country, from country to city, and from village to village, jamming trains, planes, buses and private cars to join friends and relatives for the day. Some will make it a four-day weekend. To accommodate all, railroads, airlines and bus companies are scheduling extra facilities.

One of the most unusual church services tomorrow will be held in the DeWitt Church, in an unheated, as yet unfurnished building of the Bernard Baruch housing project in Manhattan's lower East Side. Nondenominational services will be held in English, Spanish and Russian at the church, the first built inside a public housing project in the city.

In Plymouth, Mass. the Mayflower II—replica of the original Pilgrim ship—will be turned over today to the Plimoth Plantation in colorful, costumed ceremonies. Tomorrow, there will be a town-wide open house, with costumed attendants playing host at such spots as Pilgrim Hall, the first church, Sparrow House and the old fort. In the afternoon, there will be the traditional Pilgrim procession by costumed townspeople marching from Plymouth Rock to church.

Son Visits President

Ike Has Good Night's Rest; Showers, Shaves, Breakfasts; Signs, Initials 13 Documents

WASHINGTON (AP)— The White House announced today President Eisenhower, on his own motion, signed and initialed some government documents.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said the ailing Eisenhower met for half an hour in his bedroom with Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary.

Eisenhower is under treatment for what his physicians describe as an occlusion or blockage in a brain artery. The popular term for that is a light stroke.

Hagerty said Eisenhower talked to Goodpaster about "some pending government business" as well as signing an initialing the papers.

Earlier, the President's doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, had reported he slept well and awoke refreshed.

Showers, Shaves, Breakfasts

A brief medical bulletin said Eisenhower "took his usual shower and shave and just had a normal breakfast."

Hagerty described the chief executive as being in fine spirits, and amused by a continuing slight difficulty in pronouncing hard words, a result of his illness.

Hagerty said Vice President Nixon was spending much of the day in the White House but had not seen the President. He said Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Rogers also met together at the White House on White House business.

Eisenhower signed his name 12 times and initialed a 13th document, Hagerty said.

He said Eisenhower, at the time, was sitting in an easy chair in his bedroom on the second floor of the White House.

Scoffs Resignation

Hagerty laughed off, at his news conference, a reporter's request for comment on two London newspapers' suggestions that Eisenhower would resign.

"Just say I laughed and said I haven't any reaction," Hagerty replied.

Hagerty also was asked about a suggestion by Sen. Bridges (R-

SIMPSON WILL GATHERS TOYS FOR BOYS AGAIN

Ernest H. Simpson, Fourth St. machine shop operator, and his band of Christmas co-workers today issued their annual appeal to the public for broken toys.

The toys sought, as in the past six years, are anything that would be pleasing to boys from about three through 18 — especially bicycles, tricycles, toy wagons, etc.

Each year Simpson gathers a group that includes most of the employees at his shop, John Codori, other members of the Exchange Club, a number of local painters, borough police and other volunteers who drop in from time to time to help the project along.

The toys are repaired and repainted and placed in perfect shape and then are removed at Christmas time to Paradise Protectory, where they are presented on Christmas Day.

During the years Simpson and his associates have developed a group of "rolling stock specialists" among mechanically inclined youngsters at the orphanage, who have the job of making repairs to the bikes, etc., during the year. The youngsters are brought to Simpson's shop for instruction in repairs, etc., but when any major mechanical work is needed during the year, Simpson takes over.

Because several badly damaged vehicles can be dismantled and made into one good one, or can be used for "spare parts" to keep the toys in shape through the year, the Simpson group invites any type of boys' toy no matter how badly "busted."

Those who cannot drop the articles off at Simpson's Machine Shop may contact him or John Codori or borough police.

Girls' toys are not particularly sought, "because we have no outlet for them." Only boys are kept at the orphanage.

Donald L. Trimmer Gets College Honor

Donald L. Trimmer, of York Springs, a senior at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., has recently been elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Trimmer is editor of The Susquehanna, College weekly. He is majoing in English and upon graduation will begin graduate study in the field of American literature.

Last year Trimmer received the Charles E. Covert prize from the university, given to the student deemed to have had "the most wholesome influence during his first three years of college."

GET 10-DAY NOTICES

EXCHANGE CLUB GIVES HOSPITAL TWO MACHINES

Officials of the Gettysburg Exchange Club Tuesday afternoon presented the Warner Hospital with two electronic devices designed to keep the heart operating if it fails during surgery.

Carl E. Prosser, president of the club, and Robert P. Snyder, chairman of its Special Projects committee, made the presentation to Walter B. Dillon, administrator of the hospital, in the operating room there.

The two devices, a cardiac pacemaker and a cardiac defibrillator, both designed for emergency resuscitation of the heart, will be kept in the operating room at all times.

Can Keep Heart Going

A cardiac monitor is used to keep constant check on heart action during poerations. If ventricular standstill occurs, the pacemaker, which provides external electric stimulation to the heart in cardiac asystole, is used. The defibrillator is used for internal application of an electric current to "meet the emergency of ventricular fibrillation."

Dillon explained that the pacemaker automatically provides an electric stimulus to which the heart responds with a ventricular contraction. The response can maintain consciousness, pulse beat and blood pressure indefinitely — in one case for 103 hours — until spontaneous cardiac activity returns.

The defibrillator uses two electrodes to be applied to the surface of the heart to deliver a pulse current to fibrillating ventricles. The shock occurs only once per second to protect the cardiac musculature from undue heating.

UNION SERVICES HERE THURSDAY

The offering to be received at the community Thanksgiving Day service to be held at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in The Prince of Peace Episcopal Church will go to Church World Service under the "Share Our Surplus" program.

The union service, sponsored by the Gettysburg Ministerium, will be conducted by the vicar of the host church, the Rev. Fr. J. Harold Mowen, and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Harry L. Fehl, Jr., pastor of the Memorial United Brethren Church of Gettysburg.

Other local ministers who will take part in the service will be the Rev. Robert Knechel, pastor of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren, who will lead in the responsive reading of Psalm 5; the Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, Presbyterian pastor, who will read a scripture lesson from Deuteronomy, and the Rev. Herman G. Stuempfle Jr., College Lutheran pastor and Ministerium president, who will read the second lesson from St. John.

Under the "Share Our Surplus" program, U. S. surplus foods are sent to hungry people abroad and given free to victims of oppression and to those in need as a result of wars, famines and disasters and to other poverty-stricken.

COMMISSIONERS MAY FORM NEW PRECINCTS IN TWO TOWNSHIPS

President Dwight D. Eisenhower and possibly 1,000 other Adams Countians may be voting in new districts next year.

Plans for dividing Cumberland and Conewago Twps. into two voting precincts each were being studied today by the Adams County Commissioners sitting as the county election board.

It was indicated that the commissioners will present petitions to the court at its next term asking that the two townships be divided for voting purposes, but the exact lines along which the townships will be divided had not been decided up to press time.

Adams County Republican Chairman William I. Shields and Jay Bringman, Democratic state committeeman, representing Democratic County Chairman Fred G. Klunk, were closeted with the commissioners today as the men sought the best possible dividing lines which would both keep the new lines simple to understand and yet divide the districts about equally in population.

Suggest Fairfield Road

Discussion this morning, although no final votes were taken, indicated that Cumberland Twp. will probably be divided along the Fairfield Rd. That would leave the district south of the Fairfield Rd. and Gettysburg larger in size but about equal in population with the area north of that road and Gettysburg.

Under plans discussed this morning the Cumberland Twp. voting place now in existence on county land near the jail will remain to serve the northern Cumberland precinct. Barlow was being considered as a possible site for the voting place in the southern half of that township although no final decision was made.

This afternoon the commission-

3 BEAR HUNTERS HURT IN CRASH

Two York Springs men and a brother from York were injured and their 1957 Pontiac station wagon demolished in a collision with another car on a Potter County hill Sunday evening as the trio sought overnight quarters on a bear hunting trip.

Clyde Golden, 52, York R. 6, was hospitalized at Coudersport until Monday with three broken ribs and an elbow injury while his brothers, Kent, 47, and George, 41, York Springs R. D., were discharged from the hospital after treatment. Kent had a gash on his head and George a chin laceration.

All three were brought home Tuesday by Wilford Stough, York R. D., who occupied a hunting cabin neat the crash scene and took the men to the hospital after the accident. Stough also took the two Adams County men back to his hunting cabin after they had been treated at the hospital Sunday evening and the brothers hunted bear Monday and Tuesday before coming home.

The Goldens were climbing a hill when a 1950 model auto coming downgrade swerved over onto their side of the highway and the machines collided with such force that one of the Johnstown men in the other car was thrown through the windshield and suffered a fracture of the skull. His companion suffered a severe face laceration and both were hospitalized at Coudersport. Their names were not learned here.

The Goldens had left home Sunday afternoon to go to Potter County to hunt bear.

SMALL FIRE TODAY

The Gettysburg Fire Department was called to 1:30 o'clock today to a blaze in a storage shed in the rear of Wentz's furniture store, Baltimore St. Firemen brought the small blaze under control in a few moments.

VFW TO MEET

There will be a regular meeting of the local VFW post this evening at 8 o'clock at the post home on E. Middle St. It will be followed by a meeting of the Home Association and the board of directors. There will be refreshments and a door prize.

SCROLL ON ROTC INSIGNIA GIVEN TO GEN. PAUL

An engraved scroll depicting the history of the Cadet Corps Unit Insignia was presented to General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, Tuesday by the Cadet Corps Army ROTC of the college.

In the surprise ceremony which took place on Memorial Field, Cadet Lt. Ronald W. Schuette made the presentation.

The scroll is engraved as follows: "Gettysburg College — Distinctive Unit Insignia—Reserve Officers Training Corps."

The distinctive unit insignia of the Army ROTC reflects the history of the college in the Battle of Gettysburg. In the 'Gettysburgian" of March 31, 1938, Lt. Col. Lester L. Lampert, PMST, announced that the college unit would adopt a distinctive insignia.

F. Duncan Campbell of Bethlehem, Pa., class of '37, became interested in the project. He had for several years studied regimental insignias of the Regular Army, National Guard and Organized Reserve and had gathered over 400 crests. He proposed an insignia with the following interpretation: The Blue and Gray portions of the shield represent the colors of the Union and Confederate forces which met at Gettysburg. The bullet superimposed upon the blue portion of the shield is a Union bullet, having three rings. The motto, "First to Respond," is derived from the fact that Gettysburg was the first college to apply for and receive a unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps

Later three otner designs were suggested. All these insignias took note of the Battle of Gettysburg in which Company "A," 26th Regiment, Penna. Volunteers formed by college students, participated. The college colors, orange and blue, are included in the final design with a gold bullet, partially encircled by a blue ribbon scroll containing the motto, "Parati Respondre" (Ready to Respond) in gold letters and was approved in April 24, 1939.

General Paul expressed his appreciation for the presentation and said it will be displayed in his office.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Mrs. Zoltan DeNemeth has moved to Port Edward R. 2, N. Y. Mrs. DeNemeth has given vocal lessons and was well known to the young people of the high school. She sold her home in York Springs to Mrs. A. T. Bennett and purchased a trailer where she will now make her home. She will live near friends, the Edwards family. Mrs. Edwards and son came to York Springs and took her with them to New York.

The Woman's Class of the Uriah EUB Church was in charge of a Thanksgiving program in connection with the regular Sunday School hour. Mrs. Bruce Beltman taught the Sunday School lesson. Melinda Rhoads, Bonita Bubb and Karen Whitcomb, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Rhoads, of York Springs, sang two numbers. A duet was given by Edna Breighner and Arietta Bream.

TOWN PREPARES FOR TWO FETES

Gettysburgians were in a twin holiday mood today.

The Farmers Mart and stores were crowded with persons purchasing supplies for the traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

The same people were being put in a Christmasy mood by the street decorations being placed by the Retail Merchants Association

Various crews were stringing laurel along wires around Lincoln Square. Colored lights have already been placed and the town was getting ready to turn on the Christmas lights Friday evening.

Many merchants were busy "getting the Christmas windows in, and indications were that there will be many beautiful displays this year. Some merchants decorated their windows during the week.

Prices at the Farmers Market this morning were the same as last Saturday, but there were more turkeys, chickens and ducks along with such items as a cultivated bittersweet whose leaves and white and pink berries provide decoration for the winter months.

COMMISSIONERS

Will Affect Ike

President Eisenhower is one of the approximately 1,200 voters in Cumberland Twp. — the largest voting district in the county. Located south of the Fairfield Rd line, he would be among the approximately 600 who would be placed in the southern precinct and get a new voting place.

Conewago Twp. has approximately 1,100 voters, but is somewhat "cut up" by McSherrystown borough in its middle, plus the large center of population in Midway and a number of smaller communities spotted through the township.

Cumberland Twp., one of the longest in the county, extends from Van Dyke's corner and Goldenville on the north to the Maryland line.

If the division of the two townships takes place, it will give the county 44 voting districts instead of the present 42.

Special Meeting For School Board

Members of the board of school directors in the Gettysburg Joint District have received notices from President R. D. Wickerham of a special meeting of the joint board next Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock "for the purpose of reviewing the plans for the new elementary building and to make several decisions necessary to continue the drawings."

The notices ask that at least two directors from each member board attend the meeting.

With the first Monday of December set by state law as the time for the annual reorganization meetings of school boards, it was regarded today as likely that the individual boards in the jointure will hold separate meetings before or after the joint session to elect officers and complete their reorganization by making committee assignments.

Upper Communities

Husband Hurt; Wife Is Jailed

Mrs. Doris Jean Welsh, 23, of 117 Chambersburg St., was placed in the county jail early this morning on a charge of assault and battery brought against her by her husband, Dean Welsh.

Borough police said Welsh filed the charge after he was removed from his home to the Warner Hospital for treatment for a laceration of his forehead caused when his five-foot-five 111-pound wife is alleged to have thrown an alarm clock at him during a family argument at their home. Welsh is said to have been knocked unconscious and his wife is said by police to have fled to her mother's home.

After treatment for the wound, Welsh went before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and swore out an assault and battery charge against his wife. Borough police made the arrest on a warrant at about 3 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Welsh will be given a hearing before the justice at 8 o'clock this evening.

According to the borough police report sheet, the Welshes started their argument in a local taproom.

PRICE OF MILK IS BOOSTED IN WESTERN AREAS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission today ordered milk prices increased in most of western Pennsylvania, effective Dec. 16.

The three-member agency posted the official orders at the same prices disclosed at conferences among dealers and farmers yesterday.

The three areas involved are Pittsburgh—which would have 27-cents-a-quart milk for the first time in the state's history—Erie and Johnstown-Altoona.

Under the orders, retail and wholesale prices would automaically drop nex April 1 and increase again nex Sep. 1 o conform with the rise and fall in milk supplies.

The new prices (with present prices in parentheses) follow:

Retail — Pittsburgh, 27 cents a quart—highest in the state's history — delivered to the door (26) and 26 cents at the store (25); Erie, 26 at the doorstep and 25 at the store; Johnstown-Altoona, 26 delivered (24½) and 25 at the store (23½).

Wholesale (paid farmers)—$6.85 per hundredweight (46½ quarts) in Pittsburgh $(6.67); $6.70 in Johnstown-Altoona ($6.30); $6.50 in Erie ($6.30).

Four Properties Are Transferred

Martin A. and Beulah M. Hardman, Fairfield R. 1, sold to Charles E. and Bertha A. Ale, Baltimore, for $2 500, a two-acre tract in Hamiltonban Twp.

Russell B. and Louise M. Smith, Conewago Twp., sold to Amos S. and Mary A. Carbaugh, same place, for $1,000, a tract in that township.

Martin A. and Beulah M. Hardman, Fairfield R. 1, sold to Clemence J. Hardman, same place, for $2,500, a two-acre property in Hamiltonban Twp.

Peter F. Smith, McSherrystown, sold to John S. and Ada M. Lehr, East Berlin, for $650, a lot in Reading Twp.

NEWMAN RITES TODAY

their 1958 clubs.

The Bendersville National Bank was the first to mail its Christmas checks which went out November 15. Most banks dated theirs for Monday of this week and all will be in the hands of club members by next Monday.

Again the largest club in the county was conducted by the Littlestown State Bank with 2,202 members and total savings of $178,510.75, an increase of about $11,000 over last year. Those figures include the bank's branch at McSherrystown.

The list of banks and the amount each is mailing to its Christmas club members follows:

Littlestown State	$178,510.75
Gettysburg National 1st National	146,779.40
Gettysburg	98,876.90
Littlestown National	67,337.75
Farmers' and Merchants' New Oxford	53,138.00
Biglerville National	23,815.50
Abbottstown State	22,800.00
Arendtsville National	19,500.00
Fairfield National	15,913.00
East Berlin National	15,500.00
Peoples State East Berlin	12,095.00
York Springs National	8,271.00
Total	$675,575.05

National Total Over Billion

Nationally 13,070,000 Americans saved a billion dollars in Christmas clubs and Edward F. Dorset, president of the Christmas Club, a Corporation, predicted the hike in Christmas savings this year "will help our economy." Seven thousand banks and other savings institutions are participating in this year's distribution of $1,225,000,000.

The 1957 payoff is the largest in the history of the club and represents an increase over 1956 of thirty seven million dollars with 270,000 more members. The average check this year amounts to $93.73 for each member. Of the 7,000 institutions, 159 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,687,000 members and $261,849,000 followed by Pennsylvania with 2,096,000 members and $194,389,000 and then New Jersey with 1,179,000 members and $144,751,000. The rapid growth of Christmas Club on the Pacific Coast has put California in fourth place with 1,080,000 members and $112,866,000.

Surveys made by Christmas Club indicates that while the entire one billion, two hundred and twenty five million dollars will not go into retail channels, all of it will help boost the nation's economy. Here is the forecast of how it will be used: Christmas purchases, $303,800,000; permanent savings, $372,400,000; year-end bills, $68,600,000; insurance premiums, $126,175,000; taxes, $116,375,000; miscellaneous, $42,875,000; mortgage payments, $82,075,000; education, $31,850,000, and purchase of household furnishings, $80,850,000.

"OUR GRATITUDE"

A day is set aside each year . . . to show our gratitude . . . for all the blessings we enjoy . . . in life's brief interlude . . . we gather with the ones held dear . . . and share true friendship's kiss . . . Thanksgiving Day has always been . . . a time to reminisce . . . Mother prepares a splendid feast . . . and appetites are spry . . . with heads bowed low . . . we offer thanks . . . to God who rules on high . . . even if our luck is low . . . heartaches plague our door . . . we still have much, so very much . . . to be real thankful for . . . and as the day draws to an end . . . silently we pray . . . for faith to show our gratitude . . . not only on this day.

The values of the overseas relief programs of the religious faith agencies cannot be overestimated.

The world-wide, day-by-day, people-to-people assistance provided through the Thanksgiving Season appeals and similar religious-motivated efforts, comprise America's greatest voluntary relief work among her overseas neighbors, accounting, as it does, for more than 80% of all of such assistance by our people.

Countian Honored At St. Joseph

Miss Jillian Hemler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren I. Hemler, McSherrystown, is among six members of the senior class of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, who were chosen to represent the class of 1958 in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The choice was made by a vote of the faculty and members of the senior class.

Basis for selection depends on sincerity in scholarship, student's excellence, leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the college, and the promise of future usefulness to business and society.

Other seniors chosen were the Misses Constance Bourdeau, Ware, Mass.; Mary Louise Haidle, Webster, N. Y.; Marie Lynch, Lynn, Mass.; Emily Marowski, Wilkes-Barre, and Patricia Weber, Brooklyn.

BURY MRS. CONOVER

Funeral services for Mrs. Marion (Shoemaker) Conover, 76, widow of Claude E. Shoemaker, who died suddenly Saturday evening of a heart attack at her home in Harney, were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church. Officiating were the Rev. William O. Yates and the Rev. Theodore Durr, both of Baltimore. Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were Floyd and Leroy Strickhouser, Russell Clabaugh, Ralph Harver, Joseph Reaver and Cletus Reever.

SOROPTIMISTS

Mrs. Harry Scott, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. George Ditchburn and, in Littlestown, Mrs. Samuel Higinbotham and Miss Anna Weaver.

Mrs. Glenn Guise, announced receipts of approximately $125 from a recent rummage sale and thanked her assistants who were Mrs. Fred Faber, Mrs. George W. Boehner, Mrs. Irving Bierer, Mrs. Violet Hill and Mrs. Ditchburn.

Mrs. William A. Hennig told about the Christmas card sale project. Similar project reports were made by Mrs. Meader Williams on shopping bags and Miss Julia Peters for green stamps. Mrs. Faber, Hospitality chairman, reported on sending flowers and get-well cards to members during the past month.

Other Reports

Mrs. H. Wilbert Baker, representative on the Women's Civic Council, spoke o' activities at the monthly meeting of that organization and stated she was named chairman of a nominating committee for a secretary-treasurer for the group. Mrs. Williams, the club representative on the Auxiliary of the Adams County Home, told of the need at the home for a shampoo chair to be used by local beauticians who wish to donate their services to the guests at the home.

Mrs. Ditchburn, club historian, gave a resume of club activities ten years ago when Mrs. Frederic E. Griest was club president.

Mrs. Buehler announced a gavel had been mailed to a new club at Belvidere, N. J., by Mrs. Hill and new clubs have been formed at Colon, Panama, and Omah, Washington. Mrs. James R. Gregg displayed a chart for an attendance contest this year.

During the social hour Miss Weaver purchased a gift from Italy which was auctioned by Mrs. Bierer. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Guise and Miss Martha Stallsmith.

Hostesses for the January meeting will be Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Boehner

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — The mayor and City Council attended the Lions Club meeting Tuesday evening as guests of Mayor (Lion) Raymond Perry. The councilmen were James Myers, James Baumgardner, Carel Frock, George Motter, Neal Powell, and Henry Reindollar. Ralph Stonesifer, president, was in charge of the meeting. Raymond Perry, program chairman, had as a guest Edmund C. Mester, executive secretary of the municipal league, College Park, Md. He spoke on "Model Charter." Another guest of the club was Harry Pettyjohn, of the Littlestown Lions Club. The club received from the Lions International a hundred per cent attendance plaque. President Stonesifer appointed Carroll Wantz as director in place of Robert Miller who has requested membership-at-large. The next regular meeting will be Ladies' Night which will be a Christmas program in charge of Merle S. Ohler. The December 24 meeting will be in charge of the health and welfare committee, Lewis Baer, chairman. Christmas baskets will be distributed to the needy. Directors will meet Friday evening at 7:30 in the Potomac Edison building.

Ike Has Good

NH) that Nixon take over some presidential duties.

"I've heard no discussion of that by anyone and that includes the vice president," Hagerty said.

Hagerty emphasized that the President and only the President will decide who will represent the United States at the Dec. 16 summit conference of Atlantic Pact nations in Paris, if it is held as scheduled.

Replying to questions, Hagerty said "we certainly have not" suggested postponement of the meeting. He stressed that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers meets annually, and the Dec. 16 session is an annual meeting.

Procede With Meeting

A U. S. spokesman in Paris had said this country is willing, if the Atlantic Pact partners so desire to go ahead with the meeting on a chiefs of state basis with Nixon sitting in for Eisenhower.

Hagerty told newsmen the United States has queried the 14 other NATO governments as to whether the Paris meeting should be a session at that level or simply a ministerial meeting as in former years.

"When we receive their decision," Hagerty said, "then it will be the decision of the President who will attend."

Hagerty said Eisenhower has held no conference with any Cabinet members since his illness began Monday afternoon. However, Hagerty indicated Nixon might be seeing the President shortly. Hagerty said he "might have something later" to say on that score.

Hagerty said Eisenhower approved yesterday's decision to query the 14 other NATO nations on whether to hold a summit or simply a ministerial meeting at Paris.

Ike In Good Spirits

Hagerty told reporters Eisenhower was in "fine" spirits. He said he spent 10 minutes with him.

In answer to questions, Hagerty said Eisenhower still has a "slight difficulty" in speaking long words. An earlier medical report had said the President suffered an impairment of speech which had been largely overcome.

Hagerty said Eisenhower was aware of his "slight difficulty" in enunciating some words and was amused by it.

"He would make a little slip and he would laugh and correct it," Hagerty said.

Asked if Eisenhower also was afflicted by some impairment of memory, a condition that often goes along with the speech difficulty in such cases, Hagerty replied:

"There certainly didn't seem to be."

Hagerty added that Eisenhower asked him many questions about old friends in NATO circles.

Returns From Paris

Hagerty returned ahead of time last night from Paris where he was making arrangements for Eisenhower's previously planned participation in the NATO summit conference in mid-December.

The press secretary declined to go beyond a statement issued by the State Department yesterday in consultation with the White House, saying "it is assumed" Eisenhower will not be able to attend because of his illness. Hagerty said he knew nothing about reports Vice President Nixon might attend in place of the President.

Eisenhower, Hagerty said, went to sleep shortly after 10 p.m. and slept most continuously for about 10 hours.

He shaved himself, Hagerty said — presumably with the safety razor he ordinarily uses.

Then, Hagerty said, Eisenhower had a breakfast consisting of half a grapefruit, creamed chipped beef, toast and honey, and non-caffeine coffee.

Three Visit President

Hagerty said he and Snyder talked with Eisenhower for about 10 minutes after he woke up around 7:40 a.m. He said Mrs Eisenhower was with them during part of their conversation.

The assistant White House physician, Col. Walter Tkach, remained at the White House throughout the night as did Capt. Lorene Miller, an Army nurse from Walter Reed Hospital.

Hagerty said he assumed Eisenhower would be "up and around" in his White House living quarters during the day. He said he expected to make a further announcement about the President's condition around noon.

In his exchange with newsmen as he came back to the White House, Snyder said no one can tell "at this time" whether Eisenhower suffered more than a spasm in a brain artery.

"There is no doctor up to this time who can tell you it's a stroke," he said.

Need More Time

He added it will take more time to determine exactly what did happen to the President, who was stricken Monday after attending a welcoming ceremony for King Mohammed V of Morocco.

Snyder's comments followed the same careful line taken in formal medical bulletins yesterday which steered away from use of the word "stroke."

Ate Supper, Saw TV

The press secretary said Eisenhower had a light supper. He and Mrs. Eisenhower ate from trays in the living room area, then watched television together for a little more than two hours.

The President turned in at 10 p.m. and went promptly to sleep. During the afternoon he had undergone another thorough medical check.

"He is alert, his spirits are good," four examining neuroologists said in their report early last night.

They said further: "The difficulty in speaking has improved over the period of the last 24 hours and is now manifested only by a hesitancy in saying certain difficult words. Reading, writing and reasoning powers are not affected."

Vice President Nixon, next in line for the presidency, spent most of yesterday at the White House. Nixon reported he did not see Eisenhower but said the President is fully capable of making any decision needed.

The vice president added: "I am fully confident the President will return to his desk and resume his responsibilities."

Not Heart Attack

To last night's bulletin by the neurological specialists, the White House appended this note: "All attending physicians and consultants are agreed that the President has not had another heart attack and that the present symptoms have no relation to his previous heart attack."

The obvious purpose of that statement was to nullify even more completely the assertion during the afternoon by Anne Wheaton, associate presidential press secretary, that Eisenhower had suffered "a form of heart attack." She said that in reply to questions about technical language in the first medical bulletin, then a bit later reversed herself and said the heart was not involved at all.

A key portion of that first doctors' report on the President's illness said:

". . . The President suffered an occlusion (blockage) of a small branch of a middle cerebral artery on the left side. It cannot be determined at this time whether the condition present is one of a small clot or a vascular spasm. All findings indicate no brain hemorrhage."

$1,345 Damage In 2 Crashes; None Hurt

Damage totaled $1,345, but no one was injured in two auto accidents investigated by state police Tuesday afternoon.

Most of the damage occurred in a crash at Cross Keys at 3:08 Tuesday afternoon. State police said Earl R. King, 24, Baltimore, traveling on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd. in a truck, failed to halt at the intersection and struck the car of Benjamin F. Greenawalt, 59, Reading, on the Lincoln Highway. Damage was $1,200 to the car and $50 to the truck.

The other accident occurred at 1:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon 4½ miles east of here on the Centennial-Lincoln Highway Rd. State police said cars of Alice Roland, 56, Gettysburg R. 4, and Charles Stapleton, 31, McKnightstown, sideswiped on a curve causing $70 damage to the Roland vehicle and $75 damage to the Stapleton car.

It's a good idea to serve something crunchy with soup as texture contrast. Try celery wedges with cream of tomato soup, carrot sticks with black bean or cream of celery soup.

It hardly seems possible that Christmas is only a few short weeks away.

Maroons Beat Lebanon, 6-0: Eking out a narrow 6-0 victory over Lebanon high in their annual Thanksgiving Day clash at Lebanon yesterday, the Gettysburg high school football team terminated one of its most successful grid campaigns in years.

The only score came in the middle of the first period. Gettysburg recovered on the 20 yard line. Kenny Knox on two off-side tackle thrusts moved the oval to the Red and Blue's one yard line. An off-side penalty cost the locals a five-yard setback. Jones picked up a yard on the next jab and then Riddlemoser went over for the score.

This game marked the end to the high school football careers of six Maroons, Nick Jones, Donnie Kuhn, Tom Tawney, Bill Utz, Bobby Shealer and Kenny Knox. In eight games played this year, Gettysburg emerged victorious on five occasions, deadlocked two and dropped but one.

Today's Talk

THINGS MISSED

In this life, which is all too short at its longest, many are the things that we miss. I miss the thrill my boys had in going to every circus that came to town in their youth. I was forbidden to go to the circus, so I had to live my youth over again when I took my twin boys to my first circus —the one big one that remained.

My father took me to the great Thomas orchestra musical entertainment, but I fell asleep and so could not meet the great conductor when all was over. I missed the joy and thrill of many a great actor when a youth. I did attend the theater to hear the great Jefferson in Sheridan's "Rivals," however, but most of the great I missed.

I could enumerate many things I missed over an interesting life, but perhaps I am the better for it. My home training was strict, but as I look back upon it I bless my father and mother for having guided me toward the finer things in life, and so made my later years the more enriched.

I am lucky for having lived under circumstances that gave me the experience of knowing what hunger, disappointments and loneliness contributed to me in my early years. I had to work my way through high school and college, but I took it all in its stride, and earned happiness I might otherwise never have known. When we live through difficult times they never seem difficult if one has courage and the will to live them out.

It would do many a boy good to read Fred Allen's book, "Much Ado About Me." It is the story of a boy and man who never lost his courage, and one who had ideals and the will to keep going on until he had reached a high place in the entertainment world leaving at his death endless friends and admirers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Salesmen All"

THANKSGIVING

Dear Lord, we bow to Thee today,
Our prayers of gratitude to say;
We pause a moment in the strife—
The hurly-burly game of life,
The ceaseless clamoring for gold,
The rush to get, the fight to hold—
That we may now acknowledge Thee,
Giver of every vine and tree.

The wheels of commerce now we stay,
Our blazing fires we bank today;
Envy and hate we put aside
And humbly we renounce our pride,
And humbly now we recognize
That everything in life we prize,
Fruit, golden grain and even love,
Are gifts You send us from above.

Dear Lord, today we band the knee
And suppliant we turn to Thee;
All thought of self today we quell,
It is not we who have done well;
Not we who've raise all things of earth,
Not we who've done these deeds of worth,
But unto Thee all praise we give
Who hath permitted us to live.

We thank Thee, Lord, for every vine,
For fruit of field and yield of mine;
For every step of progress made,
For honor in the marts of trade;
For sweetness in the home, and truth,
The perfect innocence of youth,
For all that life is here below,
Our thanks to Thee, dear Lord, we owe.

IRBM FAILS IN FLORIDA FIRING TUESDAY NIGHT

By BEN FUNK

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Six congressmen watched last night as the Army fired a big Jupiter 1,500-mile-range rocket that failed to complete its planned flight.

Moments after the 70-foot intermediate range ballistic missile blazed into the tropic sky, the Army issued a statement saying it failed to complete its programed flight because of technical difficulties.

To hundreds of spectators watching along the beach on this island midway along the Florida east coast, the Jupiter was a spectacular sight as it rose from a pillow of smoke and flame on the launching pad.

It appeared to travel straight up, trailing a yellow flame. Then it became a purplish light high in the sky. It was visible for about four minutes and was brighter than any star.

Series Of Tests

The statement by the Defense Department said only that the missile failed in its programed flight because of technical difficulties and added: "This test of the Jupiter, under development by the Army, is one of a series of intermediate range and intercontinental ballistic missile flight tests conducted at the Cape Canaveral range."

There was no official explanation of what technical difficulties were involved.

Congressmen who witnessed the firing were members of a military subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, headed by Rep. Mahon D(-Tex).

Earlier in the day Dr. von Wernher von Braun, developer of the Jupiter, arrived in a private plane but was available to newsmen.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD DANCE

The monthly dance of Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts of the community was enjoyed by over 75 girls on Monday evening, held in the basement of the Eagles Home on W. King St. Dancing was to recorded music. At the conclusion of the evening of fellowship, refreshments, consisting of soft drinks, pretzels and potato chips were served, compliments of the Eagles. Adult leaders and troop committee members in attendance were Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, Mrs. John A. Sentz, Mrs. John H. Flickinger, Mrs. Charles E. Rabenstine, Mrs. Milton Harner, Mrs. Clark Shanefelter, Mrs. Kenneth K. Kroh, Mrs. Monroe G. Morelock. There will be no Scout dance in December, due to the many Christmas activities. The next dance will take place on Monday, January 27, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The missionary education department, Mrs. Anna B. Leach, chairman, was in charge of the program at the November meeting of the Women's Guild of Redeemer's United Church of Christ on Monday evening, held in the church social hall. The program was as follows: Group hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal," accompanied by Mrs. Jay R. Crouse; Scripture, Mrs. Paul F. Crabbs; prayer, Mrs. Leach; hymns, "Lord, Speak To Me That I May Speak"; offering received by Miss Mary Jane Staley, who also gave the offertory prayer; film strip, entitled "If You Live In Malaya," shown with Mrs. Edward B. Geiman as narrator.

Mrs. John W. LeGore, president, presided at the business and heard reports from the secretary, Mrs. Gene A. Hankey, and treasurer, Miss Staley. Thank offering boxes were distributed, and will now be mailed to those not present at the meeting. A special meeting of the executive board will be held in December, with the newly elected officers, new departmental chairmen and retiring chairmen in attendance to outline the Guild program for the new year. The next regular meeting of the Guild will take place on Monday, January 27, 7:30 p.m., at the church.

Charles Wulfert was in charge of devotions at the November meeting of the Methodist Men's Club of Centenary Church, held on Tuesday evening at the church. The invocation was offered by the pastor, the Rev. Rodney T. Yates. Chester S. Byers led the program and read an article from the Methodist Laymen's magazine. One new member was welcomed, James Brown.

The routine business session was conducted by the president, Thomas Kerna. Reports were given by Burton Lawver, secretary, and Robert Harner, treasurer. It was decided to hold the next meeting on December 17, one week early, due to Christmas Eve. During the fellowship hour, refreshments were served by Mr. Byers and MrM. Wulfert.

Nice salad for lunch: cooked drained prunes stuffed with pecans and served with creamstyle cottage cheese, crisp green and salad dressing.

INTRUDER STABS GIRL 3 TIMES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Patricia McPeake, 14, was stabbed three times early Tuesday by an intruder who broke into the bedroom she shares with three younger sisters.

She was taken to St. Luke's Children's Medical Center with stab wounds of the arm, chest and abdomen.

The assailant fled the house at 3023 W. Harper St. as the screams of Patricia and her sisters aroused other members of the family.

Police said the man entered the house by breaking a kitchen window and fled after taking only a pack of cigarets.

Detective Edward Matuskowitz quoted Patricia as saying she awoke about 1 a.m. and saw a man with a knife standing beside the bed in the second-floor bedroom. The man lunged at her, slashing her across the left arm, chest and abdomen.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Reading Railroad reported yesterday a net income of $8,673,050 for the first 10 months of 1957—off more than $800,000 from the same period a year ago.

Income for the period, equal to $4.53 a common share, compared to earnings of $9,482,262 or $5.10 a share in the first 10 months of 1956.

President Joseph Fisher blamed reduced carloadings and higher wage and material costs.

Thanksgiving Glow Shades Into Christmas Preparations

By The Associated Press

Pennsylvania took on the glow of Thanksgiving today, but it wasn't always easy to determine what is being celebrated.

For despite an accent on the turkey - and - pilgrim theme, cities and towns across the state seemed to be as deepy engrossed in Christmas preparations as they were in getting ready for the holiday tomorrow.

Even as families eagerly awaited the reunions, relaxations, good eating and general rejoicing of November's richest time, early Christmas clamor was under way.

Christmas Season Here

The lights and sparkle and sounds of Santa's season may be seen wherever one goes. Real Christmas trees and imitation ones adorn store windows and gift counters, lawns and public parks, patios and foyers. LLifesize figures of carolers and festive coachmen of Santa Claus and reindeer in full flight, of all the benign spirits of yuletime have made their appearance.

Harrisburg's Christmas lights were turned on for the first time Monday night, forming a dazzling and symmetrical pattern. The capital's committee on decorations is sure Harrisburg's display will be hard to beat. Philadelphia, Pittsburgh Reading, Lancaster, Scranton, Pottsville and other cities also wear the garlands and sequins of Christmas; little places, of perhaps only a couple thousand population, are togged out that way, too.

Gimbel's Big Parade

Probably the most spectacular show in Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving Day is Philadelphia's parade sponsored by a department store (Gimbels). Billed as the nation's oldest and grandest welcome to Santa Claus, it marks the opening of the Christmas season.

And it goes to show how swiftly we are moving to the time when Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's very likely will be blended into one long holiday. It has almost come to that now.

So tomorrow the extravaganza will roll, with more floats and big balloons, bands and comics, radio and television entertainers, and a greater variety of stunning costumes, than ever before in the 37-year history of this toyland triumph.

Weather Outlook Not Bad

Having delivered themselves of such superlatives, the parade's sponsors say "all we need to do now is to pray for good weather."

For the Philadelphia region, and for the state as a whole, the weather outlook is not bad. Pennsylvania may not see much sun, but at least the clouds, the experts say, will not be rainmakers. The air should be brisk. That kind of weather will mean a whopping turnout for the parade.

Steve Bilko has been a consistent hitter the last three seasons with the Los Angeles Angels. He hit .328 in 1955, led the Pacific Coast League with .360 in 1956 and batted an even .300 in 1957.

Veteran Mount Team Will Oppose Elizabethtown Five In Opener On December 5th

Coach Jim Phelan's Mt. St. Mary's College cagers open their 22-game basketball season Thursday, December 5, against Elizabethtown College at Emmitsburg. Phelan will start a veteran team with Bill Williams, 6'6" and Charley O'Donnell, 6'3", at forwards; Jerry Boblinger, 6'6", at center, and Burt Sheing, 6', and Jack Marshall, 6', at guards. O'Donnell, a varsity started three years ago moves into Jack Sullivan's forward berth after a two-year service stint.

Defending champions in Mason-Dixon Conference play where they have won four titles in a row, the Mountaineers are again expected to be strong contenders for the title and the automatic berth in NCAA small college tourney play. Last year the Mountaineers posted a 27-5 record and wound up third in NCAA play.

Preseason scrimmages have left Phelan holding his head. Against both Quantico and Andrews Air Force Base, the Mountaineers more than held their own, but against Shepherd, while winning handily, the Mountanieers looked shoddy. Phelan has been especially stressing defense to try to counter the loss of Jack Sullivan's scoring punch. So far he has been disappointed since the squad tends to slack off after moving things their way.

Mattimore Shines

Bright spots have been the performance of Jack Mattimore, 5'8" guard, a junior who literally forced his way on to the squad after missing on two earlier attempts. The Toledo youngster has played fine, heady ball, shot well and exhibited a veteran's poise. He should see a lot of action and win a good many games with his tricky floor play and excellent shooting.

Other fine performances have come from Joe Sullivan, Jack Gunn, Bill Morse, Jerry Savage and Tom Rudderow. Sullivan has been both aggressive and deadly at the hoop; Gunn has played excellent defense and needs onlyy better shooting; Morse, a good shooter, needs work at defense as does Savage. Rudderow gives additional back court insurance.

Following Elizabethtown the Mountaineers face tough Steubenville College on Friday, December 6, at Emmitsburg with widely heralded Jim Smith, the nation's best rebounder last year. Coach Kuzma brings a veteran squad to Emmitsburg and Phelan is anxious to even the 2-1 edge the Barons enjoy over the Mounties in the last two seasons.

Twin Bill Dec. 13

Highlight of the pre-Christmas play will be a double bill at the Mountaineer floor on Friday, December 13, when Loyola College will face Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy in an 8 p.m. opener and the Mountaineers will tackle Hofstra in the windup. The Mountaineers will also be at home against Baltimore on December 16.

Before Christmas the Mountaineers will play two games away from home, against Georgetown on December 11 and the first game of a twin bill at Loyola against Kings Point on December 14. By that time Phelan should have a good idea of the potential of the present squad.

"With our share of the luck," says Phelan, "we should be in the thick of the tourney fight. We've got better overall squad depth than at any time in the past three years and if these fellows put out, play defense as they can, and live up to their ability, there's no reason why they shouldn't successfully defend their title. Their one big fault is a tendency to coast. You can't do that and win consistently."

Mt. St. Mary's will initiate a new policy this year. Reserved seats will be sold for all home games for the first time. Reserved seats will sell for $1.50; general admission for $1.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

LEHIGH SNARES LAMBERT CUP; BULLETS FIFTH

Lehigh, beaten only by Virginia Military Institute, and by only one touchdown, in nine games this season during which it racked up 206 points to 72 for the opposition, has been adjudged the winner in the competition for the first annual Lambert Cup, emblematic of the Eastern small college football championship.

But the Engineers won by the only the slimmest of margins, 9/100ths of a point, over unbeaten but once-tied Williams, which won six games and deadlocked Tufts, 26-26. Out of a possible average of 10, based on 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc., Lehigh totalled 9:5 points to 9.41 for the Ephmen.

Of the 12 first-place votes cast by the selection committee of coaches, newsmen, magazine sports writers and broadcasters, each team received six. But Lehigh also had six second-place votes while Williams drew five second-place ballots and one third. That was the difference.

In 22 years of competition for Lambert awards (the Lambert Brothers, New York jewelers, also present the Lambert Trophy for Eastern major colleges), there never has been a closer vote.

Most of the selectors who chose Lehigh declared they did so because the Engnieers had played a tougher schedule, which included three major colleges. The Williams adherents noted that the Purple had improved from week to week during the season and had beaten or tied teams rated in the top five.

The Engineers will be presented with the first Lambert Cup at a special award party in New York City on December 8.

Another New England team, Amherst, which was beaten only by Williams in eight games, was rated third by the selectors, followed by Tufts (6-1-1), Gettysburg (7-1-1), Juniata (7-0), Hobart (6-0), Delaware (4-3), Hofstra (9-1) and West Chester (9-0)) as the top ten. Springfield, Brandeis, Hamilton and Lafayette also were named in the voting.

DINTIMAN AND BERRIER TIED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lock Haven's George Dintiman and Juniata's Bill Berrier tied for the Pennsylvania state collegiate football scoring championship after Berrier vaulted from sixth place on the strength of last weekend's performance.

Berrier, a hard-running fullback, scored three touchdowns and kicked four extra points to help give Juniata a 42-7 triumph over Ursinus College.

Both Lock Haven and Juniata are unbeaten an untied this season.

Dintiman and Berrier, whose identical twin, Jim, plays halfback for Juniata, tied for the scoring championship with 72 points.

Behind the two leaders were West Chester's Bob Mosteller with 67 points and Geneva's Willie Taylor with 66. Last year's champion, Jim Villa of Allegheny, ended in a four-way tie for seventh place with 48 points.

Pastrano Fights Besmanoff Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Willie Pastrano home from England, hopes to strengthen his claim as a heavyweight contender tonight when he tackles Willi Besmanoff in a 10-round bout here.

Pastrano already is considered a leading contender to Champion Floyd Patterson's title and is confident that a victory over the German heavyweight will serve a stepping stone to a title shot.

The bout will telecast by ABC beginning at 10 p.m. EST.

The fight will be scored on a 10 point must system. The winner of each round gets 10 points and the loser nine or less.

CARLISLE AND HANOVER CLASH FOR SP TITLE

A capacity crowd of about 7,500 fans is expected to watch Hanover and Carlisle High Schools battle for the South Penn Football Conference title at Hanover Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Nighthawks currently lead the race with a 6-0 mark while Carlisle is in second place with a 5-1 record.

Under the point system of the conference, Hanover can clinch the title by a victory or a tie while Carlisle would snare the championship through a Herd triumph. Carlisle, defending titlists, won the outright championship in 1955 and 1956 and shared the honors with Mechanicsburg in 1954. No South Penn champ has ever held the title for four succesive seasons.

Two other South Penn teams, Mechanicsburg and Middletown, will also make up a postponed game when they meet at Middletown Thursday at 2 p.m.

LOU MICHAELS WINS LINEMAN OF WEEK AWARD

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

Big Lou Michaels, 230-pound tackle for the University of Kentucky, did just about everything as the Wildcats upset Tennessee 20-6 last Saturday.

It was perhaps the greatest individual performance by a lineman during the season and it brought the senior from Swoyersville, Pa. additional recognition today as the Lineman of the Week. He was far in front of the weekly Associated Press poll by sports writers and broadcasters.

"Lou Michaels played the finest game of tackle I've ever seen in my life," declared Kentucky Coach Blanton Collier. "He was terrific, that's the only word for it."

Get Loud Ovation

"Man-eating tackle Lou Michaels," wrote Alf Van Hoose of the Birmingham News, "scored once, kicked two extra points, punted 41.1 yards per boot, recovered a fumble which led to another six points, dynamited another loose for the same result and for 59 minutes, 40 seconds brutally led a Kentucky defense which harassed, bumfuzzled, then finally routed favored Tennessee. When the all-everything senior left (the game) with one play to go, it was to the most tumultuous ovation a normally unsung, beatup old tackle ever heard from 36,500 folks."

High among the other players were Allen Ecuyer, Notre Dame guard, and Clyde Ledbetter, Baylor guard. Ecuyer made 18 tackles against Iowa while Letbetter figured in 12 tackles and blocked sensationally against Southern Methodist.

BOWL BERTHS AT STAKE ON TURKEY DAY

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

While you're reducing that turkey to a carcass tomorrow, college football will be filling out the bowl game schedule with Texas A&M, Texas and Virginia Military taking shots at the New Year's Day gravy.

There are more angles to the A&M-Longhorn game than a Rube Goldberk cartoon. It's strictly an "if" game—and the result won't be known 'til Saturday.

If Baylor can knock off Rice Saturday, the Aggie-Texas winner will claim the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl berth that goes with it. IF Rice wins, the Aggie-Texas winner likely will wind up in one of those "other" bowls, probably the Sugar.

Simpler For VMI

In short, it's just a usual Southwest race. Texas A&M, beaten only by Rice, and Rice, beaten only by Texas, are tied for the lead at 4-1-0. Texas, beaten only by Southern Methodist but tied by Baylor, ist hird at 3-1-1.

If Texas A&M and Rice wind up in a tie for the title, Rice gets the Cotton Bowl bid because of the 7- victory over the Aggies.

Things are much more simple for VMI. If the Keydets win, they go to the Tangerine Bowl. If they lose, they spend the yeurend holidays with the folks.

Brown-Colgate On TV

The Keydets are 8-0-1 (tied 21-all by Holy Cross) and are paired with East Texas State by the Tangerine committee as the only two teams still under consideration as a foe for Mississippi Southern. The Texans already have completed their season, with an 8-1 record.

The Texas A&M-Texas game will be televised in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Eastern viewers will have a chance to look too, but only after the Brown-Colgate game is completed at Providence, R.I.

Not on TV, but worth viewing in the flesh are Cornell at Penn, Richmond at William & Mary, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Denver at Wyoming and Utah State at Utah.

Games In West

Utah can bag the Skyline title with a victory. But if the Utes lose, it's the Southwest Conference race all over again. A Utah defeat could make the Denver-Wyoming winner the champ — if New Mexico defeats Brigham Young Saturday. BYU could win it all.

The other still vacant bowl berths will be filled after Saturday's games.

SYRIA ACCUSES ISRAEL OF NEW BORDER ISSUES

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria has accused Israel of planning new border aggressions and has warned Turkey to withdraw troops massed along the Syrian frontier or face a new fight in the U.N. General Assembly.

A Syrian army spokesman said the U.N. truce observation organization has been notified of "increased Israeli provocations for further . . . aggressions being prepared against Syria now. . . ."

The spokesman said Israeli fire repeatedly had been aimed at positions inside Syrian territory.

Claims 60,000 On Border

A Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference that 60,000 Turkish troops are still massed along the northwest Syrian border. If they are not withdrawn, the spokesman said, Syria is determined to renew before Christmas its complaint against Turkey in the U.N. General Assembly.

These developments, along with a new Soviet note to Turkey warning against continued pressure on Syria and fresh tension between Israel and Jordan, shaped up into ominous preludes for .N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's Middle East peacemaking trip.

Hammarskjold leaves New York Friday, principally to look into the Jordan-Israel dispute over Israeli convoys to Mt. Scopus, an Israeli enclave at Jerusalem reached through Jordan territory. The Jordanians have turned back a convoy because they said it carried forbidden benzine.

Take Strong Exception

The Israelis have taken strong exception to condemnation of Israel by the Jordan-Israel Mixed Armistice Commission for a Nov. 21 border incident. The commission, with the Israeli delegation absent, upheld a Jordan complaint that a 5-year-old farmer was taken into Israel by an Israeli border policeman under threat of force.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman in Jerusalem said the condemnation resolution contradicted the facts.

He also denounced Jordan's convoy ban and said, "The situation is very serious and is becoming more so from day to day."

Florida was once a colony of Spain and Great Britain. It was later ceded to the United States.

Eagles Lose Back Thru Appendectomy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles will do without the services of halfback and end John (Rocky) Ryan for the rest of the season because of an emergency appendectomy yesterday.

The National Football LLeague club said Ryan was in "good shape" from the operation for a gangrenous appendix but would be in bed for a week to 10 days.

Chuck Bednarik, Eagles linebacker, will miss Sunday's game with the Pittsburgh Steelers because of a rib separation.

BERMUDIAN JT. IN FIRST GAME DEFEATS DOVER

Bermudian Joint, first scholastic basketball team to swing into action this season, opened successfully Tuesday evening by edging Dover 39-36 on the latter's floor.

Charley Chronister paced the winners with 18 points while Bevenour topped the losers with 10.

In the preliminary the Bermudian junior varsity triumphed 36-23.

Eastern High of Wrightsville will play at East Berlin Friday evening.

FARMERS GET MORE TO MARKET THEIR PRODUCTS

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reversing a national trend, Pennsylvania farmers' cash receipts for marketing of their products continued to rise during the first nine months of 1957, the Agriculture Department reports.

Total cash receipts in the Keystone State from January through September were $553,346,000, compared to $551,035,000 for the same period last year.

Over the nation, cash receipts fell off from a total $20,472,583,000 in the first nine months of 1956 to $20,372,404,000 this year.

Contributing to Pennsylvania's general increase in the first nine months of the year were a boost in sales of livestock and products from $412,983,000 in 1956 to $413,328,000 this year, and in crops from $138,052,000 last year to $140,018,000 in 1957.

Cash receipts from farm marketing in Pennsylvania dropped during September this year compared to the same month of last year, however.

Livestock and products sales for the month rose from $46,549,000 to $48,586,000. But at the same time crops sales fell from $23,403,000 to $20,206,000. The combined total decreased from $69,952,000 to $68,792,000.

WILLIAMS' PLAY PICKED

NEW YORK (AP) — The American National Theater and Academy and the Voice of America have selected Tennessee Williams' prize-winning play "The Glass Menagerie" as the second of a series of four recorded for world-wide broadcast.

The cast includes Mildred Dunnock, Earl Malden, Kim Stanley and Eli Wallach.

The series was launched with Thornton Wilder's "Our Town."

REVERSE TREND

NEW YORK (AP) — Most players begin their New York acting careers with off-Broadway experimental groups, but Barbara Baxley is reversing all that.

Miss Baxley is taking her first fling in the bandbox showcases by appearing in "Palm Trees in a Rose Garden." Her Broadway credits include such items as "Camino Real," "The Flowering Peach" and "The Frogs of Spring".

FUTURE BOOKING

NEW YORK (AP) — The first show opening for next season has already been booked for Broadway.

The optimistic far-ahead date of Oct. 15, 1958 has been fixed for F. Hugh Herbert's new comedy "Weekend Girl." The casting has not been set.

EXPERTS RATE NAVY 3-POINT MARGIN FOR WIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The football experts rate Navy a three-point favorite over Army in the 58th renewal of the service classic here Saturday, but fans trying to pick the winner have to decide how that slim margin stacks up against such unforeseeable factors as team spirit and the breaks.

Spirit alone has won for both sides in the past, and breaks have decided other meetings.

The weather, too, could be a factor. The gridiron prohpets base their calculations on the expectation that the Middies' aerial game will prove superior to Army's ground attack. Rain or windy weather could alter that picture.

Navy Has "Something New"

The experts are unanimous on one point — anyone who goes by the record in picking the winner in this game is sticking his neck out.

Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz promised "something new" for the clash. He wasn't saying what it was.

Coach Earl Blaik of Army let it be known his squad was working on special defensive plans, but likewide wasn't giving any details.

Both Blaik and Erdelatz had high opinions of their opponents' abilities.

Respects Army Backs

Erdelatz said the Cadet backfield of Dave Bourland, Pete Dawkins, Bob Anderson and Vin Barta is the best he's seen since coming to Annapolis seven years ago.

"Army can get you coming and going," he declared. "If you lay back for passes, they run over you. If you try to stop Anderson, Dawkins runs wild. If you watch Dawkins, Anderson takes off. If you watch both, Barta will beat you to death."

Blaik, while singling out Bourland for special praise, said he doubted if any team could contain Navy.

"Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst are good runners. Tom Forrestal is a fine quarterback and passer," Blaik commented He said he figured Army would score on Navy, but questioned: "Can we deny Navy a higher score?"

Cigar Bowl Cuts Prospects To Eight

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cigar Bowl selection committee has shaved its prospects to eight teams after cutting five off its list yesterday. The post season football game is Dec. 28.

Still up for consideration are Mississippi State, Southern Methodist, Boston College, University of Miami, University of Houston, Penn State, Syracuse and West Virginia.

Navy's Midget Back, Ronnie Brence, May Get Big Chance Against Army Next Saturday

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Ronnie Brence makes his last trip as a Midshipman Saturday to Philadelphia for an Army-Navy football game and this time he'll be seen.

It will take close looking by the crowd of about 100,000, at that, since the Navy halfback will be the smallest on the field.

The 150-pounder is only 5-feet-6.

It'd been a long up and down pull for Brence, because of his size before finally getting a chance to perform in the service academy classic.

When he graduated from Beaverdale (Pa), High School he was offered a scholarship to Notre Dame. But the two platoon system came to an end and he lost it because "they wanted me for offense only," related Brence today.

Failed Twice By Hair

The Naval Academy also "wanted me if I would wait a year, but I wanted to play football and went to Case Institute in Cleveland." Case discontinued football the next year and Brence sought a Naval Academy appointment.

He failed twice by a hair to reach the minimum height requirement of 5-feet-6. Then the standard was lowered two inches and he made it.

He was on the junior varsity as a sophomore until the fifth game in 1955. He was moved up to the varsity with quarterback Tom Forrestall who is now the Navy's No. 1 signal caller.

Watched From Stands

Brence didn't fare as well. He managed to stay up for the rest of the season, but didn't get in the Army game. He went back to the Jayvees last season and watched the big game in Philadelphia from the stands.

He rejoined the "big boys" as second string halfback behind Ned Oldham this year. Under Coach Eddie Erdelatz's system of freely substituting by teams, this is active duty.

In the sixth game at Penn, Oldham hurt a knee and Brence took over—against Notre Dame. he did the job and also against Duke as well as during the eight minutes the first team stayed in against George Washington. He has a rushing average of 5.5 yards in 46 carries.

Ready To Go

"I'm sorry Oldham was hurt, but I sure like to play," grinned Brence. "And I never wanted to win so badly as I do this Saturday."

Oldham's knee has been pronounced healed enough for him to start against Army. But Brence will be teady to scurry if anything goes wrong.

His speed is one of the items on the Army's check list according to scout Barney Gill of West Point.

SCRIBE PICKS NAVY TO BEAT ARMY SATURDAY

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Giving the crystal ball of football a final glance before tossing it into the garbage can

Navy over Army: People who know say that Army is an average team blessed with two outstanding halfbacks in Anderson and Dawkins but that Navy is a balanced, above-average team.

Texas A&M over Texas: The blocking and tackling in this one will be heard for miles. Mighty John Crow to give the Aggies the edge in this Thanksgiving Day game.

Notre Dame over Southern California: The Irish pummel one of their most respected rivals.

Auburn over Alabama: These Auburns are downright stingy when it comes to giving anything away unless, that is, it is a rough time.

Oklahome over Oklahoma State: State has come back a great distance—but it still has a great distance to go before beating the Sooners.

Rice over Baylor: If the Aggies lose Thursday, King Hill and Rice mates could be cochampions and the Cotton Bowl team by Saturday evening.

Others without comment:

THURSDAY

Brown over Colgate, Cornell over Penn.

SATURDAY

Holy Cross over Boston College.

ACTOR-PRODUCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Latest recruit to the ranks of Broadway producers is Barry Nelson, who for the past 15 months has been starring in the London version of "No Time for Sergeants."

Nelson, play-shopping while in the West End, has obtained American stage rights to the British hit "Odd Man In."

The show, which is also running in Paris, is due to make its local debut sometime during the spring. Nelson has cast himself for one of the three roles.

THREE-TIME WINNER

NEW YORK (AP) — "Simply Heavenly" has come full circle on the New York theatrical orbit.

The Negro play-with-music opened in an off-Broadway auditorium last spring, moved to the main stem in late summer. Now the show, which won critical praise all along the way but was unable to weather the financial hazards of Broadway, has reopened in another theater in downtown Greenwich Village.

Precise Routing Of Expressway Being Blocked By Opposition

HARRISBURG (AP)—A delegation of legislators from the anthracite area has been assured that the Anthracite Expressway will run through their region.

But the delegation also has been told that an impasse over whether the highway will pass through the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation is blocking location of a precise route.

The delegation, made up of Schuylkill and Northumberland county legislators and headed by Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R—Schuylkill) and Rep. Edward Dunn (R—Northumberland), met with Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens and Deputy Highways Secretary, Robert A. Farley Monday.

The group scheduled the meeting to give its views for a route which would take the federal interstate highway through their hard coal area, rather than west of the Susquehanna River as advocated by other groups. The state supports the anthracite route.

Adds 15 More Miles

Running the new highway west of the river would add 15 miles to its length, Farley said, adding:

'It costs about a million dollars a mile to build an interstate highway, so you can see whay we favored the direct route through Schuylkill County. There is a greater population along the route through the hard coal region and a greater gross product in comparison to the potential along U. S. 11."

Farley said a considerable area of the economically depressed Schuylkill County area would be opened to industrial development by the highway.

Farley's contentions were disputed by Paul R. Eyerly, chairman of the Original Route 11 Assn., which is supporting a route west of the river.

Cites Added Cost

He said a partial study of a west bank route indicated the cost would be less than a million dollars more than the route finally adopted by the Highways Department.

His group maintains, he said that sufficient studies have not been made of the project to "come up with any honest comparative figures."

Eyerly also asserted that the economic distress of the hard coal area is not as great as those counties through which the expressway would pass if located west of the river and questioned whether the area of the anthracite express. way is "such a population giant."

Present plans call for the highway to enter Schuylkill County at Ashland. From this point to Harrisburg, the Indiantown Gap problem has thwarted further planning.

Two Alternates

Farley said there are to alternates for the route south of Ashland: one north of Indiantown Gap along the defunct S. & S. Railroad; the other bisecting the military post and tying in with a plan to relocate U. S. 22 from south of the Gap to Harrisburg.

Adj. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle has announced his opposition to the plan which would bisect the military reservation. Stevens said a meeting with Biddle has been scheduled for Dec. 3 to discuss the impasse.

Farley said military officials may decide it would be to their advantage to run the expressway through the reservation since the high speed road is considered a defense facility.

SEEKS RELEASE OF HARRY GOLD ANDGREENGLASS

POINT PLEASANT, N. J. (AP)—Robert Morris, counsel to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, says diehard Communists are freed while those who cooperate with the government are kept in prison.

In a statement issued over the weekend, Morris called for the formation of a committee to seek the release from prison of convicted atom spies David Greenglass and Harry Gold.

Both men have been cooperating with intelligence agencies for eight years, he said, and their release should prompt others to step forward and cooperate with the government.

"If even one important Communist had defected from Moscow in the last three years and authoritatively informed us of the tre-

But Morris said he was worried "because we are not getting any ex-Communists to come forward."

Report 400-Pound Bear Shot Monday

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Game Commission reported today a bear weighing "close to 400 pounds" was killed on Monday in Pike County.

The report from District Game Warden Carl Stainbrook, Kingston, did not identify the hunter who brought down the bear.

The commission said that a 400-pound bruin was regarded as a large one but they have reports bigger ones killed in previous years.

EXPERTS STUDY COMMY COURSE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Plans for a course of instruction on communism in Pennsylvania's public schools has moved another step forward.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction, said on Monday a proposed course of study, under research for more than a year, has been submitted to "selected experts" for evaluation.

A bibliography for use in courses in communism will be offered to public high school teachers, Dr. Boehm said, pointing out that the department cannot make such a course compulsory, but can only suggest it.

Clarence Stephenson, the department's advisor on history education and director of the research, said schools would be advised to offer the course to high school seniors, perhaps in an already exisiting course in "problems of democracy."

The proposal has the support of the State American Legion, which has advocated such a course since last year.

82 Bear Shot On 1st Day Of Season

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — The size of the bear kill is running about the same as last year but less hunters are doing it.

District Game Supervisor, Leroy Gleason said 82 bear were shot on the first day of the season in north-central Pennsylvania. But he estimated the turnout of hunters at 40 per cent less than in 1956.

The biggest kill on the first day occurred in Cameron County where 33 bear were downed. Elk County reported 18 killed, Lycoming 10 and Clinton 7.

Nixon Says Reds Reaffirm Decision To Conquer World

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vice President Nixon says the latest Communist party peace manifesto means that the Russians "have reaffirmed their ultimate goal of world domination by nonmilitary means if possible, by war if necessary."

Nixon spoke Sunday night at the closing session of the fourth convention of the National Council of Catholic Youth. He called the Communist statement, published three days ago by the Communist parties of 64 nations, the "Khrushchev Manifesto."

The manifesto called on the nations of the world to stop the arms race, ban nuclear weapons and abandon military blocs. It promised that "we will free the world from the danger of war, death and destruction."

Nixon said it would be foolhardy to brush aside the statement.

Seek World Conquest

"Because this document warns us in advance, at a time when we are thinking primarily of defending ourselves against the increased military potential the Soviet Union will have in the future, that the men in the Kremlin are launching right now a massive nonmilitary offensive aimed at the overthrow of all free governments," he declared.

He continued: "Here are some of the actions we can expect as Khrushchev Manifesto.

Have Fooled Many

"The dictators of Moscow will sharply step up their economic, psychological and subversive activities all over the world.

"They will emphasize again the popular front tactics which fooled so many well-intentioned people in times past.

"Ruthless control and domination of Communist governments and Communist parties everywhere by the men in the Kremlin will again be the order of the day."

The council presented its "Pro Deo et Juventute" (For God and Youth) award to Irene Dunne, screen actress and an alternative U.S. delegate to the United Nations.

Honor Cardinal

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York was honored on the 25th anniversary of his elevation to the rank of bishop.

The council's new officers, elected for two-year, terms are John A. McLaughlin, Kearny, N.J. President; Jean Miriani, Salt Lake City, vice president; John Geismann, St. Louis, treasurer; and Ann Kicin, Hartford, Conn., secretary.

TAXPAYERS MAY IGNORE EXPENSE ITEMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Switching signals again, the Internal Revenue Service now says taxpayers may ignore the line on their 1957 income tax returns which calls for their business expense accounts.

But the announcement on Monday by Commissioner Russell C. Harrington emphasized that the decision "does not change the long-standing rules which the revenue service has been following with respect to substantiation of deductions when a taxpayer's return is audited."

The law has required since 1921 that the money an employe draws on his expense account be listed as income. He then is allowed to deduct his actual expenses. But the law has been regularly ignored, especially by small taxpayers whose reimbursement only equaled their expenses.

Separate Listing

These expenses and deductions were supposed to have been listed on a separate sheet. Then last month the service disclosed that the 1957 forms—which taxpayers will get early next year—call for the totals on the returns themselves. This was done to make it easier to check on big expense accounts in which there may be some tax fraud, but the law made it applicable to expenses of any amount.

Harrington said the decision to ignore the change in the tax form for 1957 was made because the addition of the new line was not made public until after 10 months of the tax year had already gone by. Thus, he said, it had a retroactive effect.

"Taxpayers have emphasized to the service that most employes who receive reimbursements for expenses file bills and receipts with their employers and do not retain copies," he added. "To attempt now to secure data would place too great a burden on many taxpayers."

Harrington said, "Employes will treat travel, reimbursed expenses, etc. for 1957 as they have in the past."

However, an IRS spokesman said that the new line or something like it, presumably will be included in the forms for 1958. He added, "The taxpayer is now on notice that he must henceforth keep records of his expense accounts."

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Practical photography is a workable mixture of inspiration and application. The best learned lessons are from application: shooting and yet more shooting until you get the feel of exposures and handling the camera. But for inspiration, deeper insight and knowledge, camera fans might turn to photo books or specialists who lead the way.

At this time of year, just before Christmas, camera store bookshelves are loaded with a variety of new photo books. Some have all the answers to any point of information you seek. Some explore a particular photo facet like sports, 35mm or marine photography. And there are the various annuals which gather the year's outstanding photos to provide a visual romp or more leisurely browsing for the picture minded.

Heavy Industry

One of the new books is the heaviest, fattest single volume on photography I've ever seen, which proves, no doubt, that photography is indeed one of our heavy industries.

It's "The Focal Encyclopedia of Photography," a five-pound, 1400-page alphabetical accumulation of photographic knowledge. It took ten years of research and preparation and the work of 197 experts from 23 countries to compile this source book.

Whether you're looking for a definition, a fact or formula, equipment or technique, historic theory or present practice, you'll find an authoritative explanation here. A British publication, the book was printed in London and is distributed in America by the Macmillan Co., New York City.

"Spectacle Of Sport"

After hurdling the encyclopedia, we landed next, appropriately enough, on "The Spectacle of Sport." Name your sport and you'll find it in this book, superbly illustrated by a color photograph or a sensitive story. All were originally published in Sports Illustrated magazine.

It is interesting to discover that although 40 different photographers are represented in the book, they all used miniature cameras and the 200 color photos were reproduced from original 35mm transparencies.

"Through the use of maneuverable miniature cameras, the events were covered for mood and atmosphere," said editor Norton Wood, who selected the photos, "instead of merely factual camera reporting of particular points."

Marine Photography

A little inspiration from these pictures might well rub off on many camera fans in their own spheres of sporting activities.

From color and all sports we turn next to black-and-white in marine photography. Prentice Hall, which published "The Spectacle of Sport," also offers "Under Full Sail," 50 years of great marine photographs by Morris Rosenfeld.

Anyone with the slightest interest in the sea, boats and photography has heard of the master craftsman, Rosenfeld, who has parlayed the trio into a personal national institution. This book will justify that reputation to hose landlubbers who have avoided contact thus far with sailing boats. It might even inspire them to set out with heir own camera for he nearest body of water. Even if they don't get a great marine picture, there seems to be a lot of fun in sailing.

EXPOSURE CAUSED DEATH OF SAILOR

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—A delayed report from the U.S. Naval Base at Argentina, Nfld., said today Seaman Ronald Klinedinst of Hanover, Pa., died of exposure Nov 20, four hours after he fell from a local vessel off Fox Island, Placentia Bay.

A crew member said Klinedinst lost his balance and toppled over the gunwale into the frigid water. Someone threw him a life belt, which he climbed into, and the vessel turned about and made several passes at the foundering seaman.

Shipmates tried to grasp Klinedinst's hands and clothing but 30-m.p.h. winds and high waves soon separated them. A crash boat came to the scene and managed to pull Klinedinst aboard after a second sailor jumped in the 42-degree water to assist him.

The rescue took about three hours and Klinedinst died after being taken ashore for treatment.

Bedridden Woman Rescued From Fire

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 67-year-old woman, bedridden with a broken leg, was strapped to a stretcher and carried down a ladder by firemen Tuesday as flames swept the downtown hotel in which she was living.

Six other residents of the building, the Locust Hotel, 819 Locust St., escaped in their nightclothes by fleeing down a rear fire tower.

The woman, Mrs. Kathleen Haney was taken to Jefferson Hospital while the others were given shelter at a police station.

DEMAND TO OUST U. S. OBSERVER REFUSED BY U. S.

JERUSALEM (AP)—A Jordanian demand for the removal of a U.S officer serving as U. N. truce observer has threatened a breakdown in the mediation of disputes along the Jordan-Israeli border.

As new frontier clashes were reported, Jordan announced that it no longer would accept the truce recommendations of U. S Marine Col. Byron Leary.

But a U. N. spokesman said Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold immediately told the Amman government that Leary "continues to enjoy his full personal confidence."

Jordan's demand for Leary's removal apparently was prompted by the officer's mediation efforts in an Israeli convoy incident last week which touched off a series of border clashes.

Jordan charged the Israelis violated the armistice agreement by sending a convoy with highly flammable benzine to a hospital in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized area within the Arab part of Jerusalem.

Israel then asked to negotiate with Jordan, citing a section of the armistice agreement applying to the movement of traffic on roads in the Bethlehem-Jordan area.

Leary relayed the request. Jordan rejected it.

The Arab government's repudiation of Leary as a truce observer was accompanied by an announcement that Jordan will take the convoy matter to the U. N. Security Council.

Foreign Minister Samir Rifai, commenting on the dispute, said he had been "informed of openly partial recommendations and views" expressed by Leary. He added that the U. S. officer had been biased on previous occasions.

Israel charged that Jordanians on Sunday fired on three Israeli laborers near Yarhiv and tried unsuccessfully to kidnap them.

In another complaint, Israel said Syrian soldiers fired machine guns at Israeli field workers near Tel Azaziat in northeastern Israel fatally wounding one.

But Syria said the Israelis launched the attack "in an attempt to plow Arab lands by force." The farmers marched in behind an armored car which opened fire on Arab farmers working the area, Damascus said.

Israel filed complaints with the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commissions in both the latest border incidents, and Syria filed a counter-charge.

DIFFICULT TO FIX ROLES IN MISSILE WORK

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said today the Senate Preparedness subcommittee is having extreme difficulty determining who is responsible for what in the lagging missile and satellite programs.

Johnson, majority leader of the Senate and chairman of the committee, told reporters "I do not believe in shaking everything up and turning things upside down. But we will have to find out how to streamline the organization."

The committee recalled Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Dr. Herbert Scoville, director of the CIA's Office of Scientific Intelligence for further closed-door questioning.

To Take Recess

The first phase of the hearings will wind up sometime tonight when the committee will recess until Dec. 13.

"There is one clear pattern that has emerged from all of the testimony thus far," Johnson said. "It is the extreme difficulty of pinning down lines of authority in the missile and satellite program.

Rep. Ford (R-Mich), a member of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, told newsmen most members of that group favor production for both the Army and the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missiles. He did not indicate how soon a decision may be expected on production orders.

Russ Economy "Faster"

If the Army's Jupiter is accepted for production, he said, it will be made at a Detroit plant of the Chrysler Corp.

The Senate subcommittee summarized the secret testimony of the CIA representatives in a formal statement issued by Johnson. It quoted them as saying the Soviet economy has been growing "relatively faster" than that of the United States.

It went on:

"The CIA confirmed reports that the Soviet is now outstripping the United States in developing a scientific and technological manpower pool. Every Soviet student by the time he finishes high school has had five years of physics, five of biology, four of chemistry and ten years of mathematics.

"In 1957, the Soviet will have 140,000 graduates in science and engineering as compared to only 100,000 in the United States."

Dr. John P. Hagen told the committee earlier that unquestionably the United States could have launched a satellite ahead of Russia, but that he was denied top priority he asked in 1955 for the project.

Hagen is the director of Vanguard, the American satellite program.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—What happens if President Eisenhower should become too disabled to carry out his duties? Would Vice President Nixon become acting president or president? If so how? There's no agreed-on answer.

The Constitution itself is foggy on this point.

But it's the third time the question has arisen in a little over two years. After Eisenhower's heart attack; after his ileitis operation; and now again after his mild stroke. He himself asked Congress to clear up the fog. But it didn't.

If a president dies, the vice president becomes president. Seven vice presidents have become president that way. If a president is removed from office by Congress, the Constitution says the vice president succeeds him. That hasn't happened yet.

But this is where the Constitution is vague. It says in case of the "inability of a president to discharge the powers and duties of his office, they "shall devolve on the vice president."

But that raises these questions:

1. What is the position of a vice president who acts as president? Does he thus become president, ousting the man who was elected to the job? What if the elected President recovers?

What Is "Inability"?

2. Just what is inability to discharge the duties of the presidency? Is there a time limit on how long a disabled president can remain in office before being succeeded by the vice president?

3. Who decides when the President is too disabled to do his job? And who decides when the disability ends and he can resume his office? The President? He couldn't if he were unconscious. The vice president? That might put him in the position of a usurper.

From what Eisenhower has said in public—in 1956 after his heart attack and again the same year after his operation—it might be concluded he would resign if he felt physically unfit for the job. But that's not positive.

He said "There is going to be no neglect of the duties of the President of the United States; and when I feel I can't carry them on, I won't be there. . . .

"If at any time I have any reason to believe that I am not fit, as I believe myself to be now, I will come before the American public and tell them. . . ."

It might be Eisenhower's intention to quit if he felt unfit. But suppose he was only temporarily unfit, although the unfitness lasted for months in which the whole direction of the government suffered. Suppose he felt sure he would recover and therefore did not step aside for the vice president?

Through his former attorney general, Herbert Brownell, Eisenhower earlier this year asked Congress to propose an amendment to the Constitution making clear once and for all how a vice president should take over presidential duties in cases of disability. As it did before, Congress talked about it and did nothing.

Brownell tol Congress "Unless the President, his Cabinet and his other friends are absolutely certain of his status after the termination of his inability, they will tend to oppose any attempt to declare the existence of inability, viewing such a declaration as equivalent to removing the President from office."

Some constitutional authorities have argued through the years that once a vice president assumes presidential duties, he is president, even though the elected President recovers. This is based on the belief there cannot be two presidents at the same time.

Accuse Yank Of Killing Jap Woman

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The U.S. Army today charged Specialist 3.C. Gregory J. Kupski of Detroit with the strangulation death Nov. 17 of the Japanese wife of an American sailor.

An Army spokesman said a legal opinion would be required to determine whether the Army or Japanese authorities have jurisdiction over the case.

Kupski, 23, was charged with unpremeditated murder of Kazue Eikawa, 25, the wife of Robert Leslie Wescot. Officials at China Lake Naval Base in California said Wescot had been trying since he returned from Japan more than a year ago to bring her to the states.

The Army says Kupski confessed killing the woman, who was found strangled with a blouse in a Yokohama alley. The Army charge carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Doolittle Contradicts Truman On Early U.S. Missile Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. James Doolittle (Ret.) testfield today that Russia "certainly is ahead of us" in all land-fired missiles. He said the United States leads in air-to-air types.

Doolittle, who heads the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee that this country fell behind Soviet Russia because it had no coordinated program until 1953.

He said the Russians started missile developments in 1946 and "they have been working harder at it than we have."

Doolittle's testimony was in direct contradiction of contentions by former President Truman. Truman has said that he organized a unified missile program while in the White House but that it was allowed to deteriorate under the Eisenhower administration.

Led Raid On Japan

Doolittle, a famed flier who led the first World War II air raid on Japan, was the first witness of the Senate subcommittee's second day of hearings on the U.S. missile situation.

Similarly, Doolittle said that unless the United States steps up its rate of progress the Soviet Union will surpass this country in all phases of military effort.

The one bright spot now, Doolittle said, is in American development of air-to-air missiles. He said he does not believe the Russians have a missile equal to the Falcon, which can be fired from a plane at another plane.

Nor, he said, does he believe the Russians can match the U.S nuclear warhead air-to-air missile.

"Double Incentive"

Doolittle said one reason the Russians are ahead is that they have a "double incentive."

"Under their system — and I recommend it—you either are rewarded for excellence or you are destroyed if you don't do a good job."

He said Russia is sacrificing more than the United States, putting about one-fourth of its production into military hardware, while the United States is spending only about 8½ per cent of its production for defense.

In addition, he said Russia has "a definite, clear-cut objective—communization and domination of the world."

Need U.S. Strength

Over and above all, Doolittle emphasized the need for maintaining "a strong, modern military establishment" to provide the strength that Russia respects, including modern submarines and antisubmarine missiles.

"The primary immediate requirement is a strong Strategic Air Command, which is our basic deterrent, and with sufficient aircraft to do the job," he said.

SAC should be strengthened, Doolittle said, with a heavy increase in aircraft and "missiles as fast as they can be developed and supplied."

He described the number of planes now available to SAC as "skimpy."

Need More Crews

Also, he said, the command needs more crews, both air and ground, and more airfields so that its forces can be scattered to avoid being wiped out "in one sneak attack."

SAC needs to be "on maximum alert," he added

Summing up, Doolittle said:

"All this adds up to an immediate substantial increase in our military budget."

He said the Air Force is "not now doing things that should be done because of limitations of the budget."

"I'm not qualified to testify about the Army and Navy needs because I am not knowledgeable in those fields."

Based on the first day of hearings, when a group of scientists were heard, Chairman Johnson (D-Tex.) said he regards the Russian lead in missiles as "only a symbol of an even greater danger" that the United States may fall behind in the weapons of the future.

Johnson expressed this view in an interview.

KING, DULLES CONFER TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles reviewed North African problems for two hours today with the King of Morocco and said their initial talk went "very well."

Dulles, who was substituting for the ailing President Eisenhower, told newsmen one and possibly two additional such conferences will be held before Mohammed V leaves Thursday.

"It was a preliminary friendly review of problems of mutual concern," Dulles said after escorting the King through the White House lobby to his waiting limousine.

Problems due to come up for major attention included the future of U.S. air bases in Morocco, the amount of U.S. assistance to the North African nation, and the King's hopes for an end to the two-year-old battle between French and Algerian rebels.

Dulles told reporters he had not seen Eisenhower today.

He did not reply when asked whether he intended to give Eisenhower a personal report on his conversation with the King.

The site of the Mohammed-Dulles meeting was the White House Cabinet room.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

HAVE NEW DATA TO LEARN WHEN CARRIER FALLS

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. scientists prepared today to feed new sighting data into an electronic brain in an effort to predict more accurately when Sputnik I's rocket carrier will fall.

Predictions during the weekend that the rocket's fall was imminent were not borne out. One British astronomer who had made such a prediction revised it to say the rocket is expected to last for several days.

Sunday night, the rocket was sighted by skywatchers over northeastern United States.

Dr. John White, staff scientist at the Smithsonsian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., said those and other sighting reports would be used in a new computation of the rocket's present orbit.

More Accurate Forecast

White said the new data, fed into an electronic brain at Massachusetts Institute of Technology may permit a more accurate forecast of when the rocket will take its fatal plunge.

Some scientists have expressed a belief that Sputnik I, a 14-pound sphere, will stay on course for several weeks longer than its carrier rocket because the drag on it is much less than on the rocket.

Estimates are the rocket, now traveling closer to the earth than Sputnik I, has covered more than 20 million miles. The rocket carried the world's first earth satellite into orbit on Oct. 4. A second Soviet satellite was fired aloft Nov. 3 with a dog as a passenger There has been no definite prediction when Sputnik II will drop Considerable excitement was generated Friday night when British Prof. A. C. Lovell announced the rocket's end might be only a short time away. Lovell is director of the Jodrell Bank station, which boasts the world's largest radio telescope, which has been tracking the space travelers.

Excitement Mounts

That excitement mounted Saturday when scientists lost contact with the rocket for much of the day.

However, the Jodrell Bank radio telescope located the carrier again Saturday night. It was then that Lovell changed his earlier prediction.

Soviet scientists have said parts of the rocket may survive to land on the earth's surface.

But many Western scientists have expressed the opinion the rocket will burn like a meteor due to atmospheric friction when it falls toward earth.

Other Developments

The weekend brought these other developments:

1. Dr. Hans. K. Ziegler, a German-trained scientist, said at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., the United States could have launched a satellite last month if President Eisenhower had ordered it.

"We have satellites, the rockets, the fuel and the know-how," said Ziegler, assistant research director at the U. S. Army Signal Corps Engineering Laboratory. He spoke out in an interview with the Asbury Park (N. J.) Sunday Press.

2. Elbert Eaton, an Air Force research specialist, said in Bedford, Mass., studies now under way are aimed at sending three 1,000-pound satellites into orbit between 300 and 600 miles above earth, and at shooting a rocket some 4,000 miles into space Each of the satellites, Eaton said, would be equipped with television instruments.

3. Data, a trade magazine, said the Air Force hopes to have an experimental manned vehicle in space by 1960. The publication also said the Air Force plans to launch an unmanned TV-equipped reconnaissance satellite next year.

WEALTHY TEXAS OILMAN IS WED

DALLAS (AP)—Oilman H. L. Hunt, reportedly one of the world's richest men, married Mrs. Ruth Ray Wright, a former Oklahoma woman, on Sunday.

The marriage was a quiet ceremony at the home of Mrs. Wright's pastor, the Rev. McClain Smith of the Lakewood Methodist Church in Dallas

It was the second marriage for Hunt, 68. His first wife died in May 1955 after a stroke. They had six children.

Mrs. Grace Ray of Idabel, Okla., told newsmen her daughter was about 36. She said she had known Hunt since meeting him about 15 years ago at Shreveport, La., where her daughter worked in a Hunt Oil Co. office.

Mrs. Ray said her daughter was previously married to an R. E. Wright in New York City. She said she did not know whether her daughter was divorced or widowed.

The bride is the mother of four children, the oldest a son about 15.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas E. Murray wraps up the problem the Eisenhower administration and Congress must face next year and later: What to do about atomic secrets?

Murray used to be up to his neck in those secrets. He was a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Now he's consultant to the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. Expressing his own views in a report to the committee last night he took this position:

The huge blanket of secrecy thrown over nuclear development was all right so long as this country monopolized the field. It doesn't now. Russia is abreast of us for all practical purposes. Now it's time to share secrets with allies.

Retain Some Secrets

But not all secrets, Murray said. Not, for instance, those on the huge atomic weapons of annihilation. Murray thinks this country could hold on to them at least four or five years and retain exclusive right to decide when or whether to use them.

But he believes it's time to exchange information with allies on smaller nuclear weapons that could be used in a limited war and even set up a common stockpile of such weapons.

And he proposes — in dealing with the free world — "complete freedom for the exchange of all scientific and technological information bearing on the use of nuclear energy for human welfare. . . ."

Why? For one thing, to increase Allied unity at a time when that's exactly that this country wans to do. For anoher, it would enable the free world to get the best use of all the brains it has. He puts it this way:

It means a "common body of scientific knowledge and technical skills . . . partnership of technical effort toward the common defense and the common progress that will eliminate useless duplication of effort, meaningless rivalries, and wastage of talent, money and energy. . . . It means a fresh impetus toward scientific progress of all kinds. . . ."

All Murray suggests would require that Congress make broad changes in the law covering atomic energy development. The question of whether to make such changes, and what kind, is exactly what Congress and the administration must face.

The President has been fairly free—in most areas of national defense—to decide what should or shouldn't be kept a secret. Not so in the nuclear field. The atomic energy law still pretty well covers the whole nuclear field in secrecy, although it has been amended a couple of times to release some information.

Murray suggests that the President be allowed, for th enational good, to do the deciding, free of the present law, on what nuclear development to keep under wraps.

Nixon Steps Gingerly Into Role As Substitute For Ike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon stepped gingerly into the role of a part-time substitute for ailing President Eisenhower today with clear notice Eisenhower will continue to call the signals on government policies.

A proposal by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) that Nixon take over for the stricken President at two scheduled briefings of congressional leaders next week seemed likely to get Eisenhower's approval. Nixon said the meetings will be held but added he did not know whether he would preside.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he thinks Nixon "should take over the leadership in routine matters for the President, carrying on the known general wishes and policy of the President."

Things Must Go On

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, indicated general agreement with this view.

"Things have to go on," he said. "The government can't stop."

But Sen. Carroll (D-Colo) commented that "it's one thing to carry out policy and another to make it."

Nixon scheduled further conferences with presidential staff members today at the White House—where he spent most of yesterday without seeing the ill President. He told newsmen when he emerged he might preside over Cabinet and National Security Council meetings.

But in response to what he called "a hypothetical question" about who in the government would make a decision on retaliation if Russia suddenly attacked Western Europe, the vice president replied: "Any decision requiring presidential action could be made by the President. Major problems that require presidential decision, where the President alone can act, will be put to the President."

Nixon thus made it clear that—while some thought had been given to the matter—he had no intention of attempting to assume any authority because of presidential disability.

The Constitution is silent on who determines when a President is disabled, when a vice president takes over and when the disability ends. No vice president has ever taken over the duties except after the death of a president.

Nixon publicly disclaimed any thought of taking over as acting president during Eisenhower's illness.

He sought to explain that during the time he spent at the White House he was acting only as a member of the Cabinet team that rallied around the chief executive.

He said he was not presiding but "participating in" conferences of top administration leaders who met during the day while the President lay in bed under doctors' care.

The vice president said he and Cabinet members had been informed no delegation of presidential authority was required at present.

Nixon said Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers made this decision "after noting what the President's condition was and what was required for signing papers."

FRIGIDAIRES ARE DISPLAYED AT DITZLER'S

Subtle refinement of Frigidaire's classic sheer look, plus a wide variety of conveniences and two new colors, highlight the company's 1958 electric ranges, refrigerators and food freezers, according to Ditzler's Furniture and Appliance Store of York Springs, Frigidaire dealer.

They announced that the new Frigidaire home appliances are now being shown.

New ranges with an amazing "spatter-free" broiler grill that eliminates most of the tiresome oven-cleaning chores for homemakers, and refrigerators with Frigidaire-pioneered "flowing cold" cooling system will highlight the 1958 product display.

New free-standing appliances are available in new turquoise and charcoal gray, pink and white, sunny yellow as well as fashionable Built-in appliances also come in these colors.

Ditzler's explained that "an aesthetic feminine touch has been given the popular sheer look which puts more emphasis on the slim, trim, uncluttered styling lines. A year ago, Frigidaire initiated the trend toward the built-in look in freestanding appliances with its rectangular styling. Since then this new concept has been enthusiastically accepted by the nation's homemakers, builders, kitchen planners and appliance industry designers.

"Nine new electric ranges, nine refrigerators and four food freezers are being introduced currently Ranges come in 30 and 40-inch sizes, with one and two ovens and with conventional and French doors. Refrigerators are available with single doors, two doors and freezers at the top and bottom of the cabinets. Capacities range from 8 to 14.4 cubic feet. Upright and chest-type food freezers with capacities from 12.5 to 17.5 cubic feet are included in the line."

NO PRESENT LIKE THE TIME for the lady in your Christmas, especially when it takes the form of a graceful, feminine watch like this one, enriched by two diamonds on each side.

OCTOBER FLU DEATHS HIT 734

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania death toll from pneumonia and influenza in October was more than triple previous years, the State Health Department reports.

The department said on Monday there were 734 deaths attributed to these two causes in October, compared with 221 in 1956, 223 in 1955, 164 in 1954, 170 in 1953 and 189 in 1952.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics said there were 549 deaths from pneumonia last month, "about twice" the normal list. There were 185 deaths attributed to influenza

No breakdown was available on the deaths in the previous years nor on how many of this year's deaths were attributed to Asian influenza which hit a peak in Pennsylvania last month.

By comparison, in October, 1918, when the "Spanish" influenza epidemic was at a peak, 36,244 Pennsylvanians died, the department said.

The five largest bridges in the United States are the Golden Gate, Mackinac Straits, George Washington, Tacoma Narrows and the San Francisco-Oakland Bridge.

CHARGES BIAS IN APPEAL FOR FRAUD RETRIAL

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG (AP)—Judge Homer L. Kreider Tuesday was accused of being "biased and prejudicial" toward the five men convicted in his Dauphin County courtroom last July of conspiring to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of 19½ million dollars.

The accusation was made by Earl V. Compton, Harrisburg attorney, in a written motion asking the verdict be set aside for a new trial awarded Charles W. Stickler Jr., of Reading, whose firm figured prominently in that trial and in that of eight other men convicted last Saturday on different charges.

The motion, along with those for the other four defendants, was scheduled for a hearing before four Dauphin County judges.

Charges Browbeating

Compton also said Judge Kreider permitted the prosecution to "browbeat" witnesses during the lengthy trial.

"The trial judge's attitude was biased and prejudicial to the defendants and the trial judge insulted and oppressed the defendants, defense counsel and their witnesses," Compton said.

GLAD-HAND HIM with a gift of wool knit gloves. These have leather palms for extra long wear.

Stickler is president of the Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., the Reading engineering firm which held a multimillion dollar contract for stabilizing a six-mile section of the right-of-way for the toll road's northeastern extension.

The commonwealth contended the contract was the instrument of an alleged conspiracy to fleece the commission of 19½ millions.

Convicted Of Conspiracy

Stickler, nephew of former Commission Chairman Thomas J. Evans, was convicted of conspiracy and false pretense. Evans, former commissioner James F. Torrance, Export; Clayton A. Landsidle, former general manager and vice president of Manu-Mine, and Paul J. McNeill, former chief finance officer for the commission, also were convicted of conspiracy in the July trial. Evans and Landsidle also were found guilty of false pretense and Torrance of misconduct in office.

Four others—two members of a Maryland engineering firm and two other former top level commission employes—were acquitted of the conspiracy charges.

Cites 21 Reasons

Compton filed 21 specific reasons in his motion which took 130 pages for elaboration

Attorneys for the other men said their arguments follow much of the same lines of those submitted by Compton but would be less detailed.

The eight men convicted last Saturday were charged with attempting to defraud the commission of a half million dollars by collecting for filling material never delivered to the Manu-Mine project. Four other men pleaded guilty in the same case and a 13th, granted a postponement because of illness, is yet to be tried.

WANT TO VOID COIN MACHINES

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Three Fayette County judges have taken under advisement the question of whether multiple coin pinball machines are illegal devices.

Judges W. Russell Carr, Eustace H. Bane and Edward Dumbauld heard final legal arguments on the question Monday.

Deputy State Atty. Gen. Frank P. Lawley asked the court to declare the machines illegal. "The player obtains no amusement and exercises no skill in inserting the coins," he said, and is gambling "even if the thing played for is free games."

Atty. Louis C. Glasso, a Pittsburgh lawyer representing machine owners, said the machines are "not gambling devices and are of no other purpose than the derivement of recreation and amusement."

The case specifically concerns 41 machines seized last June by state police in raids at Uniontown, Connellsville and Brownsville.

However the state has indicated it will move to seize all such machines in Pennsylvania if the court rules them illegal.

Rare Litter Of 7 Male Collie Pups

RIVERTON, Utah (AP)—A purebred collie named Sandy has given birth to a litter which dog lovers claim is as rare as quintuplets in human births: Seven puppies—all males.

Normally, say the experts, dog litters run predominantly to females. Sandy, age 2, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Stokes, Riverton.

Nov. 6 was the birth date. All are still alive and healthy.

Ever serve spaghetti with nothing but butter and grated Parmesan or Romano cheese? It's wonderfully good!

Learn Of Ike's Slight Stroke Only Because President Under Constant Medical Supervision

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The type of illness President Eisenhower has might go unrecognized by many persons not under constant medical supervision, doctors of the National Heart Institute said today.

All present evidence as announced in White House bulletins indicates, they said, that Eisenhower had a "little" stroke—as distinguished from a "big" one.

"A 'little' stroke," they said, "is of sufficiently mild and transitory nature that many persons having such an attack might not recognize it as an illness or would pass it off as a transient feeling of not feeling too well."

Impairs Nerves

A "stroke" — little or big — is an impairment of nerve function resulting from impairment of blood flow to particular areas of the brain. The severity of nerve impairment depends upon the location and size of the blood vessel involved — and the nerve centers it feeds.

The NHI doctors said that the signs and symptoms reported in White House medical bulletins last night are "commonly called a 'little' stroke when doctors describe such a condition to a layman."

Occlusion Blockage

Formal White House bulletins have not used the word "stroke."

Neurologists attending the President said last night Eisenhower suffered "an occlusion (blockage) of a small branch of a cerebral vessel which has produced a slight difficulty in speaking."

The NHI doctors said that a "stroke" — little or big — could directly result from the following mechanisms:

1. Thrombosis — that is, clot formation in an artery of the brain.

2. Embolism — Blocking of a brain blood vessel by a clot floating in the blood stream and originating from another part of the body.

3. Spasm — A tightening or closing down of the walls of an artery in the brain.

4. Hemorrhage due to rupture of a brain blood vessel.

5. Compression on a brain blood vessel due to a tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot inside a blood vessel that presses against a nearby vessel.

Declaring that people affected by "little" strokes almost invariable recover from that particular stroke, they added that even in the case of "big" strokes, the outlook "is not necessarily as disastrous as it may first appear."

Cite "Big" Stroke

They said a "big" stroke is the type in which there may be partial or complete paralysis of one side of the body.

In contrast, in a "little" stroke, there is no paralysis, although a particular function of the body or of the thinking process may be temporarily impaired.

In President Eisenhower's case, they said, the blood vessel affected is one controlling a "thinking" part of the speech process.

MITCHELL ASKS NATION TO HELP AID FREE WORLD

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking for ailing President Eisenhower, urged the nation last night to accept the "austerity and privations" required to give military and economic aid to other countries of the free world.

Mitchell digressed from a prepared speech of his own to deliver the gist of the "chins up" talk that Eisenhower had planned to broadcast last night from Cleveland.

The main topic of the Cleveland talk, canceled because of the President's illness, was the importance of international cooperation in halting Soviet imperialism.

Will Pay Dividend

Mitchell, whose speech before a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemists Assn. was not aired, said the administration believes "no investment we can make pays greater dividends than reasonable economic aid to friendly nations."

Mitchell listed three specific points that the President had intended to make in the Cleveland speech. They were

1. The Eisenhower administration believes the people of the United States owe full support to the mutual security program in both its military and economic phases.

2. Eisenhower will recommend to Congress in January that the expiring Trade Agreements Act be broadened and be extended for a period longer than the present three-year term. The proposal would provide for broader authority for the negotiation of reciprocal trade pacts.

3. A call for United States participation in the Organization for Trade Corporation. Mitchell described the agency as "a business-like unit" to guarantee maximum benefits from the negotiation of trade agreements.

Mitchell was given a copy of the Eisenhower draft text, and he made notes on it before boarding a plane for New York.

MEDIATION IS MENTIONED IN ALGERIAN FUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. diplomats tackle the festering Algerian situation today amid new talk of meditation between France and its North African rebels.

The heated question was before the U. N. Assembly Political Committee for renewed debate.

Arab delegates expressed hope that the United States and Britain would support mediation of the three-year-old rebellion. The delegates attached considerable importance to current talks in Washington of King Mohammed V of Morocco.

The King and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia offered their good offices last week for negotiations in which France would accept Algerian sovereignty as a starting point. The French, who contend Algeria is part of metropolitan France, rejected the offer.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said Morocco and Tunisia are not neutral in the struggle of their Arab neighbors. Pineau was scheduled to present the French position in the 82-nation committee's debate.

The New York Times said Pineau had told Latin-American, British Commonwealth and Western European delegates that France would be willing to admit up to 10,000 observers for proposed Algerian elections.

The French are insisting the observers come from nations with free elections, the Times said, thus barring Communist and some Arab nations.

Arab leaders reportedly want to see a North African federation formed to include Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia.

Moroccan and Tunisian delegates, who were to present Algeria's position, were reported working on a resolution calling for a cease-fire. It also would invite Algeria and France to enter negotiations aimed at self-determination for the French North African province.

France has in the past refused to recognize U. N. recommendations on Algeria, claiming the rebellion is an internal matter over which the international organization has no jurisdiction.

Let's hope—but let's face facts!

Let's hope that when your bright young son reaches 18 he'll be admitted to the college of his choice.

But let's face the fact that there may be no room for him—in any college.

Applications alone will double by 1967. Colleges simply will not be able to accept additional thousands of capable youngsters . . . unless something is done, quickly and decisively, to remedy this situation.

Help the college of your choice now!

JUDGE GRANTED $1,133 MONTHLY STATE PENSION

HARRISBURG (AP) — A lifetime pension of $1,133.33 a month for retired Chester County Judge W. Butler Windle was approved yesterday by the State Employes Retirement Board.

The pension is retroactive to Oct. 1 for the 71-year-old former jurist who served 30 years on the bench.

Robert A. Haney, former comptroller and assistant secretary-treasurer of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, was granted a monthly pension of $225, retroactive to May 1, 1956.

Valentine M. Bearer, a district forester in Westmoreland County with 43 years of service, was placed on the retirement list with a pension of $328 monthly.

Nine Teachers Pensioned

Nine members of the staff of the Pennsylvania State University were granted pensions under a new law permitting them to switch to the State Employes Retirement System if they had prior state service before joining the Penn State staff.

Those pensioned and the amount monthly: John R. Bracken, 33 years service, $352; Stanley J. Cobb, 38 years, $137; D. S. Cryder, 37 years, $411; W. R. Gordon, 34 years, $361; William F. Hall, 36 years, $446; Samuel K. Hostetter, 49 years, $859; Robert S. Kirby, 33 years, $363; Mason Long, 37 years, $34; Thomas P. Ziegler, 38 years, $373.

MAMIE STANDS BY IKE FOR 3RD TIME 16 MONTHS

WASHINGTON (AP) —For the third time in 26 months, Mrs Dwight D. Eisenhower is watching over a sick husband.

Vice President Nixon described as "courageous" her action Monday night in attending a state dinner for King Mohammed V of Morocco, after President Eisenhower had suffered a mild stroke.

"I sat by her and I know under what stress she was," Nixon said.

But last night, Mrs. Eisenhower joined the ailing President in dining from trays and watching television for a couple of hours in their White House living quarters.

Called Courageous

In advance of the Monday night dinner, the White House had announced only that Eisenhower had suffered "a chill." But it was disclosed yesterday that tentative diagnosis already had been made of a blockage of a small brain artery—commonly called a little stroke.

Nixon, who escorted the First Lady to the dinner, commented: "I might say that Mrs. Eisenhower's performance last (Monday) night, . . . Knowing what she knew, was as courageous as I have ever seen by anyone. It was perhaps the most difficult time she has ever had."

Stayed With Ike

No state functions interfered during Eisenhower's previous illnesses—a heart attack in Denver in September 1955 and an ileitis operation in June 1956. In each case, Mrs. Eisenhower took a room in the hospital to be near the President, and remained with him through convalescence.

She herself underwent an operation last August, remaining in Walter Reed Army Hospital here for 25 days.

How closely she will stay with the President in the White House apparently depends on how rapidly he recovers. Some scheduled events already have been canceled or postponed. The White House said there is no immediate information on what others may be changed.

North and South Dakota were divided into two states in 1887.

Four NATO Nations Favor Summit Session With Nixon

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP) — The United States is willing to go ahead with next month's NATO summit conference with Vice President Nixon sitting in for ailing President Eisenhower, a spokesman for the U.S. NATO delegation said today.

Whether the conference will be held on that basis is up to the other 14 nations in the alliance. First reported reaction was that they would agree.

Informed sources in London said the British government feels the conference should go on as scheduled with Nixon as the top U.S. representative. They said the British view was that the meeting still should be held at the heads of government level and that there should be no postponement.

3 Others Agree

Similar reactions were expressed by France, Italy and the Netherlands.

The U.S. spokesman said the American offer will be communicated to other NATO nations tomorrow at the regular NATO Council session here.

He said those instructions were relayed to Frederic Nolting, deputy U.S. representative for NATO. Nolting will be substituting at tomorrow's meeting for the permanent U.S. delegate, W. Randolph Burgess, who now is in Washington.

It was not disclosed who in Washington issued the instructions to Nolting. Presumably they came from Secretary of State Dulles and Nixon himself, with Eisenhower's approval.

Spokesman in some Western European capitals had expressed dismay at the prospect of meeting without Eisenhower.

Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, NATO secretary general, was reported polling NATO members.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Herbert Glenn, health director of the Pennsylvania State University, reported today that some 5,000 students were treated in the last month for some type of influenza and that possibly 2,000 suffered from Asian flu. There are 15,000 students at Penn State.

LADIES' NIGHT OBSERVED BY ROTARY CLUB

Over 75 persons were present when the Littlestown Rotatry Club observed Ladies' Night with a program and dinner Tuesday evening in the social hall of Redeemer's United Church of Christ. A turkey dinner was served by the women of the church. The invocation was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer. Miss Donna Rabenstine provided dinner music on the piano.

Philip Dean, past district governor, spoke to the Rotarians and their Rotary Arms about his trip to Australlia. The speaker was introduced by Arthur E. Bair, acting chairman of the program committee. Selections were sung by the Gettysburg Lions Club quartet. Visitors in attendance were Paul Kippel and James Clower, of the Westminster Rotary Club; Raymond Seltzer, Gettysburg Rotarian, and Larry Hawk, Littlestown High School senior and "Rotary Boy-of-theMonth."

The Classification and Membership Committee, composed of Clyde W. Crouse, chairman, Luther W. Ritter, Edward H. Leister, Dr. Howard A. Stonesifer, Cloy I. Crouse and Paul R. Snyder, will be in charge of the program at the next regular meeting on Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel.

VFW Meets

Holiday activities were planned at the semi monthly meeting of Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Fareign Wars, held on Tuesday night at the post home on W. King St. The annual eggnog party for members will take place on Christmas morning, 9 to 11 a.m., at the post home. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Earl J. Weaver, Bernard Kuhns, Malcolm Harner and Elmer W. Gall.

The annual New ear's Eve Dance will be held by the post at Bankert's Recreation Center, N. Queen St. The hours for the affair have been changed from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. General arrangements are being made by Earl Weaver, Robert L. Snyder and Bernard Kuhns

Commander Malcolm Harner presided at the sesion and heard a report from John H. Riley, adjutant. A donation was voted for Adams County Christmas seals. Two new members were enrolled: Bernard W. Little and Fred B. Harner. The post will meet again on Tuesday, December 10, at 8 p.m., but not on December 24, Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Helen Garner, hospital chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, has announced that she has received word from the adminstration of Mont Alto Hospital, informing her that all visits there have been banned, due to the present illness among the patients. The auxiliary visit planned for December 8 has therefore been cancelled.

MYF Meets

"Thanksgiving" was the theme of the devotions conducted in charge of Carl Roberts at the meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Centenary Church held on Sunday evening in the parsonage social room. The devotional consisted of the group hymn, "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come"; Scripture reading, Joan Barton; Thanksgiving prayer in unison.

Joyce Knight, vice president, presided for the business. Plans were made to have a sale of homemade candies and cookies on Saturday, December 7, starting at 1 p.m., door-to-door in the community. It was decided to make inquiries concerning the cost of purchasing a piano for the Children's Department of the Sunday School. Preliminary arrangements were made to hold a Christmas party in connection with the meeting on Sunday, Dec. 22. Members of the Junior Choir will have rehearsal to sing at the Christmas program next Sunday, Dec. 1, at 6:30 p.m. The next regular meeting of the MYF will take place on Sunday, Dec. 8, 6:30 p.m.

The annual three-day Thanksgiving bazaar and public suppers held by St. Aloysius Catholic Church will start on Thursday and conclude on Saturday night. Roast turkey suppers will be served to the public, family style, on Thanksgiving Day, starting at 12:30 p.m. The bazaar will continue that evening and will include a fancy work table, parcel post sale, fish pond, pie and cake table. Sea food suppers will be served on Friday; baked ham suppers on Saturday from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Public parties will be held on Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

Hayride Friday

Members of the Luther League of St. John's Church and their guests will enjoy a hayride on Friday evening, leaving at 7 o'clock from the church. The group will then return there for refreshments. In case of inclement weather, the event will be cancelled.

A public party will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226 at 8 o'clock on Friday evening at the FOE Home, W. King St.

A high mass of Thanksgiving will be celebrated in St. Aloysius Church on Thursday by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

MORE APPEALS HEARD TO FREE 5 FOR CHEATING

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dauphin County Court heard more arguments today against last July's conviction of five men on charges of conspiring to fleece the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of 19½ million dollars.

Three attorneys awaited their turns to present oral argument on why they felt their clients should be granted new trials or their convictions reversed.

Atty. Earl V. Compton told the court yesterday that his client—Charles W. Stickler Jr.—was convicted on "conjecture evidence."

Stickler was one of five men convicted of conspiracy in the eight-week trial last June and July. He is president of Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., Reading.

Had Huge Contract

The Reading firm held a multi-million dollar contract for filling mine voids beneath a six-mile section of the toll road Northeastern Extension.

The commonwealth contended most of the work by Manu-Mine was "made work" and that the commission paid more than 5 millions for "unnecessary work."

Others convicted on conspiracy charges were:

Former Commission Chairman Thomas J. Evans; former Commissioner James F. Torrance; Clayton A. Landsidle, former Manu-Mine vice president and general manager; and Paul J. McNeill, former commission chief finance officer.

Evans and Torrance also were convicted of misconduct in office and Landsidle and Stickler were found guilty of false pretenses.

Four other men were acquitted on charges of conspiracy.

Macaroni And Cheese Casseroles

Ingredients: 1 package (8 ounces) elbow macaroni, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 cup milk, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (¼ pound), 2 tomatoes (skinned and halved with stem ends removed).

Method: Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain. Meanwhile melt butter in medium-sized saucepan over moderately low heat; add onion. Stir in flour, salt, pepper, mustard and paprika. Add milk and mushrooms (including liquid in pan) all at once; cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Add ¾ cup of the cheese and stir over very low heat until melted. Mix sauce and hot drained marcaroni well; turn into 4 individual casseroles — each holding 2 cups. Press a half tomato into the center of each dish; sprinkle tomatoes with remaining ¼ cup cheese. Broil slowly until tomato is hot through and top of macaroni is lightly browned. Make 4 large servings.

Angelfood Cake With Special Frosting

Ingredients: 1 package (17 ounces) lemon-custard flavor angelfood mix, ¼ pound (½ cup) butter, 1¾ cup sifted confectioners' sugar (10 X), 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 4 teaspoons (about) orange juice, toasted slivered or chopped almonds.

Method: Bake cake according to package directions in 10 by 4 inch tube pan; cool and turn out as directed. Beat butter until creamy; gradually beat in sifted confectioners' sugar, then unbeaten egg yolk, grated orange rind and orange juice. Add a little more orange juice if necessary to make good spreading consistency. Frost top and sides of angelfood; refrigerate until serving time. Sprinkle frosting with almonds.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER
Skillet Shrimp Crusty Bread
Tossed Salad with Olives
Fruit and Cheese Beverage

Skillet Shrimp

Ingredients: 1 pound medium-sized or large shrimp, 2 cups water, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon peppercorns, ¼ teaspoon whole allspice, leafy tops of 1 or 2 ribs of celery, 1 small carrot (sliced), 1 bay leaf, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 clove garlic (crushed).

Method: Wash shrimp in cold water; drain. Put water in a medium-sized saucepan with salt, peppercorns, allspice, celery tops, sliced carrot and bay leaf; bring slowly to a boil. Add shrimp; bring to simmering, cover and simmer (do not boil) 3 to 5 minutes, depending on size of shrimp. Shrimp flesh will be opaque when cooked through. Allow shrimp to stand in liquid until cool. Drain, shell, devein and slice in half lengthwise. Heat butter and crushed garlic in 10-inch skillet until butter melts and is very hot. Add shrimp and toss over moderate heat a few minutes or until hot through. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD—Cub Scout Pack 76 of Fairfield celebrated its first anniversary as a chartered organization at a meeting held in Wesley Chapel hall, Fountaindale, last Thursday evening. The meeting opened with a pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Cubs Philip Smith, Ronald Schultz and Alistair Heinly.

Cubmaster Paul Crist presented a review of the Pack's activities during the past year and urged greater parent interest in Pack meetings and co-operation with Scouting activies. He stressed that very little of the parents' time is required to attend the meetings but the time is well spent in the interest shown in furthering Scouting.

Assistant Cubmaster Kermit Spence made the following awards: Wolf badge, Jay Myers and Ronald Myers; Bear badge, Floyd Brown, Robert Sanders, Gregory Wortz and Alistair Heinly; Lion badge, Ronnie Schultz; Bobcat badge, Andre Duval; Gold Arrows, Gary Spence, Alistair Heinly and Carroll Martin; Silver Arrow, Ronald Miller.

Mrs. Merle Kittinger was presented a gift for winning the contest held during the "Homesteading" program.

Scout Commissioner P. Swinn was present and complimented the Pack on the year's program and offered his cooperation for the continuing prosperity. Mr. Swinn, assisted by Raymond Miller, held uniform inspection of the Dens with Den 5 winning the honors for this month.

Announcements were made by Kermit Spence. The meeting closed with the singing of Christmas carols, led by Mrs. Francis Schultz, and the benediction by Committeeman David A. Heinly.

Miss Grace Herring and Miss Effie Herring, Philadelphia, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schearer have returned to their home in Madison, N. J., after spending the weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Filsinger.

Mrs. S. L. Allison and Miss Ethel Grace Allison spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCullough, Falls Church, Va.

Robert Davis, a student at the Indiana College of Technology, is spending the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Mrs. Robert Fitez, president of the NCCW of St. Mary's Church, presided at the meeting held in the church social rooms Monday evening. The annual clothing drive for overseas relief is being conducted and persons are asked to leave clothing at the rectory this weekend. The clothing will be packed for shipment next Thursday evening and members are asked to be present to help. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, December 16.

DENT MAY RUN FOR CONGRESS; LEADER'S FOE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The announced willingness of Sen. John H. Dent to run for Congress from Westmoreland County may deal him out of consideration for a statewide office on the Democratic ticket next year.

Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader, said yesterday he was willing to seek the Democratic nomination to succeed Rep. Augustine Kelley, Greensburg, who died last week.

Dent has been at odds with Gov Leader since the 1957 Legislature.

The Jeannette lawmaker has favored Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. There has been some political speculation at the capitol on the possibility that Dent might be Furman's running-mate for lieutenant-governor or secretary of internal affairs in 1959. Rep. H G. Andrews, former House speaker, suggested Dent for the latter post.

Dent also has been discussed as a possible Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator next year, a post most party leaders think Leader is seeking although he has yet to make a definite statement.

The governor, now on a Florida vacation, is expected to issue a writ Friday or Saturday fixxing the special congressional election for Jan. 21 on the recommendation of Democratic leaders.

Leader has put off issuing the writ to give the Democratic state executive committee time to meet in Harrisburg Dec. 9 to choose the party's candidate. Under the law, each party must choose its candidate within 10 days after the writ is issued.

The Westmoreland County Republican committee, under party rules, will recommend the GOP candidate.

Rep. Kelley, a Democrat, died last week after serving in Congress from Democratic Westmoreland County since 1941.

Freezing Weather Hits New England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing temperatures gripped the New England states area early today and the whole of the Eastern Coast, down to northern Florida, remained chilly.

Another cool air mass brought temperatures tumbling in the Northwest. The cool front extended to Montana and Wyoming.

The cold weather along the Eastern Seaboard produced numbing temperatures in New England with a low of 1 above zero at Burlington, Vt., and 5 above at Lebanon, N. H. Temperatures along the seaboard from New England to northern Florida, were at the 40-degree mark.

England And France End Talks On Tunisia Affair

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP) — British Prime Minister Macmillan and French Premier Felix Gaillard ended their two days of talks Tuesday but apparently did not succeed in smoothing over completely the basic differences that brought them together.

The two leaders were anxious to remove a thorn in the NATO Alliance — the British-American supply of small arms to Tunisia which the French fear will wind up in the hands of Algerian rebels.

A communique said the two premiers agreed "that responsibility for a solution of the Algerian question lies with France."

But a spokesman said this did not mean Britain would not deliver any more arms to Tunisia

Discharge Responsibilities

The communique by recording the premiers' conviction that "France should continue to discharge her special responsibilities in North Africa where she has traditionally a leading position" was placating to this country.

A spokesman added that no special new machinery had been set up for consultation.

The communique announced that the two ministers also agreed there should be a more precise definition of interdependence and solidarity among the NATO allies "in accordance with the spirit of equality" at the NATO summit meeting here in mid-December.

This was a reference to French fears that plans for pooling resources and knowledge to meet the threat of Soviet missiles and satellites and give to Britain and the United States predominance in nuclear power and assign inferior roles to the other members.

"Made Great Progress"

Standing with Gaillard in the Hotel Matignon, where the talks ended, he told newsmen: "I think we have made great progress. But of course there are a number of problems for the future."

At the top of the list of touchy topics they discussed was the recent shipment of British and U.S. arms to Tunisia over angry French protests. The protests exploded yesterday in demonstrations near the U.S. Embassy by about 300 youths. Police broke up the group without trouble.

Eye Old Rebellion

French anger at the arms shipments — because they fear the guns will be used by Algerian rebels — again turned attention to the three-year-old rebellion in North Africa.

Public sentiment in France would hardly be satisfied with anything short of complete backing for the country's position in North Africa. Complete backing is something that Britain and the United States have not been willing to extend to changing French governments in the face of Arab demands for independence.

French sources indicated that advisers of the two national leaders were weighing Britain's refusal to give Gaillard a pledge on future arms ships.

French informants also said the British reiterated that they had no intention of forming an "atomic aristocracy" with the United States to dominate NATO. France is not an atomic power.

France's Defense Ministry announced, however, that France is now among the world's missile owners. It disclosed two experimental missiles had been successfully fired from the Algerian Sahara Desert to heights of 160 miles at speeds of 3,300 miles an hour.

MURRAY FAVORS SHARING SMALL NUCLEAR PIECES

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former atomic energy commissioner advocates sharing smaller nuclear weapons, and information about them, with U.S. allies. But he favors excluding H-bombs and the bigger A-bombs from any such arrangement.

Thomas E. Murray yesterday lined up to some degree with President Eisenhower, who has suggested revising the law which now bans giving any foreign nation information on design or fabrication of nuclear weapons. Eisenhower has not yet gone into detail on changes he may have in mind.

Murray, now a consultant to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, often differed with the Eisenhower administration on policy matters when he was in AEC.

Criticize Secrecy

In a report of his own views made to the committee, Murray criticized the secrecy aspects of the nation's atomic energy law, saying that "secrecy cannot halt Soviet progress."

He urged new legislation based on a principle of "unity of the free world in nuclear affairs." He said such legislation should foster exchanges of nuclear information and some weapons, and "an integrated international program of nuclear research and development."

Some members of Congress have indicated they have reservations about any dropping of secrecy restrictions in the atomic law. There have been suggestions that the security systems of some Allied nations may not be airtight, and thus might permit some of the U.S. information to fall into Communist hands.

Waits For Conference

In Chapel Hill, N.C., Rep. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Atomic Energy Committee, said he agrees with most of Murray's conclusions. But he said he does not expect to make up his mind about specific legislative proposals until after congressional leaders meet with Eisenhower next Tuesday—and maybe not until after his committee has conducted its annual review of the atomic program early next year.

Murray proposed abolition of a special category of "restricted" nuclear data. Instead, he said, the President should be given the same authority in the nuclear field to maintain or modify secrecy restrictions.

He said that for a preliminary period of perhaps three to five years sharing of information about nuclear weapons should be limited to small devices, excluding H-bombs or atomic weapons rated at 15 kilotons or more.

And in suggesting a "common nuclear stockpile for the defense of the free world," he said such a stockpile should be limited to small weapons. He said the United States should retain custody over the larger devices and keep "exclusive right of decision with regard to the circumstances of their actual use."

PHBA ELECTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Joseph Singer of Philadelphia was elected president of the Pennsylvania Home Builders Assn. at its convention session here yesterday.

Tune In WGET, 1450 On Your Dial

U. S. WILLING TO GO AHEAD WITH NATO MEETING WITHOUT IKE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the United States is ready to go ahead with next month's NATO summit conference without President Eisenhower's participation if the other Allied governments decide that is the best thing to do.

The President's sudden illness dealt a blow, however, to the plan for a dramatic demonstration of Allied unity at this time in the face of Russia's growing scientific and military prowess.

The project for gathering heads of government for a conference in Paris Dec. 16-18 had been built largely around Eisenhower's personality and leadership.

Was To Take Lead

With his prestige, he was to take the lead in proposals for modernizing Allied military systems with missiles and atomic stockpiles and for a greater pooling of scientific resources.

If the Allied governments want to go ahead with a summit session, it was understood that Vice President Nixon would be designated to substitute for Eisenhower.

Should they prefer to postpone the conference, it may be reset for next spring in the expectation that the President would then be able to attend. Meanwhile, the ministers for foreign affairs, defense and finance of the 15 NATO countries would meet as they ordinarily do in December to set in motion the plans for greater Allied unity.

Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary general of NATO, said in London the entire matter will be considered at a meeting of the NATO Permanent Council in Paris tomorrow. Other sources said there may be no decision until after that meeting.

Benjamin Fairless, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, began life as the son of a miner in Pennsylvania.

REDS TOLD NOT TO BUCK PARTY

MOSCOW (AP)—A month after Russia's top military officer was sacked for resisting Communist party controls, Nikita S. Khrushchev warned the nation's lowliest new officers not to buck the party.

The Communist party boss spoke at a reception Monday night for the graduating class of Moscow's military academies, reviving a custom that lapsed with Stalin's death in 1953.

Like Stalin, Khrushchev used the ceremony to remind the young officers that the party is supreme in Russia. He also called upon them to increase vigilance against "the threat of war whipped up by imperialists."

Khrushchev said Marshal Georgi Zhukov was ousted as defense minister Oct. 26 for opposing political control of the army. The decision of the Central Committee (to expel Zhukov) aimed at a fundamental improvement of party political work in the armed forces," Khrushchev said.

The party boss declared the party is "leader, organizer, educator and main source of power" of the Soviet armed forces.

EXPECTS MANY NEW GROCERY ITEMS BY '67

By MRS. HELEN B. TUNISON
Adams County
Extension Home Economist

If grocery manufacturers continue their present pace of producing new products, in 10 years more than 50 per cent of grocery product sales could come from items which do not exist today.

Mrs. Helen D. Tunison, extension home economist, Adams County, points out in the past 15 years use of processed food has skyrocketed. Baby foods are up 1,500 per cent; frozen vegetables, 1,275 per cent; frozen fruits and fruit juices, 850 per cent; canned meat, 200 per cent, and nonfat dry milk 110 percent.

Use of baking mixes, dehydrated foods, soluble coffee, and frozen concentrated fruit juices is up sharply from 1950, when these products were little known or nonexistent.

Biggest gains have been made in proteins, vitamins, and minerals. This is where improvement was needed. During the last 15 years, the per capita use of protein is up 7 per cent; calcium up 12 per cent, iron up 1 per cent, and the B vitamins — riboflavin, niacin, and thiamine — up 24 to 30 per cent. These health-protecting nutrients are eaten in larger quantities now, but calorie consumption has not increased. The calories eaten, therefore, are richer in essential proteins, vitamins, and minerals. And today's tremendous choice of foods makes it easier for the homemaker to provide a variety of well-balanced meals.

Pheasant Feathers Fashion News

The rich colors of golden pheasant feathers decorate hats, handbags, and garments today.

If the hunter in your family bagged a pheasant, use the feathers as decorative trim. Feathers may be plucked from the bird, and dried and cemented to hat bands which are made of fabric to fit the hat. Quills and smaller feathers of young birds may have a semifluid substance adhering to the quill. These ends must be cleaned carefully with non-flammable dry cleaning fluid or cigarette lighter fluid.

Moisten a clean soft cloth with fluid, clean feather quill ends, and place on a rack or clean paper to dry thoroughly. Drying takes several days. Ends may also be dipped in powdered borax to disinfect them and prevent spoilage.

Individual feathers may be hand stitched to form a pattern on gauze or colored background fabrics. Rubber cement or airplane cement may also be used to hold feathers in place. Overlap feathers as they appear on the birds skin.

PROGRAM AIDES

NEW YORK (AP) — A new program operations department has been set up by the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of Churches to supervise current programs and make long-range plans for future ones. Commission Director S. Franklin Mack said the department "will make for greater flexibility and a streamlined approach to the radio, television and film media."

SUNDAY SCHOOL ABROAD

NASHVILLE (AP) — A report to a Methodist conference on Christian education says that several foreign countries whose churches formerly didn't conduct adult Sunday schools now are following the American style — and having classes for Mom and Dad as well as the youngsters.

ALLIGATOR AT FAULT

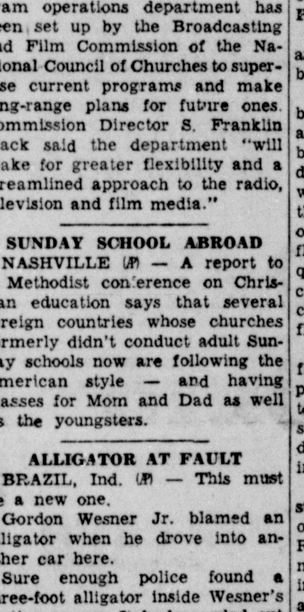
BRAZIL, Ind. (AP) — This must be a new one.

Gordon Wesner Jr. blamed an alligator when he drove into another car here.

Sure enough police found a three-foot alligator inside Wesner's station wagon. It had crawled out of a box.

Wesner was taking it to a biology class at DePauw University, where he is a student teacher.

Today's Pattern



by Anne Adams

Fun to sew, and easy, too! All little girls — no matter what the age — will delight in making this doll wardrobe. Printed Pattern includes bolero, skirt, sash, cap, panties, petticoat.

DOGGED DODGE

HONOLULU (AP) — Lucien G. Dodge was charged with violating the right of way in a minor traffic accident. He refused to forfeit his $25 bond, announced he would fight the charge, and subpoenaed a list of defense witnesses including the chief of police and much of the rest of the force.

Dodge lost the case. He was fined $25. He said he was thinking of appealing to the Supreme Court.

SLICED WHALE

YARMOUTH, N. S. (AP) — The motor vessel Bluenose was on time on her run from Bar Harbor, Maine, despite the "bump" near the Lurcher Lightship. A large whale trying to surface in the ship's path was sliced up by the propellers.

DOUBLE HEADER CALLED

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — James C. Dowd had the distinction of being summoned to court both as a defendant and a juror, but his services were declined because the case was disposed of without a jury and his own case was postponed.

What happens when she's 18?

College? You hope so.

But there's something that could deny her the chance to go to college, regardless of her capability.

The number of students trying to enroll is due to double by 1967, and classes are overcrowded right now.

You can help remedy this by supporting the college of your choice now!

To know the present crisis affecting you and your children, write for "The Closing College Door," Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, N.Y.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

CHARGED WITH ASKING PLEAS OF 5TH AMENDMENT

READING, Pa. (AP)—Alex Fudeman today faced a new charge of trying to persuade witnesses to plead the 5th Amendment at his hearing on conspiracy and extortion charges.

Fudeman, one of four men arrested in a state police vice investigation, was accused on the new count yesterday by Deputy Atty. Gen. Victor Wright and was ordered held for March grand jury action by Judge Warren K. Hess of Berks County. Bail was doubled to $6,000.

George A. Reifsnyder, operator of an amusement place, testified Fudeman had asked him before the hearing be an Nov. 15 to tell the Berks County Amusement Operators Assn. "we would all be better off to take the fifth amendment or we would be arrested."

$50,000 Protection

The hearing, held for Fudeman and three others accused of collecting $50,000 in protection from the operators, was continued to next Wednesday, after the state ended its presentation. The others are Abraham Minker, John A. Wittig, and Fudeman's brother, Louis.

Eight operators and two of their employers testified they paid protection and said Fudeman had told them to write it off their income taxes as public relations expenses.

Hess ordered Fudeman bound over for grand jury action on a charge of "attempting to dissuade, hinder or prevent witnesses from attending and testifying before this court."

Reifsnyder was one of three operators who testified on the new accusation.

Michael S. Carpin said he had been approached by Fudeman after the Nov 15 hearing. Ralph Blankenbiller said "I haven't been approached."

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Directors of Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. yesterday named Jack K. Busby president to succeed Charles E. Oakes and named Oakes chairman of the board.

Oakes, president of the firm since 1945, reached the company retirement age of 65 recently. He has been with the company 35 years.

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—Head-on collison between an automobile and a tractor-trailer last night killed Edward Stevens, about 60, of 25 Grant St., Wellsboro, Pa. The accident occurred on Route 15 south of here.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Dist. Atty. George M. Hess today gave news dealers until Nov. 30 to get obscene magazines off their stands or face prosecution.

At a conference between Hess and a group of dealers they agreed upon 14 publications that would be banned.

CHRISTMAS 1957

Provide Holiday Focus For Family With New Appliances

Fun for everyone. That's what a White Christmas will mean in your house this year.

Gleaming new major appliances do more than just perform practical functions around your house to free Mom from her workday chores. They also provide a welcome springboard for joyous pastimes for the whole family.

For one thing, they can lead Dad to new hobbies and interests. Believe it or not, most men like to putter around the kitchen. Why not let him? Now, what with the easy-does-it features on modern ranges, he can cook and bake to his heart's content.

He may start bragging that he's as good a cook as you are, but let him believe it. Actually, he can't help but turn out delicious dishes with the help of the newest temperature guides, timers, theromostats, automatic controls and all the other functional features found on today's kitchen ranges—whether they are built-in or free standing.

They can make a good cook into a master chef in no more time than it ttakes to have a new range installed.

Fun With Safety

Even the children can have fun in the kitchen and be as safe as if they were in their own playrooms. Electronic ovens, for example, provide cooking safety never before known. The inside of the oven never gets hot, and as soon as the door of the oven is opened, all the power is automatically turned off.

Now the kids can help mommy prepare the Christmas dinner—or any other meal. For while she is stuffing the turkey, the little lady of the house can be baking her own special cake in the electronic oven. Cooking this fast, modern way, that cake will be done by the time the bird is ready for roasting.

The children can also begin to learn the art of cooking at an earlier age, because they don't have to be watched when they are using an electronic oven. And letting them do such "grown up" activities all alone, will make it a lot easier to call on them when mother needs some help around the house.

The youngsters will also delight as seeing their fuzzy toys "take a bath" in your new washing machine. They'll just thrill as the little pink elephants and brown doggies go tumbling across the window as they are being dried.

Laundry equipment takes care of cloth story books, too.

New Dimension

A new dimension can be added to your gift giving this Christmas that will be a lot of fun for the whole family. Everyone can get together one evening about a week before Christmas and "cook up" a few gifts. This is meant literally, because your range and freezer can be used to help prepare a few gifts for some friends who may drop in unannounced.

No pushing through large department store crowds for these gifts, either. The only crowded place will be the oven and the top of your range as you bake delicious pies, cakes, candies, and other delicacies. You will have a lot of fun just deciding what flavor pie to bake in case Aunt Minnie drops in for a Yule visit; or whether to put a peach or pineapple filling in the cake.

Of course, the whole family can work together at helping Mom prepare these practical giftts.

Then there's no better place to hide your gifts than the freezer—and not because there's no room left in the closets, but because the freezer will keep your gift foot items as fresh as the day you baked them.

For Joyous Yule

These frozen gifts can be given the same wrapping treatment with pretty papers and fancy ribbons as the hankies and perfumes. Just make sure that the item is properly freezer-rapped before you dress it up with the holiday wrapping.

And if Aunt Minnie doesn't come, you will be able to take out the pie a few weeks after Christmas and serve it at the family dinner. Delicious as ever.

Since Christmas comes but once a year, make certain that you insure a joyous one by making it a White Christmas.

Latest Freezers Aid To Hostesses

Too often a Christmas party is fun for everybody except the hostess. With a freezer however, the hostess can have more fun than anybody. Because, in addition to enjoying the party, she has the knowledge that she's achieved a social success with a minimum of effort.

To eliminate most of the fuss involved in getting ready for the affair, plan the party menu, prepare the delicacies in advance and freeze them. On the day of the big event all that's need is to remove the party food from the freezer, ready for serving.

All kinds of foods can be frozen — cakes, nut breads, fruits, sandwich spreads, canapes and pies, or even a steak or Cornish game hen. Many kinds of containers, packages and wrapping material have appeared on the market to keep party delicacies fresh and good tasting. A container that's moisture and vapor proof is a must.

The combination of quality food, some advance planning, and a modern freezer guarantees a merry Christmas for everyone, particularly the housewife.

The logical place to install a dishwasher is next to the sink, since water connections are already there.

SURPRISE, MOMMY, SURPRISE: It sure is a surprise when Mommy comes into the kitchen to find her new automatic washer and dryer. And there will be many more surprises when she starts to use her new appliances. There is no garment, whether it's made of the usual natural fibers or the new synthetic materials, that can't be washed and dried in today's automatic washer and dryer.

New Appliances Need Soap, Water

"Nice thing about modern steel appliances," says Penny Edwards, home service director of the Porcelain Enamel Institute, is that you do not have to:

- . . . wax or buff to maintain a lusturous finish.
- . . . scour to remove fruit and vegetable stains.
- . . . worry about cigarette burns or ashes.
- . . . refinish or touch up fading colors.
- . . . worry about turning yellow or becoming discolored with daily use.
- . . . scrub or remove grease and oil.
- . . . disinfect to keep sanitary, pure and odor-free.
- . . . worry about surface cracking, checking or peeling.

"Soap and water will not only do the trick, but will serve as a protective insurance for the high gloss on your new White Christmas appliance for many years to come."

Gift Of Dryer Appreciated By All Women

Getting a dryer to make your Christmas a white one will mean more than just new freedom from drudgery. Weather, for example, may still be a concern for picnics, but won't be a factor when it comes to drying a few loads of wash.

Come rain or shine, the dryer creates perfect weather conditions to allow you to choose your own laundering time — day or night. It not only frees you from weather worries, but dries 15 times faster than the clothesline method. It also saves 20 full working days a year.

What a relief to be absolutely independent of the whims of Mother Nature, who may or may not cooperate with sunshine on the day you want to dry the wash.

Use At Anytime

With an automatic dryer, any day, or even night, is a good drying time. Just pop the wash into the dryer, set the simple controls and your clothes and linens bask in clean, warm breezes until they are dried to perfection.

Thoughtful homemakers, who realize there is an element of risk involved in outdoor drying consider cleanliness as one of a dryer's most appealing features. Outdoors, clothes are buffeted by airborne germs, soot and dust. They're whipped and frayed by the wind, baked by glaring sun until they're stiff or else splattered by sudden squalls of rain or snow.

Also, the wash hanging outdoors is at the mercy of curious dogs and romping children, and occasionally a light-fingered passerby who may take possession of choice items of wearing apparel.

While you were previously tied down to the house for a whole day when there was a load of wash and dry to be done, you now have another day to yourself — when there is a dryer in the laundryroom.

It takes only about two minutes to dry a load of clothing — one minute to put the load into the dryer, and one minute to take it out.

YOUR ROLL OUT GIFT TRAY—You're never caught without any gifts for that unexpected visitor when you prepare cakes, cookies, pies, candies, pies, etc., ahead of time and store them in your freezer. After wrapping them for the freezer, you can add gaily colored gift wrapping. They're always handy—and always fresh.

New Electric Appliances Will "Team Up" To Take The Work Load Off Mother

The appliances that you receive to make your Christmas a White Christmas will be on hand to serve you 365 days a year.

Long after the mistletoe has fallen from its archway perch, and the tree ornaments have been stored on the top shelf for another years, the appliances at your disposal will continue to make your day easier and your role as a homemaker more fulfilling.

Just look around the house at your helpers: washer, dryer, ironer, range, freezer, refrigerator, dishwasher, water heater and others. They are ready to serve your needs at the press of a button or the flip of a switch. Put them to work for you and all the usual chores around the house are suddenly made easier. Not only will you get the job done faster, but with less effort.

One strong team to help you around the house is your automatic laundry equipment. While you are taking care of some of the work upstairs, the washer and dryer are pitching in with some of the heaviest work downstairs.

For example, as the floors are being washed or waxed, the shag or scatter rugs that covered them can be in the process of washing and drying, all automatically.

Two Things At Once

And when you're polishing up the windows in the kitchen or bedroom, just throw the curtains into the washer. By the time all the windows are finished, the curtains will be dry. If they are made of the new synthetic fabrics, chances are they can be hung right up. It not, your automatic ironer will take care of the pressing job in a few shakes.

The washer-and-dryer team can, of course, be used to launder the best table linen or the most fragile and sensitive clothing in your closet or drawers. Your machine's setting for delicate fabrics will give these valuable treasures as careful a washing as if you were doing it by hand —and with less work for you.

One job that has to be done about three times a day, every day of the year (except when you're lucky enough to go to a restaurant for dinner) is the dishes. This task takes up more of milady's time during the course of her day—and year—than any other household chore. With an automatic dishwasher standing by ready to you in your kitchen, the miseries of dishwashing are a thing of the past.

You will always be sure that all your dishes, silverware, and glassware will be bacteria-free when this appliance unlooses its spray of scalding hot water and detergent.

While You Sleep

A steady stream of this hot water, whether it be for your clothes washer, dishwasher, general house cleaning, or your own bath, is always assured when there is a rapid recovery water heater supplying your needs.

In your kitchen you have two appliances that work even when you are sleeping, to make sure that the foods you bought are stored properly and kept until you are ready to cook or eat them—your freezer and refrigerator.

With a freezer in the house, it's actually possible to begin making a special dinner weeks in advance. You can do the preparation when you have some extra time on your hands. When it's time to get it ready for the table, all you have to do is thaw it out and it will taste as if you just finished making it.

The refrigerator is indispensable for the cold storage of foods that are to be used within a reasonable length of time. With the newest conveniences in these appliances, there is never any trouble finding the butter, cheeses, bacon, vegetables, eggs, and many other items, because there are special bins for their placement.

Always A Winner

When it comes to cooking, every homemaker can vie for top honors when she owns a modern kitchen range. Whether it's used to simply keep a pot of mashed potatoes warm or in the preparation of a delicate sauce, a new range can serve you with temperature controlling features, timers, thermometers and other conveniences.

Big Improvement In Water Heaters

The National Electrical Manufacturers Association reports a tested new development — 40-gallon Electric Water Heaters which out-perform models twice their size.

The quick-recovery Electric Water Heater works like two water heaters, one on top of the other in a single tank. It has two heating elements of 4,500 watts each, interlocked so only one is one at a time.

A counter-top model can be installed in the kitchen, or a tank-type model may be placed in any convenient corner or closet. This is especially important in new homes without basements.

According to the Electric Water Heater Section of the Association, this new type heater has undergone rigorous torture tests, where a load of clothes was washed every hour all day long without running out of hot water.

Even if the family uses three times as much as the average, there is always ample hot water!

Ice cubes may be used to skim the grease from gravy or a stew. When ice is dropped into the hot liquid, surplus grease collects around the cube and may be easily lifted out.

1. Begin by ironing the sleeves from the top of the cuff.

2. Each of the cuffs should then be ironed.

3. The back is next, the ironer handling its full width.

4. After the collar, the shirt is ironed across the front.

BE A HOSTESS WHILE DISHWASHER TAKES OVER: A dishwasher in the kitchen is a sign that there won't be any "absentee hostessing" in your house. For while your dishwasher is automatically washing and drying the dinnerware, silverware and glasses, you can be displaying your talents as a gracious host. You can put the dishes away anytime—after your guests leave, or the next morning.

Get The Most From A Dryer

As with a finely-tuned automobile engine, you can get more "mileage" out of your automatic clothes dryer by following some simple rules of the road.

To get better drying results and to insure that your dryer will perform efficiently for a longer period, the National LP-Gas Council has the following suggestions to make:

1. Be sure the drum is wiped clean before using the dryer. Dirt or grease that may have gotten onto the drum will be transferred to the clothing.

2. Do not overload the dryer. Complaints about slow operation are usually due to overloading the dryer and not allowing clothes sufficient room to tumble.

3. Sort items for washing and drying at one time. Similar fabrics require the same drying time and temperature. It's easier to transfer load directly from washer to dryer than to sort wet clothes.

4. Do not overdry. Ovedrying causes static electricity in synthetic fabrics and also causes wrinkles to set. Limp linens are also caused by overdrying.

5. Dry starched clothes with other starched clothes. In the case of nylon or dacron curtains, for example, put a couple of dry terry towels in with the curtains. Towels will absorb excess starch and leave crisp finish on curtains.

6. Use top of dryer as folding and smoothing surface. The heat of the dryer aids in smoothing the clothes.

7. Check and clean lint tray frequently. If lint is a problem, remember that most of it was formed before the drying process.

8. Always follow manufacturer's suggested temperature settings if dryer has controls.

WISHWASHER WIDTHS

Dishwashers are available in 24, 27 and 30 inch widths and can be used either as a portable or a permanently installed appliance.

Washing Machines Cut Clothes Budget

Laundering at home has advantages other than the luxury of owning automatic laundry equipment.

By doing your own laundry, for example, only a single stock of clothing and linen is required. No longer is it necessary to have double quantities of everything — one in use and one at the laundry. Your washables are always on hand for immediate use.

Sorting, counting and listing separate articles is unnecessary also, when the laundry is not sent out, but done at home.

Lost items always turn up because clothes never leave home, and pairs find their way back to each other again, even if laundered in different loads on different days.

TIP TIP

Try cotton tipped swabs for cleanthose tiny nooks and corners of your appliances.

Call Modern Ironer Great Emancipator

The originator of the proverb, "hard work never hurt anybody," could not have been the one who did the family ironing by hand.

Anyone who had this chore to perform knows what a "back-breaker" it literally is, and there are scientific studies to support this belief.

No wonder the arrival of automatic ironers was hailed by housewives everywhere as a "great emancipator."

Consider the time saving. Where ironing by hand requires hours to do, you can do shirts with an automatic ironer at the rate of one in four minutes.

No Tired Arm

And while the woman who does the ironing for a family of four by hand does four tons of lifting a week — just in picking up the iron — doing the job with an automatic ironer is effortless. You sit while the appliance does the work.

No more tired arms, aching back, or abdominal and leg strain. Your clothes are neat, fresh, machine-perfect; your sheets have a wonderful silky finish.

You'll be proud of your work. You'll feel refreshed at the end of your ironing — no more look or feel of drudgery.

The hours you formerly spent at the ironing board you now will be able to enjoy doing so many things you wanted to do "if only I didn't have this ironing."

Automatic ironers come in several styles. Cabinet type units, which have white enamel finish, have lap panels to support dampened articles before they go through the roll, and one or two extension shelves for stacking folded items after finishing. Some have height casters that can be adjusted to the height of the user.

A console designed ironer comes in steel or wood finishes. There are portable models, which can be rolled into storage spots when not in use, and table top models.

Whatever the type, the automatic ironer spells freedom.

LONG LASTING

Tests indicate that home washed linens and clothing last from 33⅓ per cent to 100 per cent longer than those commercially laundered.

Servants In Homes Being Replaced

By the end of this decade, the household servant is likely to be a thing of the past in this country.

Domestics are being replaced by majo appliance automation.

Acording to figures cited by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, there were 420,119 domestics employed in 1930; only 226,781 in 1940, and only 140,296 by 1950. The 1950 figure averages out to a little more than three domestics per 100 dwellings.

Modern kitchens with thermostatically controlled and easy-to-clean ranges and other appliances have cut the need for domestic help.

American women still have household help, but it's tending away from the human.

Appliance Gifts Can Be Given As Big Surprises

It's easy to let Mom know that you've gotten her a new major appliance for Christmas—even though she doesn't find it under the tree on Christmas morning.

Since an appliance is rather bulky, it can't easily be brought into the house and hidden away for the big surprise. But, by appropriately wrapping another little gift, either to resemble the appliance that you have bought, or related to it in some way, she will quickly get the point.

Here are some gift ideas and details on how to wrap them for each appliance:

FREEZER

A gift of freezer wrap, useful in a new freezer, can take on a penguin look. Wrap the box in white crepe paper. A Christmas tree ball, covered with black crepe paper is placed on top for the head, and matching crepe around the three sides of the box becomes the jacket. Yellow gummed paper forms the webbed feet and beak.

DRYER

For a basket surprise, gather bright red cellophane around a tiny basket, like one used in the laundry room, that is filled with hankies for Mom. Tie with gay green ribbon and a bunch of shiny gold beads. The hankies can be the first things to be tried in the new dryer.

RANGE

What looks like a gay mandolin is really a tiny frying pan in which mother can melt butter on her new range. Wrap the pan in bright green gift paper with handle uncovered. Draw white threads from the handle over the center, which is gold notarial seal, and trim with white ribbons.

REFRIGERATOR

A curled fringe of white crepe paper forms the snowy beard, the mustache and the fluffy tip on the red crepe paper cap placed on a small toy refrigerator. Blue notarial seals make the eyes, with nose and mouth of red gummed paper. These trimmings make both a jaunty Santa and a novel preview of a wonderful gift to come.

HOT WATER HEATER

Cologne to keep Mother cool and refreshed throughout the year heralds a new hot water heater. Wrap the cologne in pretty pink crepe paper. Add a construction-paper thermometer and a deeper pink ribbon bow.

WASHING MACHINE

A toy washing machine plus a ping-pong ball make a jolly jack-in-the-box. Wrap all but the top of the machine in red, green and white striped paper. Punch a small hole in the ping-pong ball and tuck in one end of a coiled piped cleaner and attach to washer. Add stars and red signal dots for eyes and mouth, and a cone shoped cap of striped paper.

IRONER

A long-billed cocatoo's Christmas paper plumage is made to conceal a toy iron, symbolizing a brand new ironer that Mom is getting. The fantail is pleated gift drap; the eyes are black reinforcements; the beak is orange gummed paper.

SINK

Cover a toy sink in red crepe paper and chalk on brick markings. Make Santa's lower half and mittens of colored gummed crepe paper. It looks as though Santa is coming to tell of the new sink that will soon be there.

FUNCTIONAL BEAUTY OF THE KITCHEN, as important to the discriminating housewife as the style of her clothes, takes on a new fashion note this year with the "squared off look" as illustrated above.

RANGE SPOTS CLEANED

A rag saturated with household ammonia can be placed over stubborn dried spots on your range and left overnight. The next day the spots should come off easily after scouring and washing.

DISHWASHER

Both the hand lotion and a new dishwasher will help to beautify Mother's pretty hands. Wrap the hand lotion in gleaming blue metallic paper, with a pale pink bow. The hands are cut from pink gummed paper with variety store "jewels" as further trim.

Meal Time Is Big Time For Entire Family

By MARGARET SPADER
Home Service Editor
Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association

A White Christmas featuring a new range provides the homemaker with many opportunities for spotlighting her cooking achievements. Spectaculars like the flaming plum pudding, the magnificent goose, beautiful Christmas breads and cookies and tantalizing hors d'oeuvres will not confine mother to the kitchen. For the first time she is free to enjoy family and friends while the trusty automatic range keeps sentinel in the kitchen.

Christmas dinner, this year, means no staggered schedule for the already overworked oven. The majestic goose or turkey can take its time to roast to golden perfection while rolls, pies or casserole dishes always baked at higher temperatures go into another oven or the "roast-o-grill," or await their turn on the time schedule. By checking the various foods on the Christmas dinner menu you can determine in advance what should cook where. And, by thoughtful planning, the enterprising homemaker can put the workload on her range while she participates in the family fun during this blessed season.

Easy Does It

The holiday dinner menu presented at the right time shows how last-minute cooking frustrations can be kept to a minimum. Featuring traditional Yuletide foods, which can be cooked to perfection with thermostatically controlled burners, it also takes into account the cooking facilities of the average kitchen as well as a distribution of work that frees the cook the day of the dinner.

King Turkey will probably reign over your Christmas dinner table as it will in millions of homes throughout the country. So that you can be queen of the dinner, here are some tips that you should follow to make this holiday feast one to remember.

In deciding how much turkey you will need, allow ½ to ¾ pounds of "ready to cook" turkey per serving. If you use frozen turkey, buy it about three days before cooking and keep it in the refrigerator to thaw.

To eliminate work on Christmas Day, prepare the bird and stuffing the day before roasting. Do not stuff the turkey until the day of baking since the refrigerated bird and stuffing take considerable time to heat through.

The unfrozen, ready-to-cook turkey may be kept in the refrigerator two to three days before cooking. Remove the pin feathers with tweezers or paring knife. Be sure the oil sac above the tail is cut out and all pieces of crop sac under the skin at the breast are removed.

Finishing It Off

Wash the turkey inside and out, dry well and stuff the neck and body cavity. Sew or skewer the openings and place the stuffed trussed turkey breast side up on a low rack set in a baking pan Cover the top of the bird with a clean piece of cloth dipped in melted shortening or butter.

Freezer Solves Gift Problem

How often have you had an unexpected guest drop in during the Christmas holiday for whom you hadn't prepared any gift? Or maybe it was someone you overlooked on your Christmas list.

Whatever the reason, it always results in hurrying and scurrying through the gifts you received and can't use or your own dresser drawers to find something—just anything—to give to your guest.

You can prepare yourself for such emergencies, and have some fun at thesa me time. Your freezer will do the trick for you. When you have some spare time a week or two before Christmas, you can prepare tea rings, homemade rolls, special loaves of nut bread, plum puddings and a wide variety of other special foods. Just wrap them for freezing and store in your freezer. That's one place that will keep what you baked as fresh as the day you made them.

Gift-Wrap Each

You can gift-wrap each item separately, using a wide variety of freezer papers and containers, and attractive cellophane, foil and plastic. This sure makes for easy and quick gift giving.

If you devote one section of your freezer for these gifts, you can save the wrapping until you're ready to give it away. But if you spread the packages throughout the general food area of your freezer, it's best to wrap the packages first so they can be easily identified.

The variety of gifts that you can prepare in advance is endless. Cookies, cakes and candy are only a few. An especially nice gift is your favorite fruit pie frozen in a new plastic container and tied with gay ribbon.

This gift corner in your freezer will give you a generous supply of personalized remembrances for any occasion, wrapped and ready to give at a moment's notice.

And, when the holiday's over and there are some things that you haven't given away, you can plan on using them at your own table.

"Best" Cook Deserves The "Best" Range

Could a woman want a better gift from St. Nick than to hear her husband say, "My wife's the best cook in the world?"

Well, appliance manufacturers have developed their ranges to a point where even your undemonstrative hubby might be saying it this Christmas.

What with all the fussing there is around holiday time, many a housewife would be thankful just to know that her Christmas dinner will be done right, and on time. But a woman likes to feel that her holiday meals are something special.

Not only your holiday meals, but meals all-year-round can be special, with a modern automatic range.

You Can't Miss

Even the best of cooks have boilovers, burnt food and scorched cooking vessels, but now that's all impossible. These housewife's enemies haven't a chance, with new top burner controls, which keep the precise temperature at which you set them, be it 150 degrees for mashed potatoes, or 400 degrees for French fries.

Automatic roast controls eliminate all the guesswork from roasting. Before leaving the house, the housewife decides at what hour the roast should be started and whether she'd like it rare, medium or well done. She sets the controls accordingly, sticks a probe into the meat, and the range takes over. It will stay at a steady temperature until the roast reaches the indicated degree of "doneness" and shut off automatically when the meat is ready for serving.

Rotisseries are included in better ranges, and there may be as many as three spits. Combined with other range features, the rotisserie lures you into preparing such exotic new foods for yourself and family, as shish kebab.

Ovens are getting larger, and even 30-inch ranges may have a 24-inch oven. Some ranges have two ovens, permitting simultaneous baking of items that require different times and temperature. This enables you to do all your Christmas baking at once — pies, and meat, for example. Two broilers in a single range are becoming more common, too, another feature that helps you do your work better and more quickly.

Ovens, of course, respond to preset temperatures, lighting up or buzzing or otherwise informing the housewife when her work is done. Fifth burners, convertible to griddles or deep fryers, further advance the range's utility, as do toasting compartments.

Easier To Clean

Ease of cleaning is being stressed more and more. Some ranges are built so that their entire top lifts up for cleaning. Some have oven racks that can't be pulled out too far, but far enough for cleaning.

Appliance makers have added some extras for your convenience, such as broiling trays that double as serving trays and disposable aluminum liners for burner bowls.

And, as far as good looks are concerned, ranges are becoming more and more appealing to the eye.

As with the man you married, it might be the good looks that attracted you, but it's the good qualities that make you love him.

You'll love your new range. . . .

THE MOST ELABORATE HOLIDAY MENU, from fancy hors d'oeuvers to flaming plum pudding, is as much fun for the cook as for the guests when she has a modern range.

Water Heater Key To Family Cleanliness

With your new water heater, it will be possible to spend a rainy day at home and do three or four loads of wash, rather than limiting yourself to one wash a day for fear of exhausting the supply of hot water.

And, of course, all this washing is being done while you're in the den watching the afternoon television show or reading the latest best-selling novel.

Some of the family's most beneficial and healthful living resulting from hot water are found in automatic dishwashing. Ideally, dishes being washed by hand should have water of between 130 and 150 degrees. But this is too hot to touch. So hand-washed dishes do not usually get the bacteria killing benefits of hot water.

But in an automatic dishwasher, the temperature of the water can be as high as 160 or 180 degrees. It makes no difference, because the hands never touch the water.

When water of that high temperature is used, you can be sure that any bacteria or germs that have been on the dishes will be washed off. The possibility of a dish being a disease-carrier is just about eliminated.

In addition to being clean, dishes washed in an automatic dishwasher look clean. Those embarrassing moments when a guest might receive a spotted dish, are no more.

Your automatic water heater may be out of sight, but as you go through the day, getting all the hot water you need when you want it, it will never be out of mind.

Xmas Cards Feature Art Of Artists

The works of some of the nation's most popular artists and best-known authors appear for the first time this year on Christmas cards, making the 1957 selection of Yuletide greetings one of the most exciting and distinctive in several years.

Christmas card debuts this year is Cecil Beaton, talented artist-designer-photographer who created the costumes for the musical comedy hit, "My Fair Lady." Beaton painted a series of Edwardian scenes that reflect the charm and quaintness of that era.

Cards In Zany Vein

Wielding a pencil instead of a brush, Ogden Nash has turned out a host of new rhymes to mark the occasion. One assortment of Nash's cards is in the totally zany vein for which he is so famed, while the other employs a milder but still mirth-provoking tempo of humor.

Beaton and Nash take their places in the ranks of Christmas card contributors amid such distinguished company as Norman Rockwell, Saul Steinberg and Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, all of whom have become well known in recent years for their Yuletide felicitations.

Rockwell, one of America's best-loved illustrators through his numerous magazine covers, has designed an assortment of Christmas cards with a tousled-haired youngster as the central subject. The boy tries on his father's Santa Claus costume, views the splendor of Christmas morn in wide-eyed awe and indulges in similar holiday activities in the Rockwell paintings. Steinberg's off-beat Santa Claus is back again this year, performing new antics of holiday glee.

Clergyman Composes

Dr Peale, clergyman and author, has composed a selection of inspirational messages for the 1957 cards, while James Metcalfe, whose poems appear in newspapers across the nation, has written a series of warm and inspirational verses to mark the occasion.

In addition to cards by these noted artist- and writers, Christmas will be the merrier this year for the elegance beauty and sparkling ideas that distinguish the entire offering of greetings this year. Gold and silver are used extensively to achieve unusual effects, as are special paper stocks — including parchment.

Greatest Variety

Light-hearted humor, as typified by the new "contemporary" cards, is available with a Yuletide flair those who prefer to send cards with a religious theme, such reverent subjects as the Holy Family, the Nativity and the Three Kings have been portrayed with warmth and devotion.

The 1957 Christmas greeting cards are prettier on the outside, too. Many of the envelopes will be decorated and designed to match the cards they contain.

Hosiery Gives Her Yuletide Surprise

Always a popular Christmas choice, hosiery now offers new opportunities for surprising her with gifts that are different as well as practical.

One idea is to present her with a complete wardrobe of nylons in a variety of styles, so she'll have just the right stockings to wear with her daytime costumes, her evening fashions and her casual clothes.

Since the fashion news in hosiery is color, perhaps she'd like to try some of the new hues. Give her several pairs in several colors, so she can match them to her costumes.

Party nylons in changeable, iridescent colors are a glamorous and useful gift. Sports stockings, such as knee-highs to wear with her Bermuda shorts will please her.

Guests Find Ways To Say "Merry Xmas"

Some of the most appreciated gifts of the Yuletide season will be those that say both "Merry Christmas" and "Many thanks" as thoughtful guests express greetings and appreciation to their holidays hosts and hostesses.

The Yuletide guest in search of gift ideas doesn't have far to look. Hostess, and hosts too, like presents that make entertaining easy, and the possibilities here are many — including personalized matches and cocktail napkins, colorful coasters, guest towels, vari-colored plastic toothpicks for hors d'oeuvres and olives, napkin holders and snack trays.

Slightly more elaborate but still of matching glasses, ice buckets, casseroles, carafes, sets of steak knives, ice crushe s, lazy Susans and a variety of other serving dishes.

Presenting both the host and the hostess with an individual gift shows thoughtfulness and needn't be expensive. For her, the choice might be any of the little gifts already mentioned, or others such as fruit and cheese knives, a silent butler, attractive kitchen towels or any of the world of unusual kitchen gadgets.

Pleasing to the host will be gifts of playing cards, scorecards, boxes of poker chips, ash trays, cigarette boxes, pipe racks, corkscrews, cocktail shakers or pitchers, bottle openers, swizzle sticks or a felt covering cloth for his game table.

Gift that will rate a laugh and yet be really appreciated is a "His" and "Hers" set of aprons.

The guest who's invited for overnight or longer may suit the gift to the invitation with presents such as comfortable pillows for reading in bed, a dressing table set of cut glass bottles or attractive drawer arrangers of plastic or quilted satin.

Mr. And Mrs. Hope For Help In Furnishing

Newly wed or longer-wed, many married couples are looking forward to Christmas in hopes that Santa will bring something to help in furnishing their home or apartment.

With the newlyweds, it's a case of first furnishings for a home lie together, and, when making out Christmas lists, friends and relatives will realize immediately that helpful home gifts are needed and appreciated by the recently married group.

In the case of the longer-wed folks, a reminder may be in order, for this Christmas finds something new in the home-furnishings picture. Many longer-wed couples — especially those in the over-thirty-five group — are getting a new start in life as far as their home furnishings are concerned.

Are Refurnishing

Even the finest furniture needs replacement after years of use; tastes and ways of living change; and so the longer-weds are refurnishing their homes.

With this in mind, one course that Christmas giving might take is for married sons and daughters to "turn the tables" on Mom and Dad and surprise them with furniture gifts.

For both newlyweds and longer-weds, there are gift ideas in abundance. And in both cases the one important rule is to make sure that, whatever the gift, it will blend with the present or projected decor of the home. That isn't hard to do—people with new-fun-nishing or refurnishing ideas on their minds will gladly talk about them.

Newlyweds starting out on a modest scale in small homes or apartments will be heartily thankful for gifts of convertible sofas and other multi-purpose furniture. Happily, the selection of versatile furnishings is larger than before.

There are room dividers with built-in desks and cabinets, dressers that convert to desks and sectionals with attached dining tables, to name just a few.

Make Joint Purchases

Modular groups of furniture are giftworthy, too, because they consist of units that can be added to later, moved from room to room or rearranged for new uses. Shelves, benches, cabinets, bars and desks are among the pieces found in modular groups.

Dining room sets, slipcovers, draperies, even carpeting are among the "big" gifts that close friends or relatives might band together to buy for newly- or longer-weds.

However, Christmas presents for Mr. and Mrs. don't have to be large or expensive to be impressive and welcome. Lamps, end tables and scatter rugs rate high on the most-wanted list, yet are in the moderate price range.

Throw pillows, bath mats, ash trays, towels and towel holders are some of the many little gifts that will be long remembered

RAVE PROMISE

Gifts of lawn and garden equipment bring Christmas cheer with the promise of a pleasant spring and summer. One novel suggestion is an outdoor clothes dryer with a bright cover that converts it to a garden or patio umbrella.

Be Methodical About Your Choice Of Puppy For Gift

If you've finally succumbed to the constant "Can't I have a puppy? Please?" and you're giving the youngsters a cuddly bundle of fluff for Christmas, don't buy it blindly. Be methodical, warns Dr. E. M. Gildow, one of the country's top canine nutritionists.

He advises buying a dog five or six months old rather than one five or six weeks old. You will pay more for it, but since the six-month old puppy has already had its distemper and hepatitis shots, the overall price is about the same.

If you want to know what the pup will look like when fully grown, buy a purebred dog that conforms to the standards of its breed. With temperament also identified with breed, you can choose between the gay, frisky type, the quiet, solemn type and the independent, reserved type.

The sex of the puppy is another consideration. Females are said to be generally quieter than males, easier to handle, less apt to stray and better with children. On the other hand, if you buy a male you won't have to worry about your puppy having puppies of its own later on.

In selecting a pup from a litter, says Dr. Gildow, make sure that the one you fall for is clear-eyed, friendly, peppy and looks well-fed. See that it has well-formed legs, strong, white teeth, firm, pink gums, a good coat and a generally healthy appearance.

Check for deafness by standing behind the puppy and whistling. If he responds to the sound, his hearing is probably normal. Beware of inflammation of the eyes, running nose or eyes and a listless manner. Don't take a pup that is shy or afraid of you.

Once you have chosen the puppy you plan to give for Christmas, teach your youngsters proper puppy protocol. This includes letting the pup get plenty of sleep, playing with him gently and lifting him correctly.

A puppy should always be lifted under the rump with one hand and under the chest with the other. No dog, of any age, should ever be hauled up by his legs as they are easily injured.

According to Dr. Gildow, the new puppy needs a bed of his very own. You can make one yourself out of an old carton or buy them in pet shops. Add a pillow to raise the pup an inch or so off the floor and give him an old blanket to make a nest of. This will keep him happy, comfortable and well protected from drafts.

When the child has learned the rules regarding the care and feeding of his pet, they should develop a very pleasant and profitable companionship that will grow with the years and prove, once again, that a puppy is the kind of Christmas gift that keeps on giving.

WONDERFUL SURPRISE and wonderful way to teach him responsibility — an adorable puppy of his very own, presented Christmas morning.

STREAMLINED SLEDS

The ever basic and desirable Christmas sled for the youngsters comes in newly streamlined styling this year.

FOR TRAVELER

Travel cases equipped with grooming aids bring Christmas joy to the woman who likes to travel.

Bikes And Sleds Please Children

The tried and true items of long lasting popularity, such as bikes and sleds and trains, all brought up-to-the-minute for the more sophisticated children of this era, will have undiminished popularity under the Christmas tree. The sets for junior doctors and nurses, which have gained so much popularity in recent years, are more fascinating in their new 1957 guise and the chemistry sets, too, have been modernized.

Growth in popularity of arts and crafts sets is marked as the children insist on learning how to do things. And yet stuffed animals with all of their cuddliness seem to be marching to a new high of popularity.

It's a wonderful year for the children.

Give Table Top Electrical Gifts

Automation has come to the realm of small, table top electrical appliances to add efficiency to these already beautiful and convenient candidates for gift giving.

With some thirty of the little household servants from which to choose special gifts for a woman — and for some men as well — you'll find those that cook equipped with timers and heat controls.

Of course the automatic toaster has been with us for quite a while. Perhaps someone on your list needs a new one. A new mother would welcome a bottle warmer for baby.

Hand irons, with automatic heat controls, and especially the light weight models for travel, make wonderful gifting.

Electric blankets provide warmth to the taste of the individual, and make thoughtful gifts.

In choosing any electrical appliance for gift giving, look for the Underwriters' Laboratory label and a reliable brand name for assurance of quality.

Among the "military equipment" for youngsters this Christmas is an unbreakable plastic cannon that shoots tennis balls.

Bicyles Are Always Good Xmas Gifts

For the past four decades the bicycle has held a top rung position among the list of things American youngsters have told Santa they would most like to see under the tree on Christmas morning.

The Bicycle Institute of America, the organization which keeps so close an eye on this picture that it also is in position to say that grandparents are the number one givers of bicycles at Christmas time, anticipates an increase in the bike's popularity this year.

This is based on the acceptance accorded the new American made "middleweight" bike, first introduced but two short years ago. More "middleweights" will be given youngsters for Christmas this year than all of the many other types of bicycles that are available, is their flat prediction.

The "middleweight," available in models for both girls and boys, combines the traditional ruggedness of the balloon tired bike with ease of pedalling of the lightweight models. Besides new-type cantilever frames, this bike has revolutionary multi-speed power, coaster brake and gear shift.

These improvements provide for quick getaway with less pedal pressure, and greater ease in handling the bike for more safety, according to the engineers. For example, the child weighing only 34 pounds now has the same braking power available as a 50-pound youngster would have on a conventional model.

Accessories Make Wonderful Gifts

Owners of bicycles, and especially the millions of grade school youngsters in this category, are much like their more grown-up relatives who own automobiles, when it comes to gadgetry and accessories.

And in this fact lies a wonderful opportunity for really happy selections of special gifts for them at Christmas time.

To please the bike owner you can choose from such devices as sealed beam headlights, different types of horns and bells, luggage carriers, built-in locks, chrome guard bars and even special shock absorbers.

TO CHARM A LADY

A charm bracelet holds unusually attractive possibilities for gifting a lady, because you can custom-assemble it to tell a story that is hers alone. It can be a "gift that grows," too, because you can add gift charms anytime to symbolize new events and occasions.

The man who is particular about his appearance favors gifts of toiletries, such as after-shaving lotions, colognes, shaving soap, talcum powders. Many of these are assembled in gift combinations, specially packaged for Christmas.

Slipper Gifts Put Everybody On Easy Feet

While visions of sugarplums dance through other heads, there's probably only one thing on Santa's mind on Christmas Eve, and that's how good it will be to get home and get his tired feet into a pair of easy-fitting shoes.

Not only Santa but everyone likes leisure-time shoes. They're a gift that spells thoughtfulness yet doesn't require a lot of shopping. And there are so many styles suitable for different occasions that no one ever has too many.

Some people like a slipper that's strictly for the hassock, while others like one that can also go around the corner to the supermarket or out in the backyard. For men in the latter category there are leather slip-ons with little or no ornamentation, but possibly elastic goring somewhere around the ankle to insure against slipping off.

Best indoor-outdoor slipper for women is a plain, low-cut flat in a color to match her favorite slacks.

A casual shoe that men and women alike wear outside as well as in is the desert-type chukka with a leather sole and with special styling features such as a leash-type fastener and a kiltie fringe stitched to the tongue.

Both men and women will appreciate a gift of slippers lined in wool shearling. Shearling is the soft underwool of the sheep or lamb left on when the leather is tanned, and it's ideal for keeping feet cozy.

For the woman on your list who loves frivolous high-heeled mules, there are many in elegant leathers, embossed in gold or silver, wool-embroidered in floral designs, or laden with jewels or real fur.

To wear with her hostess gown or lounging pants, she'll welcome leather mules in clear, jewel-like colors, luxuriously adorned with acy-embroideries or gold or silver embroidery or embossing.

There's a time in almost everybody's day for the good old-fashioned leather "house slipper" — another good gift suggestion.

And don't forget the kids, who'll be especially proud of new slippers. They love them in red or any bright color. Sturdy leather soles as well as uppers give support to growing muscles.

FOR CAREER GIRL

Welcomed by the working girl is a compact, complete cosmetic kit for her desk.

Women Enjoy Fur For Xmas

Changing her mind may be a woman's privilege, but there's at least one opinion she holds unswervingly, Christmas after Christmas. Ask her what gift is most glamourous yet long-lasting, and most desired. She'll say, "Fur, of course!"

So Santa needn't wonder. He knows she'll be delighted with a gift of fur, and, if he's shopping with an eye on the budget, he'll find a variety of payment plans to make giving fur easy and practical.

If she likes to keep up with the latest fashions, Santa's choice for her might be one of the new forty-inch or three-quarter length fur coats, gracefully styled in let-out muskrat, beaver, seal, Persian lamb or mink.

For a "first fur" in a more moderate price range, or as a second fur for the woman who already has a fur coat, any of several small furs will be a happy selection. There are long, wide stoles, capes, boleros and jackets in a variety of furs, including the most opulent minks and chinchillas.

Would she like a casual fur? Santa will find many good-looking styles in furs such as sheared beaver, river otter or Norwegian seal. Often, they're enlivened by suede collars or colorful wool linings.

So light are the seeds of a tulip tree that about 14,000 are needed to make one pound.

Best Rules For Choice Are Offered

For every man who's Christmas shopping to please the gal — or gals — on his gift list, Santa has welcome news. This season's array of gifts to delight feminine hearts practically guarantees shopping success for "him" and Christmas pleasure for "her."

Whether she's mother or wife (or both), sister or daughter, aunt, grandmother, sweetheart, friend, Santa suggests this guide to gifting her:

1. Choose gifts with fashion and glamour.
2. Note that word "gifts", and remember it takes more than one gift to make a merry Christmas.
3. Choose gifts that please her personal taste.

Step one is especially easy, for just about everything a woman could wish for now shows the influence of fashion, the air of glamour. What's more, fashion and glamour unite with practicality to make sure that her gifts will be as useful as they are flattering and feminine.

Spare The Budget

As for Step Two, Santa points out that she can be gifted with many gifts, without undue strain on the Christmas budget. Cosmetics, perfumes, handkerchiefs, scarves, hosiery, costume jewelry and a world of other items are available for multiple-gifting at moderate cost.

Good rule is to make sure she gets at least one "big" gift — a fur coat, a handsome set of matched luggage, or whatever she's wishing for! — and then add lots of little gifts.

And now, Step Three. Here is where the male shopper can really show his thoughtfulness, and reap rewards in delighted thanks. When gifts are carefully chosen to please her personal tastes, they'll have that "just for her" look that gives any gift greater value.

Listening for hints will help. For instance, a fur coat would please almost every woman, but what kind of fur? What length and style? Only she can answer these questions and if, during the process of hint-hunting, she begins to suspect the purpose, don't worry. She can't be really sure till Christmas, and anticipation will add to her pleasure.

Planned For Her

If she spends a lot of time outdoors, whether in airing the baby or in active sports, she'll like gifts of warm clothing such as a pile-lined motor coat.

If she likes to have other homemakers drop in for morning coffee or an afternoon snack, she's sure to want plenty of pretty housedresses.

If she's a working girl, or working girl-homemaker, she'll appreciate sweaters and blouses to multiply her wardrobe.

If she's Sis or Daughter, and just entering her teens, she'll be thrilled by the gift of her first wardrobe of nylon hosiery or a set of simple bath and beauty aids.

Whatever the choice, when her preferences and way of life are considered first, her gifts will be certain to give her more personal pleasure.

Consider Size In Purchasing Bikes

Advice to parents and grandparents, in choosing a bicycle for Christmas giving to a youngster starts with a warning that bikes are available in sizes. Choosing the right size for the right age is urged as important. Guidance is available from reputable stores everywhere.

Here generally is how it works, starting with the very young who may safely be introduced to bike riding at the age of 4 or 5. Models with sixteen inch wheels, fitted with removable outriggers to help them learn balance, are right for them.

The 6 and 7-year-olds will need a 20 inch wheel; those aged 8 to 10, a 24-inch wheel, and those over 11 usually take the 24-inch adult size wheel.

Right now, says the Institute, there are more than a million kids pedaling back and forth from school every day. Thousands of them are in the five and six year age groups who are going to school for the first time.

IT'S A PIPE CINCH

It's easy to gift a man who smokes a pipe. Consider pipe racks, cleaning tools, tobacco pouches and canisters, man-size ash trays with cork knockout knobs and pipe lighters, to say nothing of one or two fine briars to add to his ollection.

She Likes To Be Flattered With Yule Gifts Of Beauty

Looking for a special gift for her? Give a gift of beauty. Want some little gifts to tuck into her Christmas stocking? Choose beauty gifts.

From complete matched sets of cosmetics to extras such as a purse-size perfume bottle or packets of sachet, beauty gifts are flattering to every girl and woman.

What's more, they come in festive holiday packaging that adds to Yuletide joy. Many Christmas-packaged beauty gifts are intended for presentation "as is" — a helpful solution to a man's gift-wrapping problems.

The modest cost of such gifts as lipsticks, bath oil, boxed soap, or hand lotion in pump-dispenser bottles makes it easy to give her the thrill of many packages to open at Christmas.

Unusual gifts, too, abound in beauty departments. For instance, there's a package of "expandable" washcloths—tiny perfumed circles that water will transform into ample squares. It's fine for the travel-minded gal, and so are many other beauty gifts.

Another advantage is that beauty gifts often combine two or more presents in one. Among the possibilities are sets of matching lipstick and nail polish or of bath powder and cologne in the same fragrance.

For that extra touch of thoughtfulness, beauty gifts can be added to other presents. If, for example, you're gifting her with luggage, the gift can be enhanced by outfitting the cosmetic or train case with her favorite beauty aids.

PURSE-PERFECT for gifting is her favorite fragrance plus a purse flacon. It's an appropriate companion to gift of an evening bag.

A bottle of shampoo and other hair preparations can be included with a comb and brush set — a beauty gift in itself.

Remember, too, that the term "beauty gifts" covers such items as manicure kits, mirrors and handsome appointments for her dressing table — all gifts she'd love to receive.

SOMETHING EXTRA — and extra nice — for her Christmas stocking could be liquid skin sachet.

FASHION-IN-POCKET

Put fashion in your man's pocket this Christmas with a gift box of the handsome new handkerchiefs, styled for dressup wear and featuring such novelties as two initials instead of one, on fold instead of in the corner, and even the first name spelled out. Where monogramming is required, be sure to order early.

TWO ON A MATCH

Matched accessories are gifteo ideas for a man's Christmas Among the leaders are richer-than-ever cuff links matched with tie clasp, in gleaming metals or featuring flashing polished stones.

Flowers Inspire Excellent Yule Decor, Ideas For Gifts

Christmas is the one time of the year when you can throw away your artistic inhibitions and let your imagination run riot in the decoration of your home for the Yuletide season.

It's pretty hard to make an artistic blunder with all the tantalizing fresh greens and flowers popular at this particular time of year. You simply can't go wrong with a bedecked mantel of pine boughs, sparkling Christmas balls, glittering candles and a squirt of "push-button" snow or a brass bowl of shiny holly sprinkled with red berries and hardy, long-lasting white carnations.

Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery the individual artistic flair should be nurtured and given full play — but has come forth with a few suggestions after you have trimmed the door, wound the banister, decked the mantel, filled the bowls and suddenly find your own creative source of supply exhausted.

The large brass kettle you keep beside the fireplace for kindling will look lovely filled with pine boughs and gilded pine cones. Remember to add water so the greens will stay fresh throughout the holidays.

Borrowed From England

A small embroidery hoop, the inner ring inserted at right angles to the outside ring, then wrapped in red ribbon and filled with mistletoe makes an excellent excuse to kiss the prettiest girl in the room when suspended in an arch or doorway. This is called an English "kissing ball" and has been used in England for centuries.

Perhaps you have seen the white blocks of Styrofoam at your florist's and neighborhood stores. This makes an excellent firm base in which to insert candles or dry foliage that does not have to be watered.

For an interesting centerpiece, cut a piece of Styrofoam in a circle about six inches in diameter. Into this insert several slender candles of different heights. Around the base, form a wreath of pine and holly and fill the little open spaces with bright red Christmas balls.

Christmas decorations for the home also make excellent and thoughtful gifts and can be the answer to many of your gift problems. They can be as expensive or inexpensive, elaborate or as simple, as you like. When making your decision, seek the advice of your florist who is a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. Discuss with him what you have in mind and he will be happy to create an arrangement to suit your taste and the amount of money you wish to spend.

GAY, YET ELEGANT holiday centerpiece of carnations, holly, Yule balls and tall slim tapers. This handy arrangement should lost throughout the Christmas season.

NOVEL SHAPE ADDS interest to the Christmas wreath. The foliage also is new — individual lemon leaves stapled onto styrofoam backing. Add ribbon, shiny balls and sprigs of white pine. Hang in door or window.

Rush Gifts Anywhere

Remember too, that being a member of the FTDA, he can wire your gift to any place in the United States or overseas. Your floral Christmas gift will be delivered exactly to your specifications and within hours after you have placed your order.

If during the last minute rush and preparation for the holidays, you completely forgot your gift for Aunt Minnie in Little Rock, Ark., it need not be any great disaster — simply call your florist and he will wire your Christmas remembrance, be it a special arrangement, cut flowers or plant so that it will arrive in plenty of time to say Merry Christmas.

Growing Plants

In decorating your home for the holidays, don't forget the growing plants associated with this particular season of the year—Poinsettia, Star of Bethlehem, Cyclamen and Mellor Begonia. Not only are they beautiful and just right for almost any spot in your home, but they will last throughout the holidays and, with proper care, some of them, like the Poinsettia, will bloom again and again.

Remember, however, that all indoor plants must be protected from extremes of hot and cold, drafts and too much sunlight. Your florist can tell you how best to take care of each individual plant.

Santa Claus Furnishes Bagful Of Fine Presents

A sentimental, old fashioned Santa Claus, with a wonderful world full of new gift giving ideas, has come to town early this year to help make this the most exciting Christmas on record.

St. Nick is old fashioned only in the sense that he is a warm hearted fellow of a most gay and generous disposition, who believes in making people happy by choosing gifts that will truly thrill them.

His new ideas for gift giving are geared to fulfillment of the richer, fuller life that is possible for everyone in a modern era with its greater opportunities for enjoying the longer hours of leisure now common to all. The designers, technicians and artisans of today have joined Santa's team to broaden his capacity for gift giving.

Gifts Now Magically Endowed

Thus, such prosaic things as kitchen appliances, now magically endowed with time and effort saving automation and made glamorous with new beauty of design, take a top ranking position among gifts mother wants; and presents of tools, now powered, will be treasured by a do-it-yourself dad; while the kiddies — heaven bless 'em— want and can have working replicas of all the modern machines of the age to help them learn while playing at being grown-up which is their favorite pastime.

Thus, the beauty and delicacy of the things one finds in the jewelry store have an added dimension of usefulness; wearing apparel, now so smartly styled for all age groups, is more than a matter of comfort and utility because it can be a gift of confidence inspiring and character building fashion; and games are no longer for the kiddies alone, but for the whole family to enjoy together no matter how disparate the ages.

Gay With Music

This is going to be a Christmas gay with music and entertainment in endless and continuing variety, if Santa has his way, for the new television and radio sets and high fidelity record players, are vastly improved. Portability, for example, has been carried to the point where "she may (indeed) have music wherever she goes."

It is a Christmas during which many, many more people will be joining the ranks of amateur photographers, now that there are so many new and easy to handle cameras for making movies or still pictures in either black and white or color.

It is in fact a season of multiple gift giving especially among members of the family, when not just one or two but half a dozen packages are going to be placed beneath the tree for everyone. This is made possible by the wealth of useful and handsomely designed devices to help make life more comfortable, to help make lovely ladies more beautiful, to help make everyone gayer, that can be acquired without strain on anyone's Christmas budget.

Now On Display

All these things and many more, are going on display against brilliant Christmas time backgrounds in stores all over the city tomorrow, to mark the official opening of the gift shopping season. Eager assistant Santas have been spending weeks unpacking Old St. Nick's bag of wonders for your inspection.

This special section is a preview of what the Christmas displays will reveal tomorrow. Notable, of course, will be this year's toylands which are representative of a billion dollars worth of instructive fun that awaits the youngsters this Christmas.

Parents are urged to take the youngsters downtown to visit the displays, for this is indeed the best way to determine what will bring the most pleasure to the children.

And Santa himself urges everyone to start their shopping early, to "lay away a gift a day." It's more fun this way.

Yet Christmas is more than just gifting.

Christmas is the expression of a spirit of gaiety, and good will, to be reflected from Yuletide decorations inside and outside the home.

American Tradition

Exterior illumination for the home at this season of the year, a well fixed American tradition, should be planned now from among the improved sets of weatherproof wiring, floodlights and newly colored light bulbs. Stores where the equipment may be purchased also have suggestions to offer on how to decorate your particular home.

Many new interior decorations brought out this year are now being shown in the stores, to help brighten every room in the home.

The florist, with his potted plants of traditional Yule feeling, his Christmas greens and his cut flowers, can be very helpful to those who want to make the home reflect the living spirit of the season.

ASK FOR HINTS

Leave space on the family bulletin board where all members can post their Christmas hints. Don't have a bulletin board? Give the family one for Christmas!

THRIFT INCENTIVES are furnished by newly styled banks modeled after her favorite pooch.

FIRE PATROL TRIKE gives added zest of ever desired locomotion sought by youngsters. Note space in which Sis stands.

ROUND DIAMONDS are the most popular cut for engagement rings. This one has tapered baquettes at sides.

Travel Can Be Guide To Gift

With more and more Americans traveling each year, gifts that make trip-taking easier or more fun are such to score high.

A gift of fine luggage can be as elaborate as a complete matched set or as simple as a small overnight or vanity case. An always-on-the-go executive type would love one of the many popular versions of the attache case, perhaps monogrammed for extra distinction and protection against loss en route.

The traveler to foreign lands would welcome such handy gifts as passport cases and currency exchange devices.

Other traveler's aids include fitted toilet cases, first aid kits and laundry kits which hold a clothesline, folding plastic hangers and little envelopes full of soap powder.

The woman who travels, whether around the world or on a weekend jaunt, would appreciate her favorite cologne or hand lotion in a leakproof, unbreakable plastic bottle.

Among the many gifts that are low in cost but high in ingenuity are little "booklets" with "leaves" that tear off and expand, when wet, into washclothes or pieces of soap.

Clothing gifts that travel with ease include no-iron shirts, blouses, lingerie and robes. Folding umbrellas and packable hats are other bound-to-please gifts.

Armchair travelers, as well as actual ones, would enjoy being gifted with travel books. And, for the traveler come home, there are many gifts to bring back happy memories of his adventure — such as delicious gourmet foods from foreign lands.

Student Activity Inspires Gifting

Now that up to fifty million Americans have joined the growing adult education movement, gifts that brighten the student's life are appropriate for grown-ups as well as children.

The choice is as wide as the students' range of interests, and that covers everything from Beethoven to bricklaying.

You might give a really "special" gift such as a modern portable typewriter, but there are many others that are easy on the budget and sure to get a warm reception. Books, globes, desk lamps, pen and pencil sets and art supplies are among the many available.

Enrollment in a course would be a novel and welcome gift for anyone with a special interest, be it Goethe or golf. Such courses are available almost everywhere today — in regular schools at night, in community centers, in Y.M.C.A. and countless other places.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Always Room For More Ties

The fact that a man has a whole rack full of neckties is no sign that he doesn't need some new ones. If he runs true to average, you'll find that despite the size of his neckwear wardrobe, he persists in wearing maybe four or five ties over and over again, completely passing up the others. Some of his ties have simply outworn their usefulness, many have become outmoded because of their width or flamboyance, a few he never really liked in the first place.

At any rate, Christmas is a good time to deal him a completely new hand, tie-wise. Think in terms of not just one or two ties, but a judiciously assembled half-dozer or so. Coordinate colors with his suits and shirts and choose designs in keeping with his tastes.

The new look in neckwear is the slim look, and patterns and textures contribute to the "look of elegance" that currently keynotes men's attire. Quiet, muted effects and neat effects prevail. Stripes, overall patterns and plaids are popular. Many of the new elegant fabrics feature gold and silver metallic threading. Silks and simulated lustrous textures strike a luxurious note.

Lingerie Gifts Are Practical

Both lingerie and sleepwear for her Christmas have the gift of looking pretty and being practical.

Everything from warm, cozy flannel nightgowns and ski pajamas to lacy slips brings after-Christmas rewards in comfort and easy care.

Especially practical are pajamas designed for lounging as well as sleeping.

Make your Christmas cards more special by including gifts of hankies.

Gift Ideas For Closets

Stretching closet space — and making closets look neater and nicer — is no trick for Santa. Fresh from his workshop are many things that will go first under Christmas trees and then into closets for all-year use and beauty.

To dress up closets are shelf liners and trims, in everything from paper to quilted plastic. Santa picks his patterns to suit the person he's gifting — sports patterns for a man's closet, feminine florals for a woman and nursery designs for the children.

Keeping closets in order gets an assist from Santa with a variety of wardrobe bags, hat boxes, storage boxes, shoe bags or racks. These come in ensembles that match the shelf trim.

Santa's magic brings more space into the closet, with gifts of hanging racks that attach to the door; pants, skirt or blouse hangers for multiple hanging of garments; and tie and belt racks.

Padded and cover - protected hangers are good gifts that Santa knows will please. And, for a woman's closet, he suggests sachet bags in her favorite scent.

If Dad's a do-it-yourself-er, he may collaborate with Santa by cedar-lining "her" closet as a Christmas surprise.

GIVE GOOD EATING

All the family enjoys gifts of food. These may take the form of home-made candies or cookies packaged in an attractive jar, or they may be assortments of cheese, pates and other delicacies.

WRAPPING TIP

Little gifts, such as a purse-size perfume atomizer or a sparkling rhinestone pin, can be tied to the outside of a larger package to serve as wrapping ornament as well as a gift.

Records Make Very Good Christmas Gifts

FAVORITES ON HER CHRISTMAS LIST are going to get long playing records from the lovely star, Polly Bergen, shown above taking advantage of handsome new gift envelopes available from dealers. Lucky will be those who get a gift of her own records. She records for Columbia.

The wide scope of the wonderful gift giving opportunities opened up by the all encompassing world of recorded sound is one of the most fascinating phenomena of this modern era.

While music is the first thing we think of, and justly so, when someone mentions records, it should be remembered that platters also are available to fit in with the very special interests of almost any individual.

Speeches of the great men of recent history are recorded. There are readings of a great many poems and plays. There are comic dialogues and monologues.

There are story telling records to delight the young. There are accounts of sport events, and even the roar of automobile motors, which is music to the ears of the "hot rod" fan.

Make It A Surprise

Thus it is possible for the gift giver to bring a joyous surprise to almost anyone on his gift list who has a record player. And if someone hasn't a record player, then he immediately becomes a candidate for a gift of one, plus a few starting records.

Makers of records have carried their help for gift givers beyond the many new additions to recordings. They have designed special gift wrappings for records available in the stores where you buy them, which make it much easier to present them more attractively than ever.

Naturally recorded music fitting into the Christmas season comes first to mind for gift giving. The magnificent recording of Handel's "Messiah" as conducted by Leonard Bernstein and released by Columbia is an example.

New releases include RCA's "Christmas Carols" by organist Virgil Fox, and "Classic Hymns" by the Robert Shaw chorus and choir.

Christmas Tales

There also are recordings of Christmas tales, such as "The Coming of the King," the story of the nativity as written by Norman Vincent Peale and narrated by David Wayne, by Columbia.

One of the happiest aspects of choosing records for Christmas giving is that those who love them — and who doesn't — are usually collectors. Therefore, so long as your choice fits in with their tastes, and amplifies their current collection, your gift giving is successful.

Guide to the right choice is easy. The teen-agers want recordings by their current crooner favorites; of highly popular calypso and the still popular rock-and-roll. And in this group, be sure to remember the baby-sitters who will love your free gift of records.

Everyone who entertains at home, and this goes for the mature folks today as well as the young in age, welcomes new dance records. The long playing discs offering scores from the great musicals are most popular also

For guidance in choosing classics for the lovers of fine music, just get them talking about famous orchestras and the new recordings they are planning on getting for themselves. The hints they pass on to you during their enthusiasm, will help you to choose correctly for them.

And don't fear duplicating masterworks so long as they are done by different orchestras. Music lovers enjoy having different interpretations of the same symphony.

Educational Records

In this area are the comparatively new recordings of analyses of fine works of music, made by famous conductors. These are treasured by many people for the manner in which they expose the techniques and the skills of the great composers.

These might be construed as falling into the classification of "educational" records, which in itself is vast and deserving of consideration.

Take for example, the full courses in foreign languages that are available on records. What a gift for someone planning a trip abroad.

The matter of record speeds also is important. Long playing 33⅓ rpm records are the most favored because of their convenience and space saving qualities. 45 rpm selections are good for small children because they are non-breakable and they are easy for little fingers to handle.

There are many accessories that will be welcomed for Christmas by those who are also candidates for records. Included among these, especially for teen-agers who love to carry their records back and forth among their friends' homes, are wonderfully convenient record carrying cases.

Special cabinets and albums which help keep record collections in good order also make gifts, as do the little devices which permit selection and placement of an evening's program at finger tip reach.

The generous giver will not limit his gift of records for a "V.I.P." in his life to a single platter. He will give several, carefully chosen to comprise a full evening of enjoyment, all neatly encased in an album which can be found among the accessories.

A Grand Idea

Such a plan can be developed from any one of the many categories such as classical music, the best musical comedies of the era, dance music played by a favorite orchestra.

It might also be developed out of recordings of the speeches of famous men of recent history. Choose any category you want.

It's a truly grand Christmas giving idea.

CHRISTMAS IS FOREVER when the gift is a diamond engagement ring. This happy girl's dream has come gloriously true in a round cut solitaire called a "brilliant."

MAN GOING SOUTH?

If your favorite Santa is southbound this winter, check his lineup of resort-wear for gifting inspiration. Consider featherweight sport shirts, slacks, and shorts, lightweight blazers, cloth or straw hats and caps, beach togs, sun glasses.

Almost any man will welcome one of the new "jewel boxes" specially designed to keep his cufflinks, tie-clasps, belt buckles and other accessories in order both at home and when travelling.

White Goods Are Welcome As Gifts

Bringing luxury, comfort and beauty into the home, gifts of bedding and other linens get a warm reception at Christmas.

Blankets and comforters are a popular choice, and this year's selection includes many in the miracle-fiber fabrics, for the added gift of easy care. Decorative as well as useful are bedspreads, in beautiful new colors and patterns.

Sheets and pillow cases in rainbow colors may fall in the category of "something she'd love to have but wouldn't buy for herself," and will therefore be doubly welcome.

Curtains, from cafe types for the kitchen to plastic shower curtains, pillows for bedroom or living room, bath mats and towels are among the many items in white goods departments that will help to solve gift problems.

Appliance Gifts Easy To Finance

Lack of ready cash need prove no obstacle to giving the lady-of-the house the major appliance that figures so prominently in her Christmas dreams. Neither is it necessary to disturb regular savings in order to reward her wishful thinking.

Most dealers will gladly arrange convenient terms on which appliances may be bought, with monthly payments spread over a period of time and in amounts to suit the budget of the purchaser. Many banks and other financial institutions will grant appliance loans on very favorable terms, which will permit almost any family to start enjoying this very Christmas the advantages of one or more long-desired major appliances.

When the U. S. Navy began 182 years ago, it had eight ships carrying 110 guns.

Children In Family Will Like Jewelry

The new watch, the special ring, the tinkling charm bracelet, the delicate locket or tie clasp a youngster finds in his Christmas package gives him or her a very special thrill of pride as well as lasting pleasure.

And the tastes of the younger set — ranging all the way from the crib to the teens — have inspired a wide variety of charmingly styled, beautiful and moderately priced items.

For the crib-and-bib group, there are the traditional silver cups (sure to become family heirlooms), fork and spoon sets, cups that play, porringer sets as well as teething rings with tinkling silver bells, bib holders, and brush and comb sets. All help the tiny tot to acquire a taste for beauty very young.

Older children have jewelry designed just for them. Miniature pearl necklaces, lockets, charm bracelets that tell some special story, hair clasps, sewing sets, dresser sets, watches and rings all delight any small girl's heart and make her feel "just like mother."

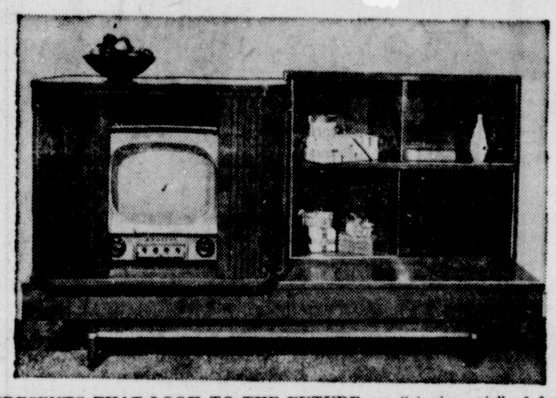
A young boy finds the specially designed tie clasps, belt buckles, knives, watches or rings featured by the jeweler for his Christmas pleasure another mark of manhood.

Children are never too young for appreciation of beauty, and lasting beauty is the jeweler's chief stock in trade this Christmas.

Model trains are available for any member of the family this season, including pastel colored rolling stock for the girls.

INFLUENCE OF BIGGER AMERICAN FAMILIES has inspired a record crop of games this Christmas, that different age groups can enjoy together. Among them is Rack-O, a numerical card game played with plastic racks, that helps speed learning for children. (By Milton Bradley.)

AS MODERN AS OUR NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM is this new toy "Sky Sweeper" set, for giving this Christmas. It's a complete guided missile anti-craft unit, fully operable, that projects its own targets which are "shot down" from the mobile launching platform. (By Ideal.)



PRESENTS THAT LOOK TO THE FUTURE are "starter sets" of furniture to use in many ways, in many rooms. For instance, here's a three-part group of bench, bookcase and cabinet for TV. Desk units, other pieces can be added. By American of Martinsville.

Uncut Diamonds Make Good Gifts

How about giving an uncut diamond for Christmas? It's a wonderful idea, for several reasons.

Most persons never saw a diamond out of its conventional setting. The little burning spark can be wrapped and presented as the perfect "surprise," and there's an additional thrill in seeing the single brilliant gem in all its splendor.

Best of all, the recipient has the pleasure of planning and dreaming over the way she will have this diamond mounted.

Many a husband will find it good Christmas strategy to buy the diamond first and arrange for the mounting later, to suit his wife's wishes.

QUARTET OF KNIVES reminds that kitchen "tools" and gadgets make important little gifts.

Family Can Unite In Equipping Desk

Equipping a family desk can be a joint gift-giving project for Mom, Dad and the children. Dad can give the desk, and Mom a lamp or a handsome desk set including blotter, calendar, appointment book, pen and pencil.

From Sis and Junior can come accessories such as letter openers, book-ends, a clock, a miniature file or a wastebasket.

Year 'round, everybody in the family can make use of the well-equipped desk — Mom for home planning and family bookkeeping, Dad for business and correspondence, the children for homework.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

PORTABLE TVs RATE top-most for giving this Yule also, and are available in just about any size screen you want. They have built in antennae.

Practical Gifting Rates Now As Fixed Tradition

The practice of choosing major home appliances for giving to mother at Christmas Time has become a fixed tradition in the American Scene.

The trend actually began many, many years ago among bolder and more thoughtful husbands who discovered that the gift of leisure appliances brought their wives and the relief they gave women from burdensome chores of housekeeping were accepted with a high order of appreciation.

In any event, during the past three years choice of major electrical appliances for gift giving has snowballed; so much so in fact that, as some wag has put it, Santa has had to add a fleet of trucks to his sled-and-reindeer equipment to take care of the bigger and heavier load.

Accounting For Trend

The urge to make it a white Christmas for mother by giving her a major appliance is proving more and more stimulating to more and more husbands.

Larger families and fewer servants no doubt have had some share in stimulating this trend. Here the need is for effort saving, burden lifting devices for mom. Major appliances are just the thing.

Certainly another important factor arises from the number of families that have reached that period in their lives when refurnishing is in order. Though appliances acquired many years ago may still be in service, the ever increasing efficiency of the modern new models, their new ease of operation, indicate that the time for replacement is here. And what better time to make the replacement than at Christmas time?

The new major appliances are bringing an unbelievably high order of automation into the home —the type of automation that means freedom for mother, making possible for her to leave without a care while the appliance starts and stops itself, adjusts temperatures to appropriate cooking needs, for example, does nearly the whole job itself, on a schedule pre-set by mother.

Since giving major appliances is the accepted order of the day for Christmas, the only problem confronting the many men who want to make a truly superb gift to their wives this season is what appliance shall it be.

Nine To Choose From

There are nine from which to choose — nine major appliances that make life easier for womankind while they contribute so much to her success as a homemaker.

The nine are: the refrigerator the home freezer, the range, the dishwasher, the washing machine, th clothes dryer, the ironer, and the cabinet sink unit with garbage disposal or dishwasher or both installed.

The latter is in fact a sort of focal point from which to plan complete modernization of the kitchen. It may well be a starting point for a series of gifts spaced through the year in a long term program with a complete re-do of the kitchen in mind.

On the other hand, this same objective — eventual complete modernization of the kitchen, which today encompasses the home laundry as well, may start with any one of the major appliances. In this case, choose the one most needing replacement.

Many Improvements

There have been so many improvements in modern refrigera tors that it's going to take a visit to the appliance store to do them justice. This visit is essential anyway, to help you determine which major appliance shall be your gift to mother this year.

The improvements have to do with everything from cabinet design, providing more storage space in smaller boxes, better and more adjustable shelving, enhanced ice making efficiency, to inclusion in many models of deep-freeze storage compartments.

Yet combination refrigerators with deep freeze compartments have by no means eliminated the demand for the economy making utility of the individual freezer units.

The new ranges are marvels of automation in which provision may be had not only for turning them on and off automatically, but for such finesse in temperature control required for good meal making that even the bride becomes an expert. Models in free standing style or for use in the new style "island positions," or as built-ins, offer wide choice.

No doubt if most women were asked which major appliance they would most like to have, a vast majority would say the modern dishwasher. Men no doubt will agree. Here incidentally, is not only complete relief from drudgery, but far more cleanliness for your dishes. Ask any dealer why. He has the facts Portables as well as models for permanent placement are available in sizes to fit the needs of any family.

Laundry To Fore

Modern home laundry equipment rates tops for emancipating women from household drudgery, and also for contributing economy to the family budget. Best plan is to aim toward early acquisition of a washer plus a dryer, and then the ironer. Here is the complete set up available in matched units as well as singly, equipped with automatic controls that convert drudgery into almost joyful child's play for mother.

Basic to the entire kitchen operation is of course the all important supply of hot water when wanted. This is what makes the water heater an important part of the over all picture of major appliances. It is just possible that the time has come when a new one in your home will be the best gift of all for mother. Why not check.

In any event, these are the things of which modern and happy Christmases can be made for mother. These are the appliances that, before very long, may be so perfected that such a thing as a servant problem may become an archaic thing of the past.

Leather Gifts Sure To Click

If there is anything you can depend on in a man it's that he'll always like leather. And there are so many gifts in leather, it's easy to select one that exactly suits the man you have in mind.

You can get him a wallet or pocket secretary in pigskin or sharkskin to go with his tweeds or in rich calfskin, morocco leather, ostrich, alligator or pinseal that will go with his more formal clothes.

Or perhaps he'd like something else in leather to match the wallet he already has: a key case, cigarette case, card case or memorandum pad.

For the special man on your list, a new piece of luggage will be a worthy token of your sentiments. Consider the new lightweight luggage that has the good looks and ruged durability for which leather is noted, yet weighs about half as much as the old style bags.

Most men like a so-called "two-suiter" as their basic piece of luggage. As a matched companion bag a man will welcome an overnight or weekend bag or a club bag which is packed from the top.

There are also leather-covered brushes, shaving kits, portable radios, alarm clocks and beverage sets. Almost anything a man likes, he'll like better in leather.

BRING A TOUCH OF SPRING INTO CHRISTMAS with gifts of packets of seeds, for relatives and friends who are gardeners. Here is an area of giving that can range from a "stocking stuffer" gift costing very little, to a complete kit, with accessories, for spring planting.

Some Men Like Hobbies' Gifts

Gifts that help a man ride his hobby are sure to win a warm reception on Christmas morning.

Best part about gearing a gift to a hobby is that almost every man has one. It may be something as universal as collecting stamps, old coins or phonograph records or as specialized as putting a ship model together in a bottle. It may be as creative as painting or sculpturing, as active as gardening or as sedentary as reading up on a certain historic period.

Whatever direction a man's inclinations may take, there are gifts that will aid and abet his pursuit of leisure-hour happiness.

For the "week-end painter," there are easels, palettes, portable paint kits, canvasses, tubes of oil colors. For the amateur sculptor, tools and modeling clay.

For the man who likes to make things in metals or leather, there are implements and materials. For the model maker there are kits with which to build or assemble miniature versions of almost anything from an ancient automobile to a space ship right out of science fiction.

For the gardener, suitable gifts range all the way from basic hand tools to powered mowers, trimmers and cultivators.

For the camera fan, there is a wide array of gadgets and gear that will help him to perfect his performance in shooting, developing and printing his pictures.

For the student of world affairs, there are wall maps, globes and plenty of pertinent topical literature that will help him to follow the course of history-in-the-making. For the man with specialized reading interests, new and authoritative books in line with his bent will make welcome gifts.

Home Gifts Are Popular For Family

When Santa makes his rounds this Yuletide, his pack will be brimming with gifts to enrich family happiness and increase family comfort, for Christmas '57 finds the traditional idea of giving "something for the home" gaining even greater importance.

Because Christmas as a holiday centers around family life, home gifts have long been popular choices, and now the natural inclination to express the spirit of Christmas by gifts from the family to the family is being multiplied and magnified by new trends in American living.

Not only at Christmas but all year 'round, activities focus more and more on the home, as members of the family get together to share in work and play.

Increased leisure time for everybody, growing interest in entertainment at home and family enthusiasm for TV and hi-fi all contribute to the tendency to look for pleasure as well as rest and relaxation at home.

These shared family activities call for the right setting and equipment, and here is where Christmas gifts for the home can give enjoyment and comfort a real boost.

Pleasant surroundings are important to family fun, so Mom, Dad and the youngsters in conference may decide that this is the year to give the home a new living room suite. Easy chairs, sofas, rugs are other enduring gifts that all the family can share and enjoy.

Current popularity of the recreation or family room stems from the trend to greater family closeness, and the Christmas gift choices may very well be things to make this room more comfortable — lamps, bookshelves, a desk or a card table set.

Start Family Room

If the home doesn't have a family room, Christmas is the time to start one, perhaps with a gift of jalousies to enclose a breezeway or room dividers for the living room.

TV and hi-fi centers for the home get a big assist from manufactuers, who are presenting, in time for Christmas giving, a variety of specially designed cabinets chests and shelves to house TV sets, hi-fi equipment and records. Swivel-type chairs for TV viewing are another home gift idea.

Many of this year's Christmas gifts will add to leisure — especially Mom's by helping to ease her homemaking tasks and giving her more time for other family projects. These gifts can range from major to small electric appliances, from new serving carts and kitchen-dinette sets to handy, attractive kitchen gadgets.

Aid In Entertaining

Not only Mom but all the family will take pleasure in gifts that Such a gift may take the form of a bar cart or portable barbecue "for Dad," stack tables for extra serving space and hassocks for extra seating space.

Then there are many new cocktail tables to choose from, including a high-legged model also suitable for dining, and others that come with tuck-under snack tables or floor cushions.

New furnishings for the children's rooms rate high on Mom and Dad's list for giving. Bedroom furniture for the younger child, a dresser-desk for the teenage daughter and a convertible sofa to create a living-bedroom for a teen-ager are just a few of the possibilities.

"FORTY EXTRA WINKS" is what this Christmas clock will give him. By pressing button, he can silence alarm for ten minutes. Then it rings again. Will repeat process twice more if desired.

AIRPLANE ASSEMBLY KIT, perpetuating the famous Curtiss Condor, can be a delightful surprise for any air-minded boy.

245 Million Toys Valued At 1 Billion

Santa's major helpers, the Toy Manufacturers of the United States of America, have more than 245 million toys valued at more than a billion dollars, ready to fill the stockings of the nation's boys and girls for this Christmas.

This prodigious output comprises the most exciting toy pack old St. Nick has ever had at his disposal for satisfying the fondest expectations of all the youngsters.

And, of course, it makes way for all of them to receive any one or more of the endless variety of playthings, if parents and grandparents make it a point to choose early, and before the glistening new stocks now going on display are exhausted.

Some notion of the ever increasing demand for toys, attributable to factors that go beyond the mounting number of children in our population, may be had from studies that show most children will receive approximately 10 different toys for Christmas.

Additional examination of the modern "toy picture" reflects the fact that while there are playthings available at prices that run as high as $500, the average price for the important ones chosen for the family is well under $4 each.

Educational Factors

Factors contributing to the generosity of parents, grandparents and relatives in buying good playthings for children include most importantly the dual purpose that has been designed into modern toys.

They are for the most part toys in which childhood play values are cleverly endowed with educational factors.

They are above all, toys which are aimed at helping children engage in their favorite playtime activity which is "playing at being grown up"; and as such many of the toys are being evaluated as "career" toys because the interest the youngsters take in them is indicative frequently of the child's vocational bent.

The trend is apparent even among dolls where one doll no longer is sufficient to satisfy today's little girls who will be tomorrow's mothers. They want families of dolls, and the need for them is being supplied in a dozen different new ways.

For the boys, modern toys reach into the realm of science where the fabulous lure of electronics and sonics are actually now replacing the interest they displayed in last year's favorites which were "space toys." Faithful replicas of guided missile installations that work, with every regard for safety, of course, are moving to greatest popularity this Christmas. Radio and telephone communication sets are strongly in the picture.

Simply "Fantabulous"

With toys of this type available to lead youngsters toward careers in the future, is it any wonder that TV is able to feature some youngsters on quiz programs who are, to use the word created by one of them, simply "fantabulous."

Similarly for the girls, there are actual working models of household appliances equipped with processed foods in many instances, helping them to learn how to "home cook meals" for friends — with perfect safety.

Building blocks, once considered strictly for the smallest tots in the family, have graduated into the realm of real construction, utilizing real building materials scaled to appropriate size, for the construction of something akin to the real thing. The development of the long time favorite — erector sets — have added more flexibility to the young builder's scope, carrying him into new realms.

Powered Toys Are For Boys, Girls

Battery operated toys are to be found in greater variety than ever for Christmas giving this year for both girls and boys. They range from a "Dancing Dan," actually motivated by the human voice to mixers and washing machines for the girls, and to lathes and drills (equipped with rubber ends for safety sake) for boys, and, of course, also include fascinating train sets.

Tomorrow's expert mechanics can have an automobile with transparent body to reveal the working parts, or gasoline powered boats.

IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS comes the twin lens 4x4 Rolleiflex in response to popular demand and interest in larger color slides.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON and both like the long-wearing all-wool sweaters they found under their Christmas tree. The lad's is a bulky-knit pullover in light gray with darker gray collar and cuffs. The man's low neck wool cardigan has the new raglan shoulder. By Jantzen and Bernhard Altman respectively. Wool Bureau photo.

Wearables Are Rated Top As Xmas Presents

Every man has many sides, any one of which will give you a wealth of clues to gifting him successfully at Christmas.

He has his practical side and his sentimental side, his work-a-day side and his leisure-time side, his serious side and his all-for-fun side. He has his favorite sports, pastimes, hobbies and interests.

On his practical side (especially if he is a do-it-yourselfer) possibly nothing would please him more than a much-wanted tool or piece of workshop equipment. On his sentimental side, a beautifully framed picture of yourself might well be right on the target of his heart's desire.

On his work-a-day side (if he goes to business), consider such gifts as desk sets, pocket secretaries, brief and attache cases, pen and pencil sets and (if he travels much) all manner of luggage and kits.

On his leisure-time side, the gifting possibilities range all the way from gear for his sport or hobby to a box of his favorite cigars or a new book pertinent to his interests.

Start With Wardrobe

Often the best place to start your gift-thinking is with a man's wardrobe. For all sides of a man's many-faceted life, he must "dress the part," and you can help him to do so with your gift.

For his business side, consider shirts (what man ever has enough?), neckties, socks, belts, mufflers, gloves, handkerchiefs, accessories.

Take a look at the wide variety of matched sets of ties and socks in handsome gift packages. Sure to please, too, are the new shirt-and-tie matched sets, along with muffler and knit gloves sets.

For the leisure side of his life, turn to sportswear and loungewear for a host of gifting ideas. Think in terms of sport shirts, sweaters, slacks, zip-jackets, lounging robes, sweater shirts and, for a really deluxe gift (in which the whole family might join) a handsome sports jacket or suburban or car coat.

Sport shirts present a galaxy of solid colors, miniature tartans, plaids and stripes to suit any man's taste — from the daring to the conservative.

Sweaters range all the way from finely woven cardigans (always good for around the house) to big bulky knits that go well on the skiing slopes. They come in a tremendous variety of styles, weaves, patterns and colors.

An extra pair of slacks will find a welcome place in the average man's wardrobe. Gray flannels rate tops with most men, but there is plenty of scope for selection among the popular whipcords and coverts. Most of the new ones are cut along slimming lines, some with a single pleat, some with straps or buckles on side or back.

Gifts of Outerwear

For milder days outdoors there are zippered jackets which come in poplins, gabardines, meltons, fleeces and tweeds. For more rugged weather, there are husky duffle coats with warm pile linings. They come with or without hoods.

For your man's loaf life," the new lounging robes strike a note of luxury this year, in rich silks that feature deeply colorful tones or in warm snug wools and combination fabrics. Then there are the sweatershirts that manage to combine the advantages of both garments and are just the thing for relaxing at home or for informal entertaining.

Should you decide on a sports coat, your choice is a wide one: tweeds, rough or brushed, Lodens and coverts in checks and herringbones. Most come in three-button models, some with leather trim on collars and cuffs.

Should the family's vote go for a suburban or car coat, you'll find these in solid colors, tweeds and checks. Many sport toggle fastenings, square buttons and other styling novelties.

If your man is handy about house, garden or home workshop, you can make a happy gift-choice from a wide array of durable duds in denim or twill, just right for knockabout wear, and washable, too.

NEW GIANT SIZE nested blocks, strong enough to support a child's weight, add a new dimension to play. A prestige toy.

SMALL ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES afford a world of good gifting. Here styled afresh, immensely colorful and practical, a roaster and a toaster. Why not the pair, to some deserving gal?

GAY XMAS CARDS ARE PAINTED BY 2 HUNGARIANS

BRUSSELS (AP) — The Christmas spirit is bright in Brussels studio, where a husband-and-wife artist team forget hardship and tragedy of past years in the shining promise of the future.

They are Charles and Alice Rohonyi, driven from their native Hungary by the Communist occupation, now well-launched on a new career in Belgium.

Both Rohonyi and his wife were established artists in Hungary before the last war and opened a joint studio after their marriage. Four war years wiped out their business, but they started again after the war, gaining new success until the country was swept by the Communists. They seized the first opportunity to leave Hungary then, and began once more in Belgium as political refugees.

Paints Weeping Santa

Last year Rohonyi painted a weeping Santa Claus Christmas card, which was sent only to close personal friends in Hungary, in memory of fallen Hungary freedom fighters.

This year, however, he has gone back to his usual gay and cheerful style, one of his most successful cards being a jolly Santa Claus blowing a horn from which stamps of many countries stream into the air.

Rohonyi started first as a railroad man, then as a decorator and photographer. He took up poster art after his marriage to Alice Der, a well-known artist in the field, and soon became more successful than she.

Turned To Cards

When Alice turned to Christmas cars, Charles did the same. Says he, cheerfully:

"I have stolen every creative idea she ever had."

Nowadays Alice lets her husband do most of the painting in the family, while she acts as best-friend-and-severest-critic. This year the Rohonyi cards are available in the United States for the first time. The artist is sure they will be successful, explaining:

"After all, I'm learning something about motivational research. I have a carefully selected panel for determining consumer attitudes—my wife and my 7-year-old son."

RINGS THAT SIGNIFY

Rings that bear the emblem of a man's favorite fraternal, military or religious organization are sure to win a warm reception on Christmas morning.

Freezer Gifting Gives More Shopping Freedom

Wouldn't it be wonderful to have a grocery store in your own home, ready to serve you 24 hours a day every day of the year?

It certainly would—particularly during this busy season—and anyone can have such a "store," with a chest or upright freezer.

The freezer "store" keeps your food bills down; stocks a wide variety of foods both in and out of season, and ensures wholesome meals for your family with a minimum of preparation.

Since freezers stock anywhere up to 900 pounds of food, you can buy in great quantities. This, of course, means infrequent shopping trips and greatly reduced food costs to you. No longer need you throw out leftovers since freezers keep today's food fresh and healthful for a period of weeks and months.

You're in for a host of compliments from your family because your freezer allows you to serve special dishes and a greater variety of food generally than you could possibly handle without the help of a freezer.

Treats Off Season

Strawberries in December are only one of innumerable seasonal foods you'll be able to serve anytime during the year, again thanks to your freezer.

If unexpected company used to throw you into a tizzy, force frantic visits to the food store, and shake your confidence in yourself as a housewife, your freezer will be an especially welcome addition to the home. Let the whole neighborhood drop in without notice now, and you're the epitome of calmness, satisfied with the knowledge you can handle any emergency on the food front.

Remember when even company you expected caused concern because there was insufficient room for the fancy dishes you were planning to serve? Well, a freezer takes care of that problem, too. As an owner of a freezer, you can expect a reputation as an exceptional hostess—and you'll deserve it.

Wonderful In Summer

A freezer is an awfully good friend in meal preparation, too. Come summertime you'll be extra thankful that a freezer lets you serve delicious, man sized meals, which require only a brief reheating.

The secret is to select the cool early hours of a morning to cook three or four roasts with the same heat. Wrap the roasts, then store them in your freezer, and your cooking is just about done for the week. The old war cry about having to spend entire days cooking over a hot stove won't be valid anymore.

The same way of cooking four or five vegetables at a time can save hours, in addition to reducing the use of gas or electricity.

If your family appreciates baked goods you can save yourself future time and trouble by baking a half dozen pies at a time, storing in your freezer what you don't use immediately. Except for cream or custard pies, most pies will keep for two or three months, if you store them at zero temperature.

With a freezer, there's no longer a need for time-consuming canning to preserve your foods. Everyday we hear of more foods being prepared in frozen form for the extra enjoyment of freezer owners. Virtually any food can be frozen successfully.

Freezing is a safe, easy way to preserve fruit and vegetables, meat, fish, poultry, game and baked or pre-baked foods. It will keep all the original flavor, color and nutritive value, providing there is proper wrapping.

A freezer means a lot of things—fewer shopping trips, decreased food bills and more efficient housekeeping are some. But most important, a freezer means freedom from drudgery for you, and happier meals and leisure time for you and your entire family.

A HOLIDAY CORSAGE TO LEND A FESTIVE TOUCH to her Christmas party costume should be his thoughtful extra gift to her. Shown here a special Yule design by Alyn Wayne, of pink carnations and red berries your florist can make up for you.

BRILLIANT WRAPPINGS FOR YULE GIFTS make giving so much more fun. Ribbons, paper and now colorful foil are among the materials from which to design individual treatments. "Bejewelled" felt hand decorating the package pictured above is an example of the "touch" you can give to packages you put under the tree.

Washers Will Starch, Dye Your Clothes

Your washing machine can do more than just washing. It can dye your things and starch them — and perform these functions more simply and efficiently than the traditional way.

Practically anything you would ordinarily wash in hot water can be dyed in your clothes washer.

Generally, this is the procedure to follow:

After laundering the article to be dyed, fill the washer with the hottest water available (at least 140 degrees F., even if you have to boil water and add it to the machine)

Add Dye Solution

Prepare the dye to suit the weight of the material in accordance with the directions on the dye package. Add the dye solution to the washer, and then put in the article, which should be wet and free of stains before being placed in the dye solution. Time of agitation in the washer depends on whether the machine is automatic or not. With an automatic, just set the dial for the longest wash period.

It is not recomended that woolens or glass or metal fibers be dyed in a washing machine. Also, the colors black and navy blue are not suited to washer dyeing.

Starching in a washing machine is as uncomplicated as dyeing.

You can do the complete starching job in the washer, or starch pieces by hand as you usually would, then put them in the washer to spin out the excess starch.

To do a complete starching job a concentrated hot-starch solution should be added to the wash. This type of powdered or lump starch is economical in a job that requires a great deal of starch. Ordinarily a light finish requires at least one-half cup of starch, and a medium finish, possibly one-and-a-half cups.

Reset To Rinse

After the pieces to be starched have been washed, you should reset your washer at the "rinse" setting, then add the hot-starch solution and the items to be starched.

If you starch articles by hand and spin them out in the washer to get rid of the excess starch, less starch is used. Care should be taken that items undergo the washer spin just enought to remove the excess, no longer. Also be certain that the items starched together require the same kind of finish.

You'll be pleased with the results.

DECORATIVE WALL CLOCKS are welcome Christmas arrivals. For a "Christmas bonus," top the gift package with an egg timer in construction paper tree.

IT'S IN THE CARDS

If your man plays cards, he'd like some decks of permanent finish playing cards, chips, acard table, poker set or green felt table cover.

TO MAKE MUSIC

There's a 17-key accordion in just the right size for giving to youngsters who like music.

Festive Gifts To Top Table At Christmas

With its many festivities and family gatherings, the Christmas season inspires every homemaker to set forth her best china and silver and array her dining or buffet table attractively. And since a well-set table figures prominently in her holiday plans, she'll take special pleasure in Chirstmas gifts of glassware, china, table linens and decorations.

Whether the gifts are single items or complete china and silver services, they'll not only be unwrapped and proudly displayed, but they'll probably be put to use before Christmas day is over, for family dinner or party buffet.

An additional place setting of china or flatware, or a set of crystal goblets, can be chosen to augment Mrs. Newlywed's tableware. Miss Bride-to-Be, too, will appreciate additions to her table service, in the patterns and colors she has selected.

Listen for Hints

The established homemaker probably needs replacement pieces to make her favorite set of dishes, glasses or silver complete again. Here, it's a good idea to listen for hints and find out exactly what items are needed.

Especially for parties and grand for giving are such items as buffet plates and cake plates. Then there are party sets of plates, cups and bowls, plus table ornaments such as candle holders. These are festive looking in milk glass or crysta

A silver coffee service, a punch bowl complete with cups or a chafing dish would be welcomed.

However, gifts for the table needn't be limited to party ware. A different gift would be a set of plastic dishes for family use, and these good-looking dishes are relatively inexpensive so that a complete set can be presented without a large cash outlay.

To Top Table

Other gifts for informal dining are pottery dishes or stainless steel flatware.

To cover the table is a lovely selection of tablecloths and luncheon cloths with matching napkins, in many fabrics and colors. A set of place mats won't stretch the gifts budget and is helpful for either entertaining or family dining.

Glass or silver table ornaments for creating attractive centerpieces have special appeal during the holiday party season.

BOOKED FOR GIVING

Mrs. Newlywed will appreciate gifts of books to help her with homemaking, such as a cookbook or one on home decoration.

MAKE CONVERSATION

Conversation piece for host or hostess is cigarette box that holds six packs in regular and king sizes, from which guests may choose.

Dream Kitchens Help To MakeManyHappyMarriages

A happy marriage of function and beauty has taken place in your steel kitchen sink.

Whether your preference, is gleaming white stainless steel or any one of the host of beautiful colors appliance manufacturers have developed, your sink today provides a perfect center for getting your kitchen chores done with a minimum of effort.

Not only does today's sink-cabinet house improved wash and spray rinse appurtenances, but it has advanced in other directions as well.

Imagine getting rid of most of your garbage simply with the aid of an automatic waste disposer, installed in your sink. No more having to get dressed just to go outside with the garbage in all kinds of weather; no more accumulation of garbage.

You can install a towel dryer under your sink, too, if you're not lucky enough to own an automatic dishwasher. Many dishwashers, incidentally, can be installed under the sink.

Things Of Beauty

Sink cabinets in themselves are beautiful things. Some sink tops come with fluorescent lighting on the backsplash. Modern drawer and door design highlight many new sinks, with doors insulated to eliminate noise in closing.

Sinks come recessed at the bottom, so you can do your work up close without fear of stubbing your toe, or marring the finish. Many are recessed under the sink top to provide knee room, so you can sit while you work.

A wide variety of special drawers is offered under the sink—cutlery drawers, vegetable keeper, soap bar, bread box and many others. Shelves slide out and are adjustable up and down.

There is no need to postpone the Christmas purchase of an efficient, attractive and sparkling new cabinet sink or drainboard because, "I want to wait until I remodeled my whole kitchen."

Because sinks are usually made by the same manufacturer that produces complete kitchens, you can buy the sink now and have no worries about its blending into the kitchen you want to remodel at a later date.

Steel sinks are made in a variety of widths; 48, 54 and 60 inches being the most common. They are available with drawers and storage space on one or both sides.

You can purchase a drainboard-type sink complete with a one-piece steel top in a gleaming white or in a variety of decorator colors. Or, if you prefer the fashion appeal and life-time finish of stainless steel, you will find available a variety of sizes of cabinet sinks that may be fitted with stainless steel tops or stainless steel drop in bowls.

In any case, you will find it simple to find the right style and size for your requirements. Whether it is just the beginning of a complete new kitchen or a part of a newly remodeled kitchen, a new steel sink is easy to buy and install. It will provide a durable Christmas gift that will be appreciated through the years.

Hubbies Inspire Dishwasher Buy

It may be a woman's world, but a research team found that almost the purchases of automatic dishwashers were inspired by the men in the house.

They also found that:

1. Almost everybody would like to own a dishwasher.
2. Dishwashers are regarded as a luxury.
3. Ownership is a symbol of both financial success and social sttatus.
4. The chief source of information about dishwashers seems to be friends of owners. Also, there is a strong influence to the purchase of dishwashers spreading from friend to friend.

GIFT THE FAMILY

Because Chrintmas is a family affair, include gifts of games that all the family can enjoy.

"SOMETHING MORE FOR ME?" Santa makes her dreams come true with a fur jacket, and then, because he knows one gift doesn't make a Christmas, he adds little gifts such as scarves, hosiery, cosmetics. The Southwest African Persian lamb jacket is by Revillon.

DAD CAN RELAX ON CHRISTMAS AND AFTER when the family's gift to him is a comfortable chair. Wrapped and ready in the chair are other relaxing gifts for Dad—including pipe, slippers and smoking jacket. And, because everybody likes home gifts, picture suggests a mirror for Mom. By Carolina, Dennison wrappings.

WHITE CHRISTMAS GIFTS such as bedspreads and blankets bring pleasure, especially in these days when traditional "white goods" are often colorful. Suggestion here is a hobnail bedspread with gala stripes outlined in silver. It's of Avisco rayon.

Redecorate Your Steel Cabinets

Changing the color of your kitchen cabinets is simpler than changing the color of the kitchen itself.

Alkyd-resin paints, now being manufactured by several paint companies, are available in colors to match, harmonize, or contrast with the colors that are found on most major appliances.

By changing the color of your kitchen cabinets, you can add new brightness and life to your kitchen. And with the paints that are available for the job, it's so simple that a housewife can do it in her spare time.

In preparing your cabinets for a new coat of paint, it is first necessary to roughen the surface if it has a glossy finish. Sandpaper, moistened with turpentine, will do the job. The surface of the cabinets should also be cleaned of dirt and grease with turpentine.

The finishes provided by the alkyd-resin paints will mean grease and stain resistant steel cabinets for years.

SPECIALISTS IN GOOD TASTE

Gifts For A Man's Sport Always Sure To Please

"Age cannot wither nor custom stale" man's infinite absorption in sports. As participant, spectator or follower (via TV, radio or the sports pages) he seems never to outgrow this avid interest.

During recent years, active participation in sports by men in virtually all age groups has increased by leaps and bounds. Not on the baseball diamond or football gridiron, to be sure, but in a vast realm of other pastimes such as golf, tennis, bowling, fishing, hunting, and skiing (via snow or water), more and more men have found opportunities to test their skills, keep in trim and have a lot of fun in the bargain.

This is all to the good when it comes to gifting a man at Christmas, because the active sports-participant is always highly receptive to anything that will improve his performance or promote his pleasure in his favorite game.

While the golfer usually prefers to choose his own clubs, he welcomes such gifts as golf bags, wheeled golf carts, numbered club head "socks." There is even a special golfer's umbrella to keep him dry in the event of a sudden downpour on the links.

The tennis addict reacts most favorably to gifts of racquet covers and presses, tennis balls and tennis shirts, shorts, sweaters and socks.

What bowler wouldn't like to have his own ball with carrying case? Also consider bowling shirts and shoes.

For the fisherman, there's hardly any end to the selection of hit-scoring gift ideas. Take a look at the new spinning reels which fit all bait-casting as well as spinning rods. Many of these reels are packaged with extra line, lures and other gear in a useful tackle box.

Then there are wading boots, creels, nets, gaffs, line driers, sinkers, floats, boat rod holders and a host of other items sure to delight the heart of the devotee of Izaak Walton.

CHRISTMAS IS IN THE BAG for this father, whose wishful thinking is happily rewarded here with son's gift of a handsome golf bag.

PLEASED AS PUNCH with his gift of a new spinning reel that fits all his rods, complete with lures and other gear in a tackle box.

For the hunter there are hunting jackets and breeches, sleeping bags, gun cases, sturdy knives, portable cook stoves, knapsacks, and rucksacks, and boxes of shells.

On items where personal selection or size is concerned, such as golf clubs, tennis rackets, golf shoes, hunting boots, etc. you can always fall back on a gift certificate on your man's favorite sporting goods store.

For the spectator sports fan, consider binoculars, books on his favorite sports, as well as colored sporting prints with which to decorate his den or rumpus room.

THOUGHTFUL GIFTS for the woman who wears glasses are glamorous new frames.

What Most Women Want To Know About Dishwashers

Reprinted from KITCHEN BUSINESS

(This is a list of questions customers ask most frequently about automatic electric dishwashers, and the answers based on research by manufacturers and independent testing bureaus.)

QUESTION: Do dishwashers really save much time?

ANSWER: In an average household, you spend 73.2 minutes a day doing 3,795 dishes each month, and you use 42 dish towels. With a dishwasher, you spend 35 6 minutes per day—less than half the time—and use far fewer dish towels, also.

Q: Do they really get dishes clean?

A: They get dishes and silverware cleaner because the hotter water (135-160 degrees Fahrenheit) than in hand-washing, kill more bacteria, and dry more completely. Dishpan water is used only up to 120 F.

Q: Don't they damage silver and china?

A: They absolutely do not damage sterling or plated silver. Nor do they affect most china. Some fragic overglaze decorations may be affected after lengthy use in a dishwater, but they can suffer as much or more from abrasions and handling of hand-washing.

Q: Don't they break dishes?

A: No. Simple loading and plastic coated racks prevent most breakage. The well known "Ohio study" showed average monthly breakage of nine dishes by hand-washing, reduced to two by use of a dishwasher.

Q: How much hot water do they take?

A: Only six to nine gallons for a complete cycle which washes and dries service for eight—less than is used to wash by hand. Efficient water use and circulation make this possible.

Q: Isn't it necessary to scrape or rinse dishes first?

A: Yes. Food particles stuck to dishes, silver, pots and pans should be scraped first, just as would be done before hand-washing. When a quick rinse or scrape is needed, you will find it takes little time while you are loading your dishwasher.

Q: How about cutlery and plastic dinnerware?

A: Cutlery should not be placed continuously in dishwater to protect wood handles and cutting edges. Good melamine plastic dinnerware will never be damaged in a dishwasher. Some inexpensive plastics cannot stand high dishwasher temperatures.

Q: Can I use soap or detergent in a dishwasher?

A: You can use only those detergents made especially for dishwashers, such as Electra-Sol, Calgonite, Cascade, Thanx, Dish-All, Finish, and others. Soaps and laundry detergents will only cause clog, overflow, poor washing action.

Q: Does it cost a lot to install?

A: That depends on the condition and layout of your kitchen, plumbing, wiring, etc. Installation should be made by a qualified man only. If the cost seems prohibitive, consider a portable or mobile unit.

Q: Don't they "spot" silver and glass?

A: Not the dishwasher itself, but if you have hard water that may cause some spotting, which is easily removed with towel. New improvements, both in dishwashers and detergents, are eliminating this problem.

TOYLAND RAIDS JUNGLE TO GET XMAS IDEAS

By VIVIAN BROWN

The Associated Press

The lollipop set is big-eyed this Christmas for some very earthly creatures with a past—elephants, tigers, lions, kangaroos, penguins—plump, soft and enormous. But best of all they look real.

There is only one hitch in this Junior Jungleland. If you haven't got your order in, chances are your little animal tamers will be disappointed. It seems there just aren't enough king-size animals to go around. If you do have your order in, better measure that playroom again. You may have to knock down a wall to accommodate these new playthings.

The lion is massive, almost as big as some of his zoo counterparts, although his expression is more cultured. The kangaroo is a delightful creature, with baby kangaroo peering from its pouch. The dinosaur, a frightening monster 12 feet long and 6 feet high, leers in an out-of-this world fashion. He'll need a room of his own, maybe two—no Junior Jungle-mate he. You may have to build him a new playroom to keep him comfortable, but it'll be worth it.

Offer Peanuts To Elephant

An elephant is so eager to please that you'll probably offer him peanuts. There are lifesize gorillas, penguins, dogs of every description, donkeys and seals. There is a black panther and a giraffe 8½ feet tall.

If sales are any indication, Santa will need some high potency vitamins when he starts making deliveries. He'll also need a super-powered trailer truck to transport the stuff.

Charley Vesey, vice president of F. A. O. Schwarz, one of the world's largest toy stores, says response to menagerie toys has been enormous, adding: "The biggest are the ones that are moving beyond expectations. Price seems no object."

Manufacturers have stopped taking orders on toys in the $75 to $400 bracket. (Yep, that's what some of these stuffed animals cost.) But if you really have your heart set on a giraffe for your small fry, for example, you can settle for the smaller version—5 feet tall, but with the same charm. If you're planning on the big fellow for your nursery, make sure you don't have to cut a hole in the ceiling to give him breathing space. That'll be the only alternative if he arrives on Christmas Eve—you'll have to make him fit somehow, although there is still time to raise the roof or knock down a couple of walls.

FUN TO MAKE AND WEAR XMAS ACCESSORIES

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

It's fun to dress up on Christmas day in a completely frivolous, apron, overskirt or blouse that is meant to be worn only once a year.

Gay Overskirt

This year textile designers have produced all kinds of gaily printed Christmas fabrics with cheerful designs of holly, poinsettias, Christmas bells and such that lend themselves ideally to holiday accessories. These are inexpensive, washable cotton fabrics, so you don't need to feel extravagant about making something that comes out only at Santa Claus time. You can get several yards for a dollar, and most of the fabrics the sanforized against shrinkage.

One bright idea suggested by local sewing center experts is a gay Christmas overskirt, to wear over your indispensable little black sheath dress on Christmas day. They recommend a border print design of red poinsettias with green leaves on a black background, made with a commercial pattern with inch rulers printed on it, so you can be sure to get the border print at the right point. The overskirt itself has a border at the hemline and another strip of border print is used for a wide shirred cummerbund. Just in case you don't own the basic sheath dress, the envelope includes a pattern for making one.

If you own a white wool dress, you might consider a holiday border print with a red background for an overskirt, or a white background print with red and green holly wreath motif.

HOLIDAY GLAMOUR comes out of a prize package from the jewelers, containing this beautiful rhinestone collar with matching earrings and bracelet.

COLLARED FOR YULE

Magic touches of fur in the form of collars to wear with her suits and dresses make luxurious yet low-cost gifts.

PLEASURE LASTS

Game tables with matching chairs are gifts for year-round enjoyment. Sets of cards, word games or chess sets make appropriate little gifts.

DRESS UP HOME

Accessories to dress up the home make good Yuletide gift choices. Among many possibilities are plant stands, magazine racks and table decorations.

DOUBLE FEATURE

Pajamas that double as "loungers" are welcome adjuncts to a man's "night life." Many are styled with knit tops and contrast colors.

Carving Cues Help Dad To Star At Table

Holiday time means many gatherings around the family table, and frequent occasions for the man of the house to preside at the carving of a festive fowl.

Dad needn't dread the propsect. With the right equipment, a little knowledge of the fowl and a bit of practice, he can master the necessary skill, and his proficiency with the carving knife will rate praise.

Successfully serving each diner with a warm, juicy and appetizing portion of turkey depends on the position of the bird on the platter, the sharpness of the knife and the angle at which each slice is cut.

First essential for skillful slicing is a good sharp carving knife. When more than a gentle pressure must be exerted on the blade to cut easily, the knife needs sharpening.

Quick and easy way to do a professional-looking, effective job of sharpening is to use an electric knife sharpener. Models that grind both sides of the blade at one time produce an even, hollow-ground edge.

Step one in carving is to insert a carving fork into the holiday bird below the breast, to hold it firmly in position during cutting. Right-handers should work on the right side first; southpaws should start at the left.

Remove the leg and second joint by slicing through the skin between thigh and body and then around the thigh. Pull away from the body, and place on a separate platter.

The wing is removed next by pulling out as far as possible and working the knife through the joint.

With leg and wing removed, it's a simple matter to carve thin slices of white meat off the breast from top to bottom. When one side of the breast is clean, start on opposite side.

The sharpness of the knife and the angle at which he slices will enable the carver to cut thick or thin, according to the preferences of his guests.

FOR SKILLFUL CARVING, Dad needs a good sharp knife. He'll appreciate Christmas gift of an electric knife sharpener. This one is by Oster.

HOLIDAY BIRD is held firmly with carving fork, while Dad removes leg, second joint and wing. Then he's ready to start slicing white meat.

GIFTS FOR THE HOST

Silver bar tools, cocktail pitchers and shakers are gifts that any host will appreciate. Many new ideas in this field are being shown in this section.

New Symbols In Diamonds For Christmas

The same enduring beauty that has made the diamond the traditional symbol of lasting love between engaged couples gives diamond gifts special significance as tokens of the timeless bond of family affection.

In many households, gift funds are combined to make diamonds a "family affair" at Christmas. However, manufacturers have in recent years made such strides in the creation of distinctive designs, featuring smaller diamonds, that individual diamond gifts to mother, father, sister or brother are entirely within the scope of the average budget.

New methods of cutting and polishing small diamonds give them the same fire and transcendent beauty that distinguishes the larger and more expensive ones.

Some suggestions for mother and sister are diamond earrings, brooches, pins, bracelets, pendants, wrist watches, cocktail rings, lockets and charms.

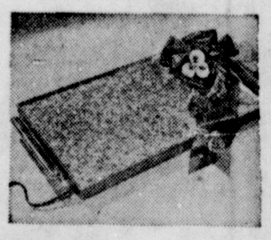
Dad and brother now have a larger selection of tie bars, cuff links, rings and fraternity pins, all embellished with small diamonds. And there are even little diamond rings for baby.

Diamonds look equally lovely in white or gold mountings and can easily be reset later into an altogether different piece of jewelry. Mountings may be changed at will, but diamonds are forever.

CATERING TO JUNIOR'S tastes, with a modern slant, inspires this ranch phone newly added this year to toyland's offerings.

DINNERWARE DELIGHTS the lady of the house at Christmas time, whether she's newlywed or longer-wed.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER GIFT is an automatic sewing machine for Mother, plus a toy sewing machine that really works, for daughter.



YEAR-ROUND REMINDER of a thoughtful giver are smart serving trays. Electric model shown keeps food warm at table.

Watches Rate Top As Gifts For Christmas

The "gift of time," the most practical Christmas wish of all, has put watches of all kinds for all ages at the top of most special Christmas lists.

Watches have a real "cinderella" life as gifts, for their practical functions have been so glamorized with fashion touches that they are as important for how they look as for how they perform.

With the growing refinements of fine watch styling, watches now have a role in wardrobe planning. And the "special occasion" aspects of the newest watches suggest some exciting gift possibilities.

The busy career girl or homemaker finds a special need for different kinds of watches. A classic design, with interchangeable straps, provides an easy and smart fashion note to her daytime clothes. Homemakers and typists find the special shock and water resistant watches practical boons.

Sleek sports watches are designed for country clothes.

For dress up occasions, those with unusual shapes, stone settings, delicate bracelets, or decorative faces, lend their own note of good taste.

Thin as wafers, the newest watches for men have their own masculine beauty.

A variety of shapes to flatter any man's wrist and special shock-resistant qualities for the sportsman or hard working businessman, all enable the "gift of time" to be enjoyed and appreciated all year long.

Give a gift certificate — certain to please because the "giftee" can choose just what he or she wants.

New TV, Radio Sets Make For Good Gifting

What's new in the realm of TV and Radio sets, and in Record Players and Hi Fi systems, this year, opens the way for smart Santas to indulge in some exceptionally successful Christmas gift giving.

There's a word to describe something special with respect to all three of these basic instruments that carries with it almost positive assurance that the gift chosen can be successful despite the fact the recipient already has one set.

The word is "portability." The refinement of portable TV sets, portable radio sets and portable record players has been wonderfully broad this past year. This, of course, is in response to the ever increasing popularity of these handy carry-about models.

Compact Portables

Portable TV sets have benefited immeasurably in terms of design and compactness, by development of shorter tubes that also have made possible the production of shallower, space saving consoles and table models.

Portable radio sets have benefited from utilization of transistors which means that there are wonderfully efficient sets ranging from purse size models down to miniatures so small they may be stuffed in a Christmas stocking, offering a wide selection for giving this Yule.

Portable record players, equipped in many instances to play discs of all speeds, and equipped also with their own folding legs are now available in hi-fidelity models at surprisingly low cost.

The new TV portables are of course ideal second sets for any home. They are wonderful for giving to the children. They are almost essential to the family that has a summer cottage. They are the first choice for a personal TV gift.

And they come in so many different sizes they may be almost "fitted" to the specific persons to whom they are to be given.

The slimming down of TV sets, thanks to development of the shorter picture tubes, makes this Christmas the right time to replace one of the older bulkier models that may be cluttering up a living room, with a gift of a new set.

This would certainly please mother, who has always looked askance at the awkward size and shape of earlier models.

Some of the slimmer-silhouette TVs have been reduced in depth down to the point where they are no more than shelf width.

Some have been designed for space saving placement in a corner flush to both walls. Some are as much as six inches shallower than in the past.

And all of this has been achieved with remarkable attention to design of the set as a piece of furniture. Decorator type cabinetting is available to blend with any period.

Another interesting aspect of the new TV set is the progress made in development of remote control. Thanks to electronics remote controls are now available that make tuning possible with no actual set contact.

GLITTERING SUCCESSES as gifts are gala gloves, evening bags, belts. Here, French imported bags, belt, Crescendoe gloves.

HIS AND HERS EXCHANGE takes on a new turn with handsomely cased electric shavers becoming available for Christmas giving to the fastidious.

WIVES OF BRASS PLAY HOST TO STRANDED GI'S

WASHINGTON (AP)—A free Christmas feast with many of the goodies prepared by wives of the top brass awaits some lucky but lonely service men stranded in the capital over the holidays.

The dinner, one of a number of holiday meals served during the years, will be dished up at the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen's Club, whose doors have never closed since it was opened in 1898, the only club in the United States owned and operated by service women.

"It is a home away from home for enlisted men of all branches of the Armed Forces," says Mrs. Charles P. Cabell, wife of Air Force Lt. Gen. Cabell, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency who is a vice president of the club "It's a real home because the boys may stay there overnight and they're looked after by real mothers."

A "Real Mother"

One of these "real mothers," Mamie Eisenhower, kept the cash register and worked many long hours there during World War II Mamie is a life member of the club and its honorary president. She says it's her favorite club. The President recently sent over a stock of his mystery stories to the library, which is in the charge of Mrs. Walter Bedell Smith, wife of the former Army general and former U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Another "real mother" dedicated to making the club homey for the boys is Mrs. Arthur MacArthur, whose Navy captain husband, a brother of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, died in 1923. Mrs. MacArthur had five children. Douglas MacArthur II, ambassador to Japan, is her son. She rarely misses getting to the club Sunday mornings at 7:30 o'clock to give a fine breakfast to some 200 or more men.

Turn Some Away

"We had to turn away 40 or more who wanted to stay here last night," she said regretfully. "Sometimes they stick around anyway and we find them next morning curled up on sofas and chairs."

In 1956, according to club president, Mrs. Herman Feldman, wife of the former quartermaster general, 18,340 men were lodged at the club and countless others used the facilities offered for just a rest, a bath or a shave.

The club was organized in 1872 by the wives of officers of the Armed Forces, who "visualized the spiritual and temporal needs" of the enlisted men in the Armed Forces.

JEWELRY FOR SPORTSMEN

Sure way to score a gift-hit with a sportsman is to give him a tie clasp and cuff-link set emblematic of his favorite pastime. For the spectator-sportsman, there are designs that symbolize such games as football, baseball, basketball, hockey.

Photographic Gifts Are At High Interest

Amateur photography is claiming more than its ordinary share of attention this year as an area of important Christmas gifts giving for a variety of fascinating reasons.

One is the growth in skills exhibited by those who have used cameras for some time, which makes more and more of these folk candidates for better picture making equipment.

Another reason derives from improvements in cameras which makes better picture taking, easier; a third the speeding up of films, especially color film, and a fourth is improvement of accessories and projectors.

All this pertains equally to still or moving pictures, and to color or black and white photography. By way of example, there is the new 8 mm movie camera (most popular size) equipped with an electric eye that automatically sets the lens for correct exposure. Who can possibly go wrong?

SANTA CAN'T MISS getting the gift action picture with a movie camera that has an electric eye to set the lens for the correct exposure automatically.

Arrival of faster color film in 120 and 127 sizes, in addition to the most popular 35 mm size, answers the growing demand among amateurs for larger size slides. Projectors are available now to handle 2¼ sfuare, 1⅝ square, bantam and 35 mm slides.

Kodak has brought out two new series of cameras in time for Christmas giving to provide for larger slides. These are the Starflex and the Starflash Brownie Series both taking 127 film.

Among new fine cameras this year is the Leica III g, classic of the 35 mm line and a new 4x4 Rollieflex, which will be welcomed with glee by many advanced amateurs. Cameras such as these and the standard Rollieflex are superb gifts of a lifetime.

However, it is not necessary to exceed your gift budget to choose a gift of a fine precision camera. Stores are showing wonderful assortments of cameras with famous German names; others from the newer Japanese camera industry.

Practically all new cameras are equipped for flash, and many are offered in gift packaging with case and gun, film and bulbs, so that they may be put to use at once.

If the person you have in mind is so well equipped that there is no point in choosing a camera as a gift, then the opportunity to please him still is as broad as ever.

For this man, or woman, will thrill to a gift of a useful accessory: an extra lens, a light meter, a gadget bag, a tripod, or some new dark room equipment.

Now that color film is available from which the amateur can actually make his own color prints, a complete, yet inexpensive outfit, to be found in the camera stores, would be a delightful gift surprise.

And finally, it should be remembered that no one thrills more to the gift of picture making than youngsters. Introduce them to it this season, with the gift of an inexpensive camera.

AMONG THE BEST IN PHOTOGRAPHING GIFTS, a precision built 35 mm rangefinder model with parallax corrected finder, and accessory lenses. Here, the new Leica IIIg with light meter and 50 mm lens. Shown also are the 90 mm and 35 mm (wide angle) lenses to make wonderful giving.

COMPACT, MEDIUM PRICED, 35 mm folding model from a famous German maker, the Voightlander Vito IIa, wonderful for the traveller.

FOR THE YOUNG in spirit as well as age, a Starflash picture making outfit by Kodak, all packaged for immediate action.

KEEP QUIET

Steel kitchen cabinet doors are insulated with a sound deadening material and are equipped with rubber stops so that the younger members of the family can slam doors without driving mother to distraction.

SPACE BOOKS ARE EXCELLENT GIFTS FOR GIRLS

The Associated Press

You can't go wrong if you choose books for Christmas gifts. But buy them early, so you'll have a chance to read them yourself before you wrap them.

This year's books are right on the beam with the times, a gift no young modern will scoff at. Things you want to know about space, history, chemistry, atomic energy are presented in new interesting fashion. Read your dull old textbooks in school if you must, but learn the easy way in your spare time and round out your enjoyment by reading science fiction.

Take that old man-made moon, for instance. It might as well be made of green cheese, for all you know about it, perhaps. But a new book, "Space Satellite," by Lee Beeland and Robert Wells, gives you intriguing information on our Project Vanguard, with a preface by Dr. John Hagen, its director. The value of the book is in simplified explanations and diagrams of rockets, a treat for girls, especially, who can't tell the second stage oxidizer tank from the first stage rocket motor.

Pearl Harbor Story

Do you like history when it is portrayed interestingly? Then you'll remember the story of Pearl Harbor as told in Felix Sutton's "We Were There at Pearl Harbor" (Grosset and Dunlap), an ideal addition to any student's library. The story of Pearl Harbor is seen through the eyes of young people living in Hawaii. There is 14-year-old Mike, who on his most unforgettable birthday sees a black speck in the sky that turns out to be a Jap Zero. Father is a captain in the regular Navy, brother Jeff is a lieutenant in the Army. What happens then is thrillingly told. Brother Jeff takes off in his P-40, to strike back in the air. Mary Jane, the girl next door, pitches in with nurses and doctors to help save the injured on the gound.

Three books by the same author, Julian May, (Popular Mechanics) are also in tune with our times.

Atomic Energy Adventure

"There's Adventure in Atomic Energy" is about Randy, an average American boy in his teens whose father writes science books. Step by Step Randy learns the mysteries of the atom from his Dad. Through little simple experiments that anyone can conduct in his own home, Randy learns a great deal about the great big project called atomic energy. He makes an electroscope out of aluminum foil, a jar lid, a large cork, fine copper wire, copper metal disk and nail polish. It's a fascinating experiment, especially when you get around to charging the electroscope with a glass rod.

Adventure In Electronics

"There's Adventure in Chemistry" is another in this series to appeal to both girls and boys. It too consists of fictional adventuring in the chemical elements that surround us. There are explanations of many chemical mysteries and a lively drawing of a tree of chemical technology that should help make your chemistry studies simpler.

"There's Adventure in Electronics" may not appeal to a girl at first glance, especially if she looks at the chart on electronic symbols and components. But after a while you may be fascinated to know as much about some of these parts as big brother or Dad.

Gifts she'll shelve but use with pleasure are glass or metal shelves to hold her cosmetics and perfumes.

Games Gifts Available For Entire Family

The games that top the hit parade this Christmas are keyed to big family appeal. Competitive fun is based on play that permits different age groups to compete on relatively equal terms.

The high incidence of families with three, four or more children have accelerated the trend toward more varied parlor pastimes that will also include children who can't read or count.

The high cost and scarcity of baby sitters are important factors in increasing the amount of recreation time these larger family units spend together at home, Toy Guidance Council notes. The competitive pastimes that are easy to play and have a short attention span score highest as a focus for big family fun and yield extra educational dividends by helping younger children to master basics of color matching and counting.

An ingenious new fun maker for the "can't read" contingent is the Merry Bell Game which bases play on color matching and the ringing of miniature bells.

For the family whose children can identify numbers, Rack-O is a top favorite for competition among varied age groups. Object of the game is to arrange numbered cards numerically. The racks help the younger players who often find it hard to hold a hand of cards in a business-like manner.

Parents' concern with helping the youngsters prepare for school is catered to in a new series of six game kits entitled "Steps to Learning." Aptitude tested by educators, this unique series begins matching of colors and progresses to simple arithmetic and telling time and solving the mysteries of the calendar.

New, too, is an indoor version of childhood's favorite pastime Take a Giant Step — now out of favor outdoors because of traffic. The Giant Step game board is marked off into various size steps and provides brisk competition for all age groups.

Tist Driver, a 3-dimensional game based on Chrysler's proving ground, provides happy focus for family recreation. Players drive cars over the tough course by magnetic action.

The impact of family participation in TV sports programs appears to be echoed by the high incidence of board games based on varied sports. Ice hockey, basketball, football and baseball all are featured in varied easy to play games.

The variety of the bagatelle type game continues to be finite. Newest angle is a competition based on lighting up Mickey's haunted house.

DOMINANT WORD IN THE CHRISTMAS PLAY picture is "Careers" and there's a game called that, all ready for giving this Yule. That's what members of the family pictured above are playing. "It's planned for both young and old to enjoy. By Parker Brothers.

Good Gifts In New Fashions For Jewelry

Today's new fashions in jewelry open up a whole new realm of Christmas-gifting possibilities in every price range for everyone. Traditional gift favorites now appear in exciting new guises, and many distinctive new creations bow in.

Result: you will find more happy solutions to more of your present problems in jewelry this year than ever before.

Many of the most interesting new ideas in jewelry are inspired by current fashion trends and are expressly designed to complement and enhance them.

For women there are glamorous pieces of fashion jewelry in beautifully worked gold; gleaming metals set with brilliant stones, such as ruby and sapphire synthetics to harmonize with the new red and blue fabric trends.

Rings Have New Look

There are smart chains or ropes to carry out the new "easy" look of fashion and glittering beauties for evening wear to finish off today's bare shouldered styles Even rings take on a "new look," high and dome-shaped to harmonize with the new textured materials.

New stone cuts, such as hexagonals and triangulars are part of the fashion trend, while the large single birthstone in the classic round and emerald cuts that were so popular in the mid-forties is staging a come-back.

For the lady in your Christmas, a gift of jewelry is especially appropriate. Whether you choose an exquisite piece of diamond jewelry, a lovely watch or a glamorous fashion creation, your gift will bespeak the warmth of your sentiments as few other gifts can.

New fashions in men's jewelry also are right on the beam of the latest trends in men's clothing. This year it is the "look of elegance" that is in the style spotlight.

Cuff links are smaller than just a few years back and some are intricately worked. Many are set with the new colored stones to coordinate with ties, shirts and suits.

Many style-minded men are busy assembling a whole wardrobe of cuff links in colors to go with their various outfits and your Christmas gift can help toward this end. Matching tie-bars are now smaller to go with the new, narrower ties.

This year, rings have assumed special importance for men — either carrying initials, a signet, a handsome masculine stone such as onyx or the insignia of a man's favorite fraternal, professional or religious organization.

For Newlyweds

Money clasps, watches or watch bands, all strike a highly personal note of remembrance in gifting a man at Christmas.

For the newly marrieds or about-to-be-marrieds, no gift will get such a warm welcome as something for their new or future home. Here silver enters the Christmas picture in a most important manner. Starter sets of flat silver, the lovely new bowls, trays and candelabra, all carry a special message to those with homemaking on their minds and in their hearts.

Appreciation of beauty begins early in both boys and girls, and the 13-17-year group is especially conscious of the good taste and attractiveness of personal jewelry A watch is a gift supreme to these youngsters.

The girls find their budding fashion sense satisfied with the large selection of bracelets, necklaces earrings and charm bracelets especially designed for them. Tie casps, cuff links, bill folds, key chains and identification bracelets make any teen-age boy feel more the man.

Diamond Ring Plays Stellar Role In Gifts

Just in case you think Christmas is for children, how come that Mr. Claus delivers so many diamond rings on December 24th? Almost door-to-door in some communities, where many young people, home from college, are having an "engaging" time of it!

Actually, by count of the U.S Census, there were more marriages last December than in any spring month except the provervial June — even more than in fashionable October.

Anyway, the girl who plans to be married next June probably will get her diamond this Christmas and start filling her hope chest the first of the year.

Although brighter than tinsel and frostier than a snowbank in moonlight, a diamond engagement ring — it will please you to know — never comes all tricked out for the Christmas trade. You never see it carved with holly or mistletoe or enameled like a poinsettia.

Three New Motifs

This season the ring mountings have three motifs, however, that will please the sentimental. There is the little swinging bell, loops or weaving bands of "ribbon," and engraved stars. New shiny, white-gold wedding bands carved deep with stars — some with very modern, free-form stars — come in two weights and widths, the larger ring for him and the smaller for her.

The Christmas diamond is supposed to be a big surprise, but there are variables here. A week or two before, the girl herself may have helped choose it. After all, what else would she don for a lifetime of wear without even trying it on in the store!

Take the matter of size alone. A girl never knows her ring size — she doesn't get a new ring that often. Actually, there are three aspects of size to consider:

The size of the band — and that can be adjusted from one to three sizes larger or smaller if she likes the ring.

The size of the diamond, which is measured in carats and points: one hundred points equal a carat so that a fifty-five-point diamond weighs just over a half-carat.

The size of the "head" or top of the ring where the diamonds appear. This is all-important to the look of the ring of the hand. Almost any jewelry store has a variety of ring mountings in sizes and shapes to flatter different types of hands. Here are some general hints:

Time To Show Your Hand

Hands may be classified as the broad and capable type (large); the artistic and sensitive (long fingers, sometimes slender); the ultra feminine (small, dainty); and the little plump hand.

If the hand is large, the ring should be in balance over-all. The diamond may be of any cut or or shape — the round cut called a brilliant is most popular — but a small stone should be built up with faceted white metal around it or a flange extension bordering the gem to make it more important. Small side diamonds, darting out to the right and left of the center stone, add only a little extra cost and tend to meet the eye with more dazzle. This in turn makes the ring look larger.

For Slender Hand

The artistic or slender hand may wear a marquise stone. It is a slender, boat-shaped cut and comes in all sizes. Remember that any gem or mounting that runs up and down the finger makes it look slender. In the popular emerald-cut diamond, for instance, choose an oblong rather than a squarish outline.

The plump hand or one with short fingers should never have a ring-band too wide and tight or a wide circle of diamonds running around the finger in the manner of a guard. The best optical illusion is created by wearing the nails fairly long and tapered and a ring, such as the marquise diamond, which slenderizes. A custom ring can be made with three long, slender baguette diamonds, set side by side, to form a slender oblong. An emerald-cut in this same shape will cost somewhat more but represents a fine "buy" to hold.

FOR HER HANDBAG

Women of every age like gifts that help keep handbags in good order. These range from key and eyeglass cases and wallets to jeweled compacts, cigarette cases and lipstick holders.

DESK TOPPERS

For the business man, desk accessories make welcome gifts. Consider such items as desk clocks and calendars, envelope openers, table lighters, etc.

Craft Gifts Are Excellent For Children

Santa and the personnel recruiters must have put their heads together. Toyland, 1957 style, is filled with a record number of kits geared to interest junior and his sister in home maintenance and handcraft skills as well as science and varied phases of engineering.

The new toys offer many new dimensions to creative play and career building, said Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council, the organization which specializes in making it easier to buy balanced variety of toys children need for all around development.

Prices are about the same as last year — many traditional favorites have been re-designed to provide extra play value.

New thrills for young careerists include a complete crime detection laboratory and a teletype set which operates electronically, producing real messages for inter-home communications.

There's a boom in national defense toys with emphasis on guided missile techniques.

Father's enthusiasm for power tools is reflected in a new kit for junior which confines drilling activities safely to a steel work bench, but gives the young do it yurself expert a feeling of realistic accomplishment in dad's orbit. Real ranch operation equipment is a new addition to play careers.

Sure of ohs and ahs when Christmas presents are unwrapped are the new big musical toys, replicas of just about every instrument in the band. A big golden harp of lightweight plastic, for example, can be played comfortably on the playroom table by the junior musician.

GIFT HER WITH A HANDBAG that's exactly right for her, says Santa. Suggested for the career woman, or any woman who wears suits, is barrel-shaped grained leather bag, top left. Squared-off leather pouch, top right, is ideal for the suburbanite or any women who wears tweeds. Soft, dressy suede bag will please the mature woman, while the shoulder strap bag is suggested for the teen-ager. Handbags, top row, by Harry Rosenfeld, Greta Originals; bottom row, Murray Kruger, Theodore of California; photo by Leather Industries.

Children's fascination with the world of insects is catered to in a new stuffed grasshopper of black and green felt that looks surprisingly realistic. There are beguiling caterpillars as well as bees in the push and pull toy category.

New scope for the toddler's creative zeal is provided by giant hollow lightweight blocks, also are safe to stand on.

A blackboard train is a new toddler delight that's one of Toy Guidance Council prestige toys selected by educators, jobbers and retailers as outstanding examples of American toy production.

Engineering efficiency is translated into toyland terms with a new panel and girder set that makes it possible for the playroom architect to produce realistic looking skyscrapers in record time.

Special attention is given to toys that reproduce grownup culinary and home maintenance tools. Sets slanted to make housecleaning intriguing and lawn care a pleasure utilize miniatures of the very latest streamlined equipment.

Craft toys for both boys and girls this year show intriguing innovations. The arts of tile design, and weaving will make possible many new kinds of decorative dividends for the homes where young hobbyists are at work.

Magi-Paint, a new form of finger paint, is an ideal base for youngsters to produce their own modernistic gift wraps. The powdered finger paint eliminates most of the muss of this favorite juvenile hobby.

The sports car influence is in strong evidence in wheel toys of various sizes. Young model makers will build their own and toddlers will pedal streamlined sidewalk size sportscars.

The bigger family's impact is evidenced in the bike that can be transformed from boy's model to girl's model before you can say "hand me down."

SOMETHING NEW

Make her a gift of fashion news, such as several pairs of hosiery in this season's new colors, or the new full-length sports stockings.

Doll World Influenced By Fashions

The miniature doll is a reigning queen of 1957 toylands. Santa's pack is filled with a record number of curvaceous, diminutive beauties who not only are endowed with muscular agility and other human talents but also have more clothes than people—all of them stylish.

Furthermore each elegant costume is fashionably accessorized from flower and feather hats to spindle heels.

The year 1957 also will be notable for the year of elegant doll coiffeurs, reports Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council, noting the extra play value provided by dolls' sturdy synthetic hair.

The emphasis on fashion coordination and wardrobe variety is broadening the age interest in dolls, he says. Many teen-age girls now are doll collectors, taking interest in designing additional wardrobes for their "best dressed" beauties.

Teach Good Grooming

The variety of the new doll wardrobes provides a complete education in basic fashion principles. Matching accessories with the proper costume for every conceivable social occasion also make doll mothers aware of the essentials of good taste and good grooming.

Notable are the doll kits which are geared to inculcate good grooming habits early. Cleaning routines get special attention right down to tooth brushing. Doll kits supply miniature sizes of famous brands.

Doll furniture designers are catering to the high incidence of 8 and 10 inch dolls. Makers of matched toy luggage, ranch houses and even convertibles also appear to keep dimensional requirements of the tiny glamor girl doll in mind.

The thorough detail of the fashionable doll's accessories is sure to astonish the younger set this Yuletide. A wardrobe of stockings and shoes suitable for all occasions from ballroom appearances to a ski jump rendezvous are basics.

Sleep wear covers all the requirements from warm flannels to the filmiest shorties.

Bouffant petticoats get special attention — glamorous props for luscious floats of chiffon in the latest Parisian recipe for evening elegance.

The shiny black sheath silhouette with stockings are in evidence for elegant dolls in line with the newest fashion dictates for grownup winter fashions.

Jewel Cases Also

A hint, too, of a slightly accentuated bosom is noted in some of the doll fashion queens and some have wardrobes of bras to suit different necklines.

It will be good news to mother that the new version of doll wardrobes are realistically designed to make it easy to stow away gowns, undies, accessories and shoes in proper order.

Dolly even has her own jewel case to which mother can add gradually an assortment of her own costume jewelry creations via use of ingenious new pearl and bead sets keyed to hign style designs.

The influence of America's larger family units is evidenced by doll families which include baby dolls, pony tail dolls and glamour girls all with a marked family resemblance.

The NCAA basketball championship North Carolina team includes nine players from the metropolitan New York area. The coach is Frank McGuire, a New York native.

Silver Presents Have Happy Futures On The Home Scene

With America spending more and more of its leisure hours at home, gifts to beautify, dignify and glamoroize these home-spent hours have become some of the most important Christmas presents of all.

And with the gracious living, the swing is towards beautiful silver. As a result, holloware has zoomed to a top place on Yuletide gifts lists, the Jewelry Industry Council reports.

Many a woman has discovered that candles flickering from a gleaming silver candelabra cast a warming glow over any dinner table and its guests. Gleaming silver bowls, of all sizes and shapes, have returned to everyday tables as women rediscover that fine silver improves with use.

Many of tre newest silver dishes, whether bowls or covered dishes, lead a double life. A vegetable dish can also double to serve appetizers, a classic bowl can hold flowers or greens for a special touch of beauty in a centerpiece, odd sized bowls serve nuts and candies as easily as sauces and jellies.

Perhaps the most charming gift idea of all is to fill a silver bowl or vegetable server with Christmas greens or flowers for a special surprise.

Traditionalism still reigns supreme in the coffee services that are zooming in popularity. Some of the smart new servers feature short, easy to clean "lips" instead of spouts and can be used for cold as well as hot beverage servers.

The shopper who says it with silver this Christmas — whether it is a small wish of a tiny dish costing a few dollars or the magnificent gesture of a full coffee service lasting a lifetime — will find special delight and satisfaction at having selected a gift that will gleam with love and beauty for years and years.

New Accessories Make Good Gifts

Plush little evening bags, luxurious little fur pieces, pretty little scarves — you can't go wrong if you choose giftsnfor her from the many important extras to be found in accessory departments.

Many of these gifts are opulent, all add to her glamour and all are greeted with glee because they help her to stretch her wardrobe.

Handbags and gloves are among the favorites, and since she never has enough of either, you're sure of selecting a gift she wants. Belts, shrugs and stoles are other possibilities.

Costume jewelry will brighten her Christmas and her life. Then there are hankies, umbrellas, evening hatlets, warm hoods, party aprons and tie-on collars, in pleasing variety.

When a recipe calls for food being cut julienne-style, cut it into match-size strips.

BELT WARDROBE

Many a man would welcome a "belt ensemble," keyed to his various suits and sports togs. Alligator leathers continue popular, along with cowhide and calfskin, with buckles in trim bronze, nickel and other attractive metals and alloys.

Yankee Toys Are Safest, Says Survey

American toys, generally speaking, are the safest in the world.

A recent survey by one of the largest insurance companies showed that fewer accidents resulted from toys than from some of the most common, everyday articles found in the nome.

Toys in general are splinterproof, have rounded corners and smoothed edges, are chemically-safe, gleaming with non - toxic paint and, in the case of most electrical toys, have Underwriter Laboratory approval.

The natural reason for such safety measures is obvious — to protect America's youngsters. Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., Inc., have striven to set safety standards for the benefit of all. They constantly are under consideration.

Take paints, as an example.

Toys are colored with paints that have vegetable bases. Youngsters can chew on them without harmful effects. Toys which have paints with a lead base are dangerous.

Infant rattles of plastic are made of high impact acetate as are many other toys. Some are guaranteed unbreakable.

The eyes of a teddy bear or other stuffed toys are sewn or locked in and are no longer fastened with pins, or serrated metal blades. The wheels of most wooden toys are securely fastened with screws, not with carpet or thumb tacks.

Although the toy manufacturers produce the safest toys in the world, the toys should be properly supervised by parents. Safely constructed toys and play equipment can become defective in time as result of hard play and constant use.

All toys should be periodically checked for loosening of structure, possible splinters, protruding nails that have loosened or bolts, sharp edges and worn wiring. No toy, however durably made, can last forever.

It also is the responsibility of parents to give children toys suitable for their skills and co-ordination. Children of various ages are attracted by different playthings. Playthings for children as they grow older involve the utilization of special skills and newly acquired physical coordination. Accidents often arise when a young child manages to obtain and play with toys dedren. These dangers can be realized when it is considered that young children have a tendency to explore the world around them and place objects in their mouths. Small objects always are a potential danger to small children, though the same object would be perfectly safe for an older child. Among older children, bicycles, skates, skis or coasters can produce accidents if there is a lack of skill in the use of these toys or a failure to observe traffi regulations.

These factors — lack of supervision and proper inspection by adults, improper toys for young children, ignorance and lack of skill in the use of toys, account for many of the accidents which can be eliminated, the Toy Association stated.

Lay-Away Is Way To Easy Gifting

Time proven in the service of gift shoppers is the Lay-Away plan, used by smart shoppers everywhere in one form or another.

With stores ready to reserve gifts on a small down payment, the plan is a boon to those who want to pay for their purchases week by week, out of before-Christmas income.

For those with a long gift list whether tere is a budget problem or not, it works to assure tem that no one on their list is forgotten.

Good practice is to choose at least one gift a day, wrap it and lay it away for delivery on Christmas.

DOUBLY GIFTED

Plastic garment bags, quilt-lined boxes and all sorts of drawer arrangers make thoughtful gifts, especially when they're included with presents of wearables such as sweaters, hose, gloves or lingerie.

Handy Tools Good Gifts

Is the man in your Christmas "handy with tools?" Does he like to do odd jobs about the house or build things in his home workshop? Then your gifting problem can most likely be happily solved at the nearest hardware or "do-it-yourself" store.

Is he just in the "beginner stage," mainly concerned with making minor repairs? If so, assemble a kit of tools and gear that will help him to become an accomplished "Mr. Fixit." This might well consist of a medium-weight hammer, a pair of pliers, a small wirecutter, large and small screw drivers, a small but sharp saw, a monkey wrench, a flexible tape measure, insulating tape, a box of assorted nails and one of screws.

These items can be kept in a box in the kitchen cupboard for quick use, or on his work table in the basement.

Is he interested in making things as well as fixing them? Then consider giving him a more complete set of handtools which should include, in addition to the above, such items as a bit brace, hand drill, level, plane, chisel and file. Many of these sets come assembled in rugged metal chests or on pegboards which designate a place for every tool.

Does he already have a full complement of handtools? Then it's a safe bet that power tools are next on his "wish list." Why not give him a real Christmas thrill with a portable electric drill or saw? Both of these versatile tools come with attachments that do a wide range of useful jobs about the house or in the home workshop.

Is he a really advanced craftsman? Then why not get the whole family together on a complete "power workshop" that combines a number of important tools in a single compact unit? Or consider one of the specialized power tools, such as lathes, shapers, drill presses, etc.

Square Look In Appliances

Good looks are keeping up with the tremendous mechanical improvements in modern major appliances.

Probably the most significant style change has been what different manufacturers call the sheer or square look.

Because of this style's uncluttered, clean, square design, free-standing appliances can fit snugly into cabinet arrangments and look like built-ins. Straight sides and right angle corners can be placed cozily against the straight sides of standard or custom-built cabinets without carpentry.

Recessed hinges permit refrigerators models in this style to be placed against a side wall without having to allow space for door swing, since the door opens fully within its frame.

Built-ins themselves are rising in popularity, with virtually all appliances available in this fashion.

Stack-on units, appliances made to fit standard countertops, give the built-in look, too, without need of carpentry. The built-in look is also carried out with drop-in units, which require either that a hole be cut in the existing counter, or that it be placed in a counter that was precut by the manufacturer.

Pre-assembled packaged kitchens, which combine several basic appliances in a single framework, are being produced by more and more manufacturers. Smartly styled, these units are between seven and nine feet long, and are ideal for the modern-minded homemaker with limited kitchen space.

Equipment that stands alone and is portable continues to have its appearance improved.

Like free standing or built-in appliances, these are available in various materials and colors.

Whatever your choice, you'll find the new look in kitchens is a good one.

TYPICAL OF TOY MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS that actually play, and available this year in sufficient variety to equip a full band, is the lightweight plastic horn Junior is blowing so lustily above. (By Emenee.)

AMONG THE NEW HAND PUPPETS for this Christmas are Meckle of "Heckle and Jeckle," and Captain Kangaroo's Bunny Rabbit, with which Sis, pictured above, is so delightful. By Ideal.

Smartest Gift Givers Doing Early Buying

The smartest Santas plan ahead, shop early and enjoy the merriest Christmas of all!

Planning pays dividends in many ways. It makes it easier for you to keep within your budget and organize your shopping, easier to get suitable gifts for everyone you want to remember.

You'll find that you'll really enjoy shopping early. Early shoppers have no crowds to fight, no clock to beat. Salespeople have time to give them extra help, and they have time to shop leisurely for the best values. There's no rush, no worry, no having to settle for "second-best."

Early shopping has material advantages, too! It allows you to use such credit plans as installment buying, layaways (especially layaway sales!), charge accounts and other arrangments stretch the cost thin over a lengthy period.

Time should also be allowed for monogramming gifts and to make sure of prompt delivery and installation of such things as television sets.

Remember to leave yourself a generous time allowance for mailing gifts, for choosing and preparing festive wrappings and trims, for enjoying the gay round of social activities that add so much to holiday joy. Plan ahead, and you'll keep daisy-fresh no matter how hectic the season becomes!

Begin right now by looking through this special Christmas Gifts Section. It will give you some idea of the dazzling variety that will go on display throughout your community tomorrow and give you many helpful suggestions which it would be advisable to jot down.

Don't be afraid to use your imagination in planning your Christmas gifting, and don't be afraid to change your mind later. Your list is meant to be a guide, not a set of hard and fast rules. You'll find that if you get an early start and have time to make comparisons, you may often be able to make substitutions that are better than your original choices.

After the fun and anticipation of planning comes the fun of shopping in your friendly, beautifully decorated hometown stores. Start tomorrow — you'll be so glad you did!

FOR TIRED SANTAS

The tired Santa who decides to dispose of his Christmas list at one swoop and at one counter, is not worthy of the Santa title at all, says the expert. Children need a variety of playthings for all around development. A wise investment of Christmas toy money should provide for constructive play activities that will contribute to different needs.

WONDERFULLY REALISTIC are the new things being offered this year for young and old railroaders. Here, a snow plow, self powered, is pulling a crane, and right, a continuous rotating radar antenna.

SOFT, PRETTY SHIRTS flatter her femininity, stretch her wardrobe and win her thanks at Christmas.

GOOD GIFT ON HAND

Gloves are a safe gift bet for most men. For business wear choose from fine suedes, mochas, capeskins and pigskins. Sportswear gloves come in pigskin, deerskin along with knitted styles.

BE ORIGINAL

Dress up wrapped packages with small, attractive and useful objects — for example, a colorful set of measuring spoons or a gala lipstick.

Here's Advice From Expert On Toy Giving

The time you spend on a thoughtful choice of toys for the youngsters on your list can be the most worthwhile investment you make in Christmas cheer. This advice to assistant Santas comes from Dr Philip Lewis of the Chicago Board of Education, a member of the Toy Guidance Council advisory committee.

"Toys are literally tools of learning," Dr. Lewis points out. "Through extensive research American toy designers have developed playthings which help children co-ordinate their muscles, develop their senses, and learn to adjust to the world around them.

"Toys teach good work habits, they encourage creative activities and imaginative play.

"There are toys to aid physical development and to help children learn to get on with one another. Toys give valuable grounding for future careers.

"To score effectively for child development, however, the toys you buy must be suitable for the particular age level of the child who receives them."

Pause Before Purchasing

Long distance Santas especially should pause before purchasing, advises Dr. Lewis. The dim memory of rosy faced toddlers of several years back is no guide to the toys that Johnny and Mary need for Christmas 1957. The rapid mental and physical growth of children is a continual amazement, particularly to adults who do not see the children they gift frequently.

If the absentee Santas wish to qualify as Grade A gift givers, they should take time to check current ages of children on their lists. Good toy departments will be glad to make suggestions as to play activities likely to be of practical interest. Toy Guidance Council and others have helpful consumer leaflets describing child development needs at each age level.

THE FUR-CARPETED SCALE is here to put luxury into her check on weight this Christmas.

The temptation that every grownup Santa has to fight is to buy the adorable toys that capture his own imagination. But if he is choosing for children, he should give paramount attention to the children's own development needs.

Safety a Factor

Great progress has been made in designing toys that are safe, Dr. Lewis reports. Yet some might want to give a knife, obviously something a teen-ager may be able to handle, but not a safe plaything for a baby.

The caution to read labels and package directions is especially important when buying for the pre-school youngsters, Dr. Lewis notes. They should give reassurance as to non-toxic paints and washability of toys. Lightweight is important for the very young.

Newest Model Refrigerator Is Fine Gift

New refrigerators make it so easy to be the perfect housewife. And that applies to budget, as well as high priced models.

Today's refrigerators come equipped with such quality-insurance features as separate cooling systems for fresh and frozen food, special locker shelves that maintain proper temperatures for chilling beverages and salads, automatic butter keeper, and meat compartments.

Freezing compartments are now larger, and permit easier storage, what with package dispensers and pull-out bins or shelves. Many models have their freezing compartments at the bottom, so that everyday foods, in the refrigerator section, are at more accessible heights.

Have Foot Pedals

Some refrigerators require only the touch of a toe on a foot pedal to open the door. This leaves both hands free, a blessing that any housewife recognizes. Some models have doors that can be opened by a slight press with the elbow, again allowing both hands to be free. One company has a handle the length of the door, for easy opening. Some open at the touch of finger grips at the base.

Magnetic doors require only a tap to close them. You can select a door to open either right or left, and one producer has a model that opens both ways.

Many refrigerators have shelves that either revolve or roll out, eliminating the frustration of having to unload the entire shelf to get to the ketchup in the back. Shelves are adjustable up or down.

Straight Line Beauty

Several manufacturers are aiming at straight line beauty, emphasizing flat planes with nothing bulging or protruding. This, along with ventilation forced through a front grille, permits installation flush against the wall. The built-in look is your even with a free-standing model.

Quiet is being emphasized in new models. Compressors, the wroking mechanism of the refrigerator, are quieter than ever, and doors close securely with barely a sound.

Automatic defrosting is available on most refrigerators. Add to this such items as swing-out crispers and meat keepers, along with other work-saving features, and you'll see why modern refrigerators are bringing cheer to housewives everywhere.

Tune In WGET, 1450 On Your Dial

FAMILY FUN FOR CHRISTMAS

The Associated Press

This is the era of family fun, when Mom, Pop and the children once more are enjoying games and television as a family group.

Designed to foster gay fireside competition is the new crop of Christmas games available in shops, many of which can be enjoyed on an equal basis by all members of the family.

There are indoor counterparts to many outdoor sports, such as baseball, football, hockey and even Giant Steps, the game children used to enjoy outdoors before the days of traffic problems.

The trend to ease the course of homework via instructive games is accelerating. Fractions are easy as pie in a new game which bases play on sections of lemon and cherry pie representing various fractional divisions.

Sound is added to the fun in a new game slanted to include younger children. It bases play on ringing small bells as players make moves.

Another game with wide age appeal is a three-dimensional game in which players emulate test-car drivers, maneuvering cars by magnetic action.

There also are many card games, old and new, which can mean hours of companionship and fun for all the family.

CO-ORDINATE GIFTS

Two gifts are better than one, especially when they're coordinated. Appreciated two-some would be a good book and a clip-on lamp for reading in bed.
